ANDERSON GIVES NOTICE OF DRIVE IN COUNTY TO END SALES ON SUNDAY

(Related Article on Page 3A.)

Prosecuting Attorney Norman H. Anderson announced today he would prosecute St. Louis county merchants who are flagrant violators of the state law prohibiting sale of most types of goods on Sunday.

Anderson told the Post-Dispatch he planned immediate action in view of the Missouri Supreme Court's unanimous decision yesterday upholding the law prohibiting Sundays sales of non-essential goods. Anderson said he is sending registered letters to the heads of firms which have been conducting Sunday sales, informing them that his office will proceed to strictly enforce the Sunday sale law if the illegal practice continues.

To Hit at Top Men.

"I do not intend to arrest the clerks in your establishments, but will hold owners, managers and officers of firms accountable," Anderson warned in the letter. "Procedures will be instituted to enforce the law fairly and equitably," the latter said.

Anderson pointed out that "with the constitutional question settled" it is his responsibility to enforce this law "regardless of its lack of popularity."

"The remedy for an unpopular law lies in the Legislature, not in the violation, or disrespect, for the statute," the prosecutor asserted.

Anderson expressed hope in his letter that merchants would comply voluntarily with provisions of the law. He told reporters he has informed the various municipal police departments of his decision to move with determination against Sunday sale violators.

Supreme Court Decision.

The Supreme Court decision was in an appeal by the Katz Drug Co. of St. Louis from a Sunday sale conviction. The court reversed the conviction on the ground that there had been an improper attempt by the attorneys for the state to commit members of the jury before evidence was presented.

In its unanimous decision upholding the law, however, the court denied defense contentions that the statute was vague and uncertain in outlining exemptions.

Sale of all goods, except drugs, medicines, provisions and other articles of immediate necessity, is prohibited on Sunday.

In reply to questions, Anderson said the prohibition applies to the sale of automobiles, but not of real estate. Courts in other states have held that real estate cannot be described as goods, wares or merchandise under provisions of a Sunday sale statute, and therefore is exempt.

AFL-CIO LEADERS SET $1.50 AS MINIMUM WAGE GOAL

Convention Expected to Urge Congress to Boost Pay Floor to $1.25 Now Instead of in 1963.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 12 (AP)—AFL-CIO chiefs today set $1.50 an hour as organized labor's new goal for the federal minimum wages.

A policy statement cleared by the resolutions committee for expected approval by the AFL-CIO convention urged Congress to increase the minimum wage to $1.25 immediately instead of in 1963.

As part of President Kennedy's program, Congress earlier this year boosted the required pay level for about 25,000,000 workers engaged in interstate commerce from $1 to $1.15 an hour, with the proviso the minimum should go to $1.25 in September 1963.

The AFL-CIO resolution says that as soon as the $1.25 figure becomes effective, it will shoot for another boost to $1.50.

"The need of America's working poor for fair labor standards," the resolution said, "has by no means been fully met.

"The 1961 amendments undeniably still fall short of providing the scope and levels of minimum protection the United States should and can provide its least-privileged groups."

Extension of the law's coverage to 16,000,000 additional workers was also urged. Many such workers, the resolution said, "are paid excessively low wages and worked excessive hours." The law requires overtime pay for hours worked beyond 40 a week.

This and other resolutions called for a drive by legislation and in labor contract negotiations with employers to accomplish a reduction in the present standard 40-hour week.

Other developments at the 12,500,000-member AFL-CIO's biennial convention included:

RISKS PRISON TO SHARE GUILT WITH HUSBAND

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 12 (AP)—Mrs. John F. Byrne, mother of four, insists on risking a term in prison.

She pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of evading $5670 in federal income taxes for 1956-57.

She and her husband, developer of a chain of sandwich restaurants, were indicted April 3.

Calvin Hamilton, assistant United States district attorney, offered to have the charge against Mrs. Byrne dropped if Byrne would plead guilty. Mrs. Byrne refused although her husband pleaded guilty. Byrne said today he and his family planned to give up their citizenship and leave the country, but they had not decided where they would go.

"I have always kept the books in our tax matters," Mrs. Byrne said. "I kept all the records and I am not going to let my husband take the blame without me."

Judge Richard B. Duncan said he would sentence the couple Jan. 5. Maximum penalty for each is a $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

ALABAMA CHURCH ASKS PERMISSION TO PAY TAX ON LOT

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 12 (AP) — The First Methodist Church has asked the County Board of Revenue to let it pay taxes on its share of a lot from which the church receives monthly rental.

Robert E. Varner, a lawyer and church steward, told the county officials that the church trustees feel that "any organization which has income-producing property in competition with the public should pay its share."

He explained that the church owns the lot jointly with an estate which pays $400 a year in taxes. He said that if the church could not pay taxes on the property, it wanted to donate an equal amount of money to the county.

$3,225,518 PAID IN NOVEMBER TO STATE'S JOBLESS

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 12 (AP)—Jobless Missourians drew $3,225,517 in unemployment benefits in November, the State Division of Employment Security said yesterday.

Director LeRoy Schantz said that was $448,118, or 16 per cent, more than the October total but $114,131, or 3.4 per cent, less than was paid in November 1960.

He attributed the November increase this year to seasonal factors, such as curtailment of outdoor construction.

New claims, regarded as a measure of new unemployment, totaled 43,764 in November, an increase of 10,341 over October but a decline of 3415 from November 1960.

NLRB CERTIFIES INDEPENDENT TAXICAB UNION

Group Approved as Bargaining Agent for 230 Drivers for Yellow Company.

By EDWARD F. WOODS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12—The National Labor Relations Board certified the Taxicab Drivers Independent Union of Greater St. Louis today as bargaining agent for 230 Mound City Yellow Cab Co. drivers.

The decision, announced by Chairman Frank W. McCulloch, sustained a recommendation made last September by Salvatore Cosentino, regional NLRB director at St. Louis.

The recommendation followed a disputed election last Aug. 23 in which the independent union apparently defeated Teamsters Local 405 as bargaining representative by a vote of 100 to 97. Challenges of six ballots placed doubt on the count.

The disputed ballots were challenged by an NLRB representative supervising the voting on the ground that the names of the drivers on the six ballots did not appear on the eligibility list. Cosentino ruled that five of the challenges should be sustained and one overruled. His decision was bosed on the employment records of the six drivers, which determined eligibility to vote.

Because the decision did not change the final result of the election, Cosentino recommended to the board in Washington that the independent union be certified as exclusive bargaining agent for the drivers.

Dissatisfaction with the administration of Local 405 led to the formation of the independent group, headed by E. B. Foerst, who was named secretary-treasurer of the new union. Foerst charged that Teamstter officers "followed dictatorial policies and did little more than collect dues."

Local 405 appealed Cosentino's recommendation, charging there were errors in the regional director's finding. The appeal was filed with the board at Washington.

Local 405 had represented about 900 union taxicab drivers in the St. Louis area. The local was under trusteeship from 1953 until last March, with Harold J. Gibbons, national Teamsters Union executive vice president, as trustee. Gibbons had sweeping powers in the affairs of the local.

The AFL-CIO executive council has announced that it will grant federal charters to defecting Teamster locals that receive bargaining certification. James R. Hoffa, in an appearance here last month, declared the action would cause confusion and strife in the labor movement and "delight employers."

RUSSIA DEMANDS U.S. HAND OVER GERMAN GENERAL FOR WAR CRIMES

Calls for Trial in Moscow of Gen. Heusinger, Head of NATO Committee—Charges Are Denounced.

MOSCOW, Dec. 12 (AP)—Soviet Russia demanded today that the United States surrender West German Gen. Adolf Heusinger, chairman of the permanent NATO military committee, for trial in Moscow on charges of war crimes in World War II.

The Russians made the demand in a note to the United States and publicized it before cameras and lights at a press conference. The demand was made on the United States because the NATO committee normally sits in Washington.

Michael Kharlamov, Foreign Ministry press director, when asked why the Russians were bringing up charges against Heusinger now, said an extraordinary commission had just finished investigating the case. But later he said the part Heusinger had played in the war had been known for years.

U.S. Denounces Charges.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman denounced the charges against Heusinger as "crude and ludicrous propaganda" aimed at disrupting the NATO allies on the eve of their Paris ministerial meeting.

Heusinger, now in Paris for the NATO meeting, made no comment.

To emphasize the propaganda nature of the Communist move, State Department press officer Lincoln White said the United States embassy in Moscow still has not reported receiving any note from the Kremlin containing the Russian demand, which the Soviet Foreign Ministry publicized at a press conference.

White said:

"This crude and ludicrous propaganda exercise is unworthy of notice and I have no intention of dignifying it with any comment.

"I would merely call your attention to the fact that it has become Soviet practice to engage in such propaganda activities on the eve of NATO ministerial meetings for the purpose of attempting to create disunity within the alliance and to discredit the alliance."

In Bonn, the West German government said, "This is just another Soviet propaganda move." The government said it cleared Heusinger long ago and the Soviet charges were false.

Standard Argument.

A fixture of the Soviet argument for a free, demilitarized city in West Berlin is the charge that the West German government is dominated by militarists and ex-Nazis.

On display at the foreign ministry press conference were numerous documents and maps, which officials said had been captured in Germany, showing alleged plans among others for the invasion of England, and the treatment of the people under a Nazi occupation regime.

Kharlamov said copies of the note to the United States had been sent to many other countries, including other North Atlantic Treaty Organization powers.

Heusinger became chairman of the NATO military committee a year ago tomorrow. Before that he was general inspector of the West German army, and helped draft plans for the new

WORKERS REFUSE PAY CUT DESPITE JOB LOSS THREAT

GENEVA, N.Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—Told they would have to take a pay cut or lose their jobs, workers at the Geneva forge division of Ecko Products have decided they would rather lose their jobs.

About 90 per cent of the 250 workers at the forge were reported to have voted yesterday against the pay cut, although the company had told them the plant would have to be closed unless they accepted it.

Two weeks ago, 500 American Can Co. workers here, faced with the same choice, accepted a 25-cent hourly pay cut. Workers of both plants belong to the International Association of Machinists.

Ecko announced three weeks ago it would close the forge next Feb. 18 when the union contract expires, to join a consolidation program at Canton, O. Mayor Harold M. Simpson asked the company to reconsider and was told the plant would remain open if the workers would take a scaled-down contract. Existing wage scales and the size of proposed cut were not made public.

Temperature Drops to 14 Here, May Go to 10 or Lower Tonight

The most severe cold wave of the winter reached St. Louis today, causing temperatures to drop from 33 degrees at 2 a.m. to 14 above at 7 a.m.

High northwesterly winds swept streets and highways in the St. Louis area dry before the freezing weather took hold, however. All roads were clear except for sections of U.S. Highway 40 west of Wentzville.

St. Louisans, who slid to work in icy streets yesterday morning, received a break from the weather last night. Temperatures stayed a degree or two above freezing during a period of heavy rain. There was lightning and thunder as warm air currents entered the upper atmosphere.

Temperatures are expected to remain below 20 degrees today, with clear skies prevailing. The Weather Bureau predicted a low of zero to 10 above for tonight.

U.S. AIRLIFTS 216 SOLDIERS TO BOLSTER LINES OF WORLD BODY

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, Dec. 12 (AP)—Fresh Katanga troops moved in from the north today to bolster the Elisabethville garrison while United States Globemaster planes flew 216 newly arrived Swedish soldiers from Leopoldville to reinforce the United Nations lines.

It appeared that sides were building up for a military showdown after a week of inconclusive skirmishing.

Gen. Norbert Moke praised his weary Katanga veterans and declared he intends to take the offensive soon against the U.N. Congo Command, though he acknowledged superiority of its weapons and jet air force. The number of Katanga reinforcements was not stated.

Mortar Bombardment.

Katanga batteries rained mortar shells on the U.N. headquarters here in the night firing from a ridge west of the building, and information Minister Albert Nyembo told reporters he believed it was abandoned.

In Leopoldville, the U.N. Congo Command announced unidentified aircraft dropped 26 bombs on the U.N.-held Elisabethville airport early today, then corrected this to say one plane dropped a few bombs that fell outside hte airport complex.

A U.N. spokesman said the plane was believed to be a De Havilland Dove, of British make.

French Grenades.

Usually reliable sources said an unexploded bundle of grenades dropped by a Katanga plane was found to be of 1960 French manufacture.

The Katanga government said Ethiopian Sabre jets of the United Nations attacked Shinkolobwe, uranian mining center about 150 miles west of Elisabethville.

Government sources said the attacking jets hit a hospital, a railroad station, two locomotives and water tanks. They asserted that three Africans were killed, including a child, and 10 wounded.

Attack on Mining Town.

The Katangans said U.N. planes attacked Luena, a coal mining center. Luena is about 100 miles east of the main U.N. base of Kamina.

The Shinkolobwe mine supplied a big proportion of the uranium for the first atomic bombs.

In a convoy of civilian trucks crossing the railway line into the Elisabeth no man's land to get meat from a battle-damaged refrigeration plant drew U.N. machine gun and mortar fire, the director of the truck company said. Some of the vehicles were hit.

Troops Moving on Kivu.

Meanwhile, 2000 soldiers from The Congo's Oriental province are heading toward Kivu province in an apparent attempt to take it over, Kivu provincial government sources said today. The troops are supporters of leftist Antoine Gizenga, they reported.

The troop movements were reported to a special session of the Kivu government by Premier Jean Miruho in Bukavu last night. Afterward a message was sent to Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula.

In Bukavu, government sources said they had acquainted the United Nations with the troop movements and had been assured of U.N. intervention in any attempt to take over.

Gizenga, vice premier of the central Congolese government, heads a regime in Oriental which is virtually secessionist.

Two Indian Gurkha soldiers were killed and one wounded in the attack on U.N. headquarters.

GEORGIA POLICE JAIL 200 NEGRO DEMONSTRATORS

Youths Arrested at Albany When They Protest Against Seizure of Freedom Riders.

ALBANY, Ga., Dec. 12 (UPI)—A large group of Negro youths was arrested here today when the youths demonstrated against the earlier arrest of 11 Freedom Riders. Estimates of the number ranged from 200 to 250.

The youths, charged with breach of peace and parading without a license, were taken to a jail not large enough to accommodate them.

There was tension in this south Georgia city of 47,000 even before the arrests. Police surrounded the courthouse where the Freedom Riders went on trial and the courtroom was closed to all but witnesses, the defendants and court officials. Reporters were barred.

The defendants, four whites and seven Negroes, were arrested Dec. 3 on charges of breach of the peace, obstructing traffic and failing to obey a police officer when they refused to leave a street outside Union Railway terminal.

About the time the hearing began this morning, the crowd of youths, many students from all-Negro Albany State College, began marching in pairs around the courthouse.

Police ordered the youths, who were singing hymns, to disperse. When they failed to do so, two detectives with loudspeakers informed them they were all under arrest and police escorted many of them into the back door of the city jail.

A crowd of whites watched the arrests.

WOMAN SAYS SHE SPENT ALL OF $185,000 SHE EMBEZZLED

HILLSIDE, N.J., Dec. 12 (AP)—A woman cashier of a loan company who has admitted embezzling about $185,000 says she spent all the money.

Miss Theresa Barrasso of Belleville, an $82.50-a-week employe of the Hillside Loan Co., told police yesterday she had taken from $200 to $1000 weekly from loan collections in the last five years.

The 200-pound woman said she used the money to buy gifts for herself, a boy friend, and other relatives and friends.

RUSSIA WARNS IT MAY ACT TO GUARD ITSELF AGAINST NATO BALTIC COMMAND

MOSCOW, Dec. 12 (UPI).

THE Soviet Union warned today that it might have to take measures to protect its own security as a result of the formation of a joint West German-Danish Baltic command.

The warning came in a note delivered to the Danish embassy in Moscow and appeared to be part of a major Soviet propaganda and diplomatic campaign against NATO, coinciding with the NATO meeting in Paris.

The text of the note to Denmark, copies of which were delivered to other Scandinavian diplomatic missions in Moscow, was not immediately available. Finland also received a copy of the note.

Scandinavian sources said the note accused Denmark of helping increase tension in the Baltic and said the Soviet Union has concluded that it must take measures for its own security.

SANTA IS FREED, JUDGE DISMISSES BLUE LAW CHARGE

PENNDEL, Pa., Dec. 12 (AP)—Santa Claus, taken to court for an alleged infraction of a 167-year-old blue law, was freed yesterday almost before anyone could say "Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer."

Earl Steger was arrested Sunday when he was listening to youngsters pour out their holiday wishes at a discount market. The arresting officers told Steger he was playing hob with the blue laws, which forbid the sale of nonessentials on Sunday.

But, because Santa was selling nothing, the authorities had to invoke the bluer code of 1794, which said it was unlawful to be gainfully employed on Sunday.

Agitation for a crackdown on blue law violations has been coming from a county ethical business practices committee, but a spokesman for the group admitted ruefully that arresting Santa was more than they had bargained for.

"This is very embarrassing," said Justice of the Peace William Oettinger in dismissing the case.

FRENCH CRITICAL OF RUSK TACTICS IN GROMYKO TALK

They Hint at Other Reasons for Rifts at Foreign Ministers' Meeting in Paris.

By MARQUIS W. CHILDS
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Dec. 12 — The four Western foreign ministers continued their efforts today to come to some understanding on how to approach the threat to Berlin.

Such secrecy has been imposed on the official spokesmen of all four delegations that they have reported little more than the fact that the British, German, French and American delegations met and discussed certain subjects. They are under strict orders to give not even the slightest hint of the differences that divide the four.

But from the French have come hints of the nature of the dispute behind the closed doors of the conference room in the Quai D'Orsay. The French are openly critical of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the extent to which they believe he opened up concessions to the Soviets in his initial talks with Soviet Foreign Secretary Andrei Gromyko in New York.

Night Meeting Called.

(United Press International said the ministers held two sessions lasting more than five hours today and then called a night meeting in an effort to solve their dispute.

(West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder told a press conference: "I would not take the risk of predicting whether we shall be able to solve our differences." Reliable sources said the meeting ran into trouble on the adamant stand of the French government.)

French experts have gone over the transcript of the Rusk-Gromyko talks with microscopic care and they have challenged Rusk on several points. One was a reference to the possibility of negotiating on the German bor-

Caroline Detoured---No Preview Of White House Christmas Tree

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Reporters on a tour of White House Christmas decorations today saw President Kennedy and daughter Caroline come out of a side door in the main entrance hall. Caroline made a beeline for the Blue Room where the Christmas tree stands.

"Not now, Caroline, later," said the President, catching his daughter by the arm.

She was whisked through another door for the morning walk to her father's office.

The Christmas tree is an 18-foot, perfectly shaped balsam fir. A many-pointed star on top is about a foot below the ceiling.

The tree was trimmed by William Strom and Paul Leonard, New York scenic designers, but the idea for a "real children's tree," was Mrs. Kennedy's.

The lights are shaped like small candles and a blue velvet ribbon winds about the tree. Tiny animals, ginger cookies and candy cans, alphabet blocks, small Christmas packages, toy musical instruments, baskets and other decorations woven of straw dangle from the branches.

Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, said many of the decorations were made by elderly, blind craftsmen in various parts of the country.

When reporters viewed the tree, the tinsel had not yet been draped and decorations and other materials lay scattered about the room awaiting finishing touches.

SOVIET BLOC BEGINS DRIVE FOR N. KOREAN VOICE IN U.N.

U.S. Delegate Argues That Pyongyang Regime Denies Competence of World Body and Thwarts Its Aims.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 12 (UPI)—The Soviet bloc began today a drive to gain representation for Communist North Korea in the United Nations.

Charles W. Yost, deputy chief of the United States delegation, told the General Assembly's Political committee no useful purpose would be served by inviting North Korea into the perennial debate on Korean affairs. He called North Korea "a regime which denies we have any right to discuss the Korean question."

"Far from seeking a general peaceful solution," Yost said, "the North Korean authorities over the years have consistently denied U.N. competence and refused access to its representatives. They have attacked the United Nations for its role in Korea, and let us not forget that they carried on an aggressive war against U.N. forces for three years."

Mongolian Proposal.

Ambassador Dondogyu Tsevegmid of Outer Mongolia, sponsoring a resolution calling for North Korean participation in the debate, recalled that the Political Committee extended an invitation to Pyongyang regime last year.

That invitation, however, was conditioned on North Korean acceptance of U.N. authority. The North Koreans rejected the condition and no debate on the country's problems was held because time ran out in the Assembly session.

Russia supported the Mongolian argument.

Although the question of a permanent seat was not involved, the debate paralleled the assembly's discussion of Russia's demand to oust the Chinese Nationalists in favor of Communist China. That debate was scheduled to be resumed this afternoon, with prospects of a vote by this weekend.

The 103-nation Political Committee, meeting this morning, was confronted with four resolutions on Korea.

U.S. Proposal.

The United States proposed an invitation, without voting rights, for the Republic of (South) Korea to participate.

Mongolia proposed that the People's Democratic Republic of (North) Korea be invited. Mongolia proposed that all foreign troops—especially those of the United States—be withdrawn from South Korea.

Russia proposed that the U.N. Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea, which has been in existence since 1950, be abolished.

Red China Issue.

The United States fight to make the China representation issue an important question requiring a two-thirds vote for decision—a maneuver expected to keep Communist China out of the United Nations for at least another year — gained slightly yesterday when Pakistan announced it would abstain on the resolution.

Pakistan, in favor of seating Peiping, had said it would so vote. However, Ambassador Muhammad Zafrulla Khan announced that he would abstain, rather than vote against, the important question resolution sponsored by the United States and four other countries.

AUSTRIA DEFIES REDS, TO ASK FOR COMMON MARKET LINK

VIENNA, Dec. 12 (UPI)—Austria defied Soviet warnings today and announced that it would seek some form of association with the six-nation European Common Market.

The government's decision was made by the Austrian Council of Ministers. The Soviet government warned Austria recently that any affiliation with the Common Market would be regarded in Moscow as "infringement of her neutrality."

The ministers said that Austria, together with neutralist Sweden and Switzerland, would get in contact with Common Market headquarters "in the next few days" to start negotiations to arrange some sort of affiliation.

2 BELGIAN PLANES COLLIDE IN AIR; ALL 13 ABOARD KILLED

BRUSSELS, Dec. 12 (AP) — Two Belgian air force C-119 cargo planes collided in the air and crashed in flames today, killing the 13 men in the two craft, the Defense Ministry reported.

A spokesman said each plane had a crew of five and there were three military passengers.

The planes were preparing to land at Chievres, 37 miles southeast of Brussels, when they collided. They crashed not far apart in a muddy field, spreading burning debris over a wide area.

P.S. LAUNCHES SATELLITE WITH 10-POUND RIDER

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Dec. 12 (UPI)—A Discoverer satellite was launched today carrying a 10-pound mechanical piggy-back rider dubbed Oscar. It is a gold-plated radio transmitter designed to broadcast a coded "hi" to amateur radio operators around the world.

Oscar (orbiting satellite carrying aamteur radio) was to separate from Discoverer XXXVI once the 25-foot-long satellite was in orbit over the poles.

From then on, Oscar would operate as an independent satellite, sending out four dots and two dots, International Morse code for "hi", 10 times a minute. Its mercury batteries were expected to last about three weeks.

Mirabeau C. Towns Jr., Saratoga, Calif., rocket engineer and head of the ham group which sponsored Oscar, said amateur radio operators were encouraged to listen for the signals on a band of two meters on a frequency of 145 megacycles.

The Discoverer, as usual, carried a 300-pound capsule with instruments which Air Force scientists hope to recover over the Pacific from one to four days after launching.

FRENCH MARQUIS TO DROP TITLE FOR U.S. CITIZENSHIP

DAYTON, O., Dec. 12 (UPI)—A French marquis will renounce his title and nearly 900 years of family tradition when he gains United States citizenship Thursday.

"It is what I've always wanted," said the Marquis Gilles Francois Marie le Compte Asseur Crequy Montfort de Courtivron. "About being royalty or European aristocracy, I could not care less, and I hope my children feel the same way. I just want to be another Joe Citizen."

The marquis, who heads the overseas department of the National Cash Register Co., will renounce the title for his sons, also.

The marquis was born in a 33-room villa in Paris. He came to the United States in 1955. He served 18 months in the United States Army and was a professor of French for a time. He and his wife, Solang, have three children, Beatrice, 6 years old, Scott, 4, and Francois, 2.

RUSSIANS CHARGE GREECE WITH ANTI-SOVIET ACTIONS

MOSCOW, Dec. 12 (UPI)—The Moscow radio said last night the Soviet Union had protested to Greece against alleged anti-Soviet actions by Greek authorities.

The broadcast said Greek Amzbassador Georgios C. Christopulos was called to the Soviet Foreign Ministry, which told him Russia hoped the Greek government would prevent such alleged acts in the future.

The Foreign Ministry charged that an anti-Soviet campaign was being "conducted with the connivance and participation of Greek officials."

peace formula for labor's internal wars. The building trades rejected a disputes settlement formula favored by Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers. It was indicated that AFL-CIO president George Meany was siding with the building trades and preparing for an open convention break with Reuther.

Differences over civil rights policies also appeared about to reach a boiling point. A. Philip Randolph, Negro union leader, prepared an appeal to convention delegates to cancel a 2-month-old statement of censure from fellow AFL-CIO leaders that accused Randolph of stirring up racial prejudices among workers.

On this point, the Rev. Martin Luther King, Negro integrationist leader, told the convention yesterday that Randolph had not deserved to be so rebuked and reviled. Calling on the AFL-CIO to wipe out racial discrimination in unions, the Rev. Mr. King said, "Your conduct should set an example for others, as you have done in other crusades for social justice."

The convention approved a resolution indorsing President Kennedy's proposals for a more liberal trade policy, including broad authority to negotiate across-the-board tariff reductions. Mr. Kennedy personally had asked the delegates for support in a speech last week.

BOWLES CHANGES JOBS; WILL JOIN KENNEDY ON TRIP

WASHINTON, Dec. 12 (AP) — Chester A. Bowles made the switch today from Under Secretary of State to presidential adviser and President Kennedy immediately announced that Bowles will accompany him on a trip to Latin American this weekend.

With the Chief Executive looking on, Bowles took the oath of office as Mr. Kennedy's representative and special adviser on African, Asian and Latin American affairs. He will be a roving ambassador.

In remarks at the White House ceremony, Mr. Kennedy and Bowles emphasized what they called the heavy responsibilities of the new job.

Bowles once was reported on the way out of the administration. Then the new assignment for him was announced.

Bowles got a laugh from onlookers when he remarked that he, Mr. Kennedy and others have often said he live in a "dynamic and fast changing world."

Mr. Kennedy said he wanted "to state what a pleasure it is to have Mr. Bowlese accept this position or responsibility" relating to vital areas of the world.

3 ADMIT $7600 MAIL THEFTS

DETROIT, Dec. 12 (AP) — Three United States post office employes in Detroit pleaded guilty yesterday of stealing more than $7600 worth of welfare food stamps from the mails.

The Detroit Welfare Department had mailed the stamps to persons unable to appear because of age or illness. The defendants were Samuel McBride, an elevator operator, and Clarence Thomas and Robert Ware, both maintenance men.

DOMINICAN MOBS STORM, DAMAGE U.S. CONSULATE

Police Use Grenades to Rout Hunters of Suspected Government Informers.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dec. 12 (UPI)—Dominican street mobs twice stormed the American consulate in this Dominican capital today and caused heavy damage before police reserves dispersed them. The police threw concussion grenades but did not five any shouts, as at first reported.

A police captain seized rifles from the hands of several policemen who were poiting them at the crowd.

The mob of about 400 persons attacked the consulate after reports that four alleged government informers had taken refuge there. Windows and glass partitions were smashed.

(The Associated Press said the mob was trying to seize four persons who were seeking visas, presumably to enter the United States.)

The incident followed a bitter attack against United States poicy in the Dominican political crisis voiced by armed forces secretary Maj. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria.

"The United States is helping to aggravate the political crisis," Rodriguez Echavarria told the Puerto Rico newspaper El Mundo. He accused the United States of "supporting the opposition."

Earlier, President Joaquin Balaguer accused the Organization of American States of coercion and seeming intervention in Dominican internal affairs.

Balaguer said in a broadcast that the OAS has refused to lift political and economic sanctions against his government until the government and its political opposition agree on a solution to the nation's lengthly political crisis.

This, he said, "constitutes intolerable coercion and has a likeness to intervention in Dominican affairs."

The sanctions were imposed last year after the OAS declared dictator Rafael L. Trujillo was implicated in the abortive attempt to assassinate President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela. The opposition has opposed their removal, contending such action would show support for the Balaguer regime.

After Trujillo was assassinated, Balaguer stayed on as president. Balaguer said a legitimately constituted government exists in the Dominican Republic and no one can deny there exists "that minimum respect of human rights without which no country could be entitled to international respect."

Russell Urges Firing Atomic Warhead in Anti-Missile Test

Senator Says Atmospheric Shots Are Vital to Match Red Progress, Learn if U.S. Weapons Work in Space.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 12 (AP)—Senator Richard B. Russell (Dem.), Georgia, called yesterday for resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere and recommended that atomic weapons be used as the payload in experimental missile flights.

"We don't know, actually, if an intercontinental ballistic missile will work with an atomic warhead," he said. "We've never tried one."

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, also urged that a nuclear warhead be loaded into an anti-missile missile and fired at a drone aircraft to determine whether the United States could stop a sudden attack.

Before any such steps are taken, however, the Senator said President Kennedy should first "explain to the world just why we must make these tests. He should explain we are using 'clean' bombs."

Russell told the Columbus Civic Club he felt testing is essential because Russia is somewhat ahead of this country as the result of its recent atomic tests in the atmosphere. The United States has since resumed underground tests.

Russell emphasized that he was gravely concerned over whether United States nuclear weapons would actually work in "the extremes of heat and cold that missiles encounter."

"I do not think we should dare to take the risks (that they won't work) without making tests," the Senator said, adding:

"We will foolishly risk all that we hold dear if we forego further atomic experimentation on account of the climate of well-intentioned but misguided pacifists or on account of demands of so-called neutralist leaders."

Earlier, in an interview, Russell was bitterly critical of the United Nations's move to crush the Katanga government in The Congo.

"It is one of the great tragedies of this era that we have permitted the Russians and their satellites and stooges in Africa to lead us into this brutal and unprovoked assault on the only part of The Congo which has a large Christian population and is anti-Communist," the Senator told reporters.

"It causes me to hang my head in shame," he continued. "I have protested vigorously to the President and to the Secretary of State."

Russell said Russia's envoy to the U.N. has issued a demand that the Katanga regime be crushed "and in effect be turned over to the Communists."

"It grieves me that the United States has joined in this venture," he said.

REDS ACCUSED OF PLOTTING AGAINST GUINEA LEADER

CONAKRY, Guinea, Dec. 12 (UPI—President Sekou Toure, a Lenin Peace Prize winner and recipient of considerable Soviet bloc aid, has denounced the Communists for plotting to overthrow his government.

Toure told a rally yesterday that the government had uncovered a subversive network reaching to Dakar, Paris and an "Eastern bloc embassy" in Conakry with designs to overthrow his regime.

Toure said the network was discovered in an investigation of last month's student riots, which at the time were blamed on disaffected teachers seeking more pay.

NUCLEAR TEST BAN TALKS EXPECTED TO CONTINUE IN '62

GENEVA, Dec. 12 (UPI)—Informed sources said today the deadlocked Geneva conference probably will continue next year despite three years of fruitless negotiations on a nuclear test ban treaty.

American, British and Russian delegates prepared to meet today after a weekend recess.

With a United Nations deadline for a progress report only two days away, the Big Three were expected to issue a formal statement on their failure to agree on a treaty.

The long talks, broken off after Russia ended a nuclear moratorium by setting off explosions in the atmosphere, were resumed Nov. 28. Four more sessions saw the hardening of Eastern and Western pensions, split on the issue of international controls.

FACTORY WORKER EARNINGS REACH A RECORD HIGH

By JAMES DEAKIN

A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 — A new record high in average weekly earnings of factory workers was reported today by the Department of Labor.

The department's analysis of preliminary job figures announced last week showed that 55,077,000 persons were on payrolls in November, almost equaling the record set in October. Average weekly earnings of factory workers last month rose to $95.82, a record.

"With all the returns now in for November, the story is a pretty good one," Seymour L. Wolfbein, the department's manpower chief, told reporters.

The factory work-week averaged 40 hours and 36 minutes last month, the highest figure in two years, Wolfbein reported. Average hourly earnings of factory workers during the month rose to a record $2.36.

These two factors, with a continuing high level of overtime work, produced an increase of $1.28 in the average weekly earnings of factory production employes, from $94.54 a week in October to the $95.82 record last month. The October figure had been the previous record.

The department announced last week that seasonally-adjusted rate of unemployment fell to 6.1 per cent of the civilian labor force in November, from 6.8 per cent in October. Total unemployment was 3,990,000 last month.

At 6.1 per cent of the labor force, the unemployment rate is almost halfway back from the recession peak of 7 per cent to the pre-recession low of 5 per cent, Wolfbein said. The decrease in joblessness, however, has been somewhat slower than in previous postwar economic recoveries.

The new record average in weekly earnings of factory workers represented a total increase of $6.61 a week over the last year, Wolfbein said. In November 1960, the average was $89.21.

At 40 hours and 36 minutes, the work week in November was about one hour and 18 minutes longer than it was a year ago.

SUNDAY SALE BAN UPHELD BY COURT BUT CONVICTION IS OVERTURNED

New Trial Ordered in St. Louis Case—Use of Tract in Forest Park for Highway Approved.

By RONALD D. WILLNOW
Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 12—Missouri's 136-year-old law prohibiting sale of most goods on Sunday was upheld by the Missouri Supreme Court yesterday, but a conviction of Katz Drug Co. of St. Louis for violation of it was reversed. The court found that jurors were questioned improperly, and returned the case for a new trial.

In another St. Louis case the court held that the City of St. Louis may use part of Forest Park for the Rock Island Expressway, saying the city had clear title to the park land and could use it as desired.

In a third St. Louis opinion, the Supreme Court said the Metropolitan Sewer District should refund $200 sewer deposits to individual lot owners rather than the subdivider when the money is not needed for sewer construction.

Language Not Vague.

In a unanimous decision in the Sunday sale case, written by Chief Justice Laurance M. Hyde, the court found nothing vague in the language of the law. Katz had based its appeal primarily on the contention that the law's exemptions were in vague and uncertain terms.

The case was ordered returned to the St. Louis Court of Criminal Correction, where it was tried before Judge Louis Comerford. In reversing the conviction, the Supreme Court said that attorneys for the state should not have been permitted to ask jurors in pre-trial examination what they would do in certain contingencies.

The following question was permitted over defense objection:

"Now, if I prove to your satisfaction and beyond a reasonable doubt that Feb. 22, 1959, was a Sunday, and that the Katz Drug Co. at their Eighth and Washington store sold goods, wares and merchandise which were not medicines or drugs and not items of immediate necessity, and if the court instructs you that is a violation of the law, will you convict?"

This was an improper attempt to commit jurors before they had heard evidence, the court said.

Lower Court in Error.

The court said the lower court also was in error in permitting testimony pertaining to the necessity of the articles purchased by the individual purchasers.

Katz was convicted after four members of Meat Cutters Union Local 88 went to the Katz store at Eighth and Washington and purchased articles they said they did not need.

The Sunday law prohibits sale of all goods except "any drugs or medicines, provisions or other articles of immediate necessity." The drug company argued that these terms did not fix any ascertainable standard for determination of guilt, saying that this vagueness made the law void, because due process requires fair warning of the criminal consequences of a person's conduct.

The court held that the terms were commonly used and understandable to the average citizen. It did advise the Legislature to modernize the Sunday statutes, "since they contain some terms applicable to conditions of 1825 rather than to the present time."

In the Sewer District case, the opinion reversed a ruling by Circuit Judge Fred E. Mueller of St. Louis county ordering MSD to refund $59,400 plus $14,374 in interest to the Milton Construction and Supply Co., 7567 St. Charles Rock road.

The company originally owned 308 lots in Hathaway Meadows subdivision and had deposited $61,600, but had sold all but 11 of the lots at the time the refund was granted after passage of the Maline creek sanitary trunk sewer bond issue in February, 1956.

"Tying the right to refund to the ownership of the lots was a reasonable exercise of the power of MSD to require a deposit," the court said.

The subdivider could have obtained the refund by continuing to hold the lots, or he could have added the $200 to the cost of the homes when he sold them, the court said.

The court also held that a subdivision street in an unincorporated portion of St. Louis county was not automatically abandoned by the county because it had not been used as a street for five years.

The opinion reversed a judgment by Circuit Judge Franklin Ferriss of St. Louis county, who had awarded a portion of Third avenue to four families whose land abuts the street on the basis of the five-year clause in the state law pertaining to public roads in unincorporated areas.

The court said this law does not pertain to streets in subdivisions which have been specifically dedicated for public use. The street, which is between Fleta and Genesta streets, could be vacated by the county only by procedures outlined by law, the court said.

J. P. HAMMERSCHMIDT DIES IN FALL; COUNTY POLICEMAN

John Paul Hammerschmidt, a St. Louis county patrolman since the department was formed in 1955, was pronounced dead at St. Louis County Hospital last night after he fell from a ladder at his home, 8632 St. Charles Rock road, St. John. He was 51 years old.

Mr. Hammerschmidt was painting in a beauty shop operated at his home by his wife, Laura, when the accident occurred. An autopsy will be performed. Before joining the county police department, he served four years as a deputy sheriff.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Friday at the Baptist Church of St. John, 8665 St. Charles Rock road, with burial in Oak Grove Cemetery. Surviving, in addition to his wife, is a daughter, Mrs. Charles R. VanOver, two brothers, Joseph L. and Vincent W. Hammerschmidt and two sisters, Mrs. Raymond Deaver and Mrs. Herbert Sander, all of St. Louis.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGED IN AUTO DEATH IN PARK

Ernest Friend, 1920 Longfellow place, was charged with manslaughter in a warrant issued yesterday by the circuit attorney's office. Police said he was the driver of an automobile in which a passenger, Jerry P. Simmons, was fatally injured Friday when the car skidded on Center drive in Tower Grove Park and struck a tree.

The warrant was issued after a coroner's jury returned a verdict of criminal carelessness. Police reported finding empty beer bottles in the car. An investigation was being conducted today to learn where the beer was obtained.

Simmons, 17 years old, died Sunday at City Hospital of a skull injury. He lived at 3414 Park avenue. Friend, 18, was unable to say how he lost control of his car. He suffered head and internal injuries.

HOSPITAL PATIENT KILLED IN PLUNGE FROM WINDOW

Mrs. Magdalene Rogers, 4333 Kennerly avenue, was killed today when she fell or jumped from a fourth-floor window at City Hospital.

Police said no one saw the incident. Mrs. Rogers, 33 years old, landed on a concrete walk.

A hospital spokesman said she was admitted two days ago after drinking poison in an apparent suicide attempt. She was separated from her husband, police said.

City's Anti-Bias Law Is Invoked In Only Six Out of 39 Complaints

The St. Louis Council on Human Relations has had to resort to legal means in only six of 39 alleged violations of the city's anti-discrimination law by business establishments, W. J. Duford, commissioner, said yesterday.

The other 33 complaints were resolved without resort to legal means, he said. This was accomplished by educational programs and conferences arranged by the council, Duford said.

"The acceptance of this law by thousands of business firms has placed St. Louis in a favorable position to obtain many more national conventions, enriching its economy and projecting the good name of St. Louis as a truly democratic city around the nation," Duford said.

Of the six complaints which have not yet been resolved, one is pending in police court, another is being prepared for submission to the court and the other four still are in the hearing stage before the council.

"We have been living with this new law for five months and we are very happy to report that practically all St. Louisans are observing the ordinance and the city is living up to its reputation for fair play," Duford said.

POLICE DISTRICTS BEING CUT TO 9, EFFECTIVE JAN. 1

After 7 a.m. Jan. 1, there will be nine police districts instead of 12, with the familiar Central District dropping out of existence, the Board of Police Commissioners announced today.

The six districts that were combined under three commands on March 11, 1960, will take the lower number of the combination.

Thus, the Third-Seventh (Lynch-Magnolia) will become the Third District; the Fourth-Central (Carr-Central will become the Fourth District, and the Ninth-Eleventh (Lucas-Newstead) will become the Ninth District.

Two districts will receive new numbers. The Twelfth (Page) will be changed to the Seventh, and the Tenth (Deer Street) will become the Eighth. All other districts will retain their present numbers.

A law enacted by the last General Assembly gave the police board authority to reduce the number of districts. The action is expected to result in greater efficiency and faster clerical and mechanical operations.

ONE MURDER CHARGE DROPPED, NEW ONE FILED

William E. Dilbeck, who was scheduled to be tried yesterday in Circuit Court at Clayton on a charge of second-degree murder, was freed when Jefferson County Prosecuting Attorney William B. Milfelt nol-prossed the charge. When Dilbeck left the courtroom, he was arrested by a highway patrolman on a first-degree murder warrant.

Milfelt said he had been led to believe that Dilbeck would plead guilty, and the prosecutor was not prepared to go to trial. When Dilbeck did not plea guilty, Milfelt said, the charge of second-degree murder was dropped and the charge of first-degree murder was substituted to "protect the state's interest."

Charles M. Shaw, defense attorney, said he had not given any understanding that his client would plead guilty. Milfelt said a "re-evaluation of the evidence" indicated that the charge should be changed to first-degree murder. Dilbeck was accused in the death of Herbert E. Wenzel in Jefferson county on March 18, 1959. The trial was moved to Clayton on a change of venue.

COUNTY WATER FIRM TO PROCEED ON FLUORIDATION

About a Year to Be Required — Action Is Subject to Further Litigation.

The St. Louis County Water Co. will proceed immediately with plans to fluoridate the county's water supply, a company spokesman said today.

Planning, however, will be subject to further litigation, including a possible appeal from Missouri Supreme Court's decision yesterday upholding an ordinance passed by the County Council ordering fluoridation, the spokesman said.

The high court's opinion, written by Commissioner Cullen Coil, reversed a decision by County Circuit Judge Douglas L. C. Jones, who had held the ordinance was invalid. The court instructed Judge Jones to enter a judgment in accordance with yesterday's finding.

Question of Expense.

Louis L. Hicks, attorney for county residents who attacked validity of the ordinance, said a decision on whether to appeal would depend largely on whether his clients would want to incur the heavy expense involved.

The water company spokesman said about one year would be required to complete preparations for fluoridation. These include obtaining of approval from the Missouri Division of Health and the Missouri Public Service Commission, drafting of engineering plans and installation of equipment at the firm's three plants.

Purchase and installation of equipment would cost about $56,000 and operation would cost about $60,000 a year, it was stated.

In its opinion, the Supreme Court said the county was within its rights to require fluoridation on the ground that a public health issue is involved. Arguments that adding fluorides to the water supply would be an infringement of individual freedom of choice were dismissed as being insignificant.

"It seems to us that the reasonably expectable and valuable benefit which the council determined would accrue to the community as a whole justified the resulting infringements of the individual's freedom of choice," the court said.

Suit By 8 Residents.

The suit was originally brought by eight St. Louis county residents after the County Council passed the ordinance in June 1959. In addition to contending that individual rights were violated, they maintained that the addition of fluorides would harm from 10 to 20 per cent of the children by disfiguring their teeth.

The court noted, however, that evidence, which included indorsements of fluoridation by most medical and dental organizations, tended to show the contrary, that is, that the health of the residents would be improved.

Berea Presbyterian Church Buys Mill Creek Tract to Expand

1.4 Acres Acquired From Renewal Agency for $27,003 Will Be Used in $233,000 Program.

Berea Presbyterian Church and the St. Louis Presbyterian Board of Church Extension bought today a 1.4-acre tract of cleared land in the Mill Creek Valley area adjoining the church at 3027 Pine street.

The land, for which $27,003 was paid to the St. Louis Land Clearance for Redevelopment Authority, will be used in a $233,000 expansion and remodeling program.

The Rev. Dr. Herman M. Gross, associate executive secretary of the St. Louis Presbytery, announced that the Board of National Missions of the United Presbyterian Church has lent Berea Church $20,000 toward purchase of the land and has arranged for an additional $50,000 loan to cover construction costs.

Dr. Gross, declaring the loan was the largest ever made by the Board of National Missions for improvement of an existing Presbyterian church, said most loans of this size have gone to build new churches in suburban areas.

"The national board's approval was given on the basis that modern redevelopment programs, such as Mill Creek, make inner-city situations practically synonymous with a new church development in a suburb," he said.

Remodeling and expansion work is scheduled to begin in June 1962, and should be finished in about one year.

Berea Church is situated centrally in the 1700-unit University Heights residential project for middle-income families. Construction began last March on the first 120 units of the University Heights development, which extends, west from Beaumont street to Channing avenue and south from Olive street to Market street.

Under plans prepared by Eric W. Smith Jr. and Robert Entzeroth, architects, the massive stone masonry and steeply pitched roof of the 53-year-old church will be restored to their original state. The interior, however, will be replaced and reoriented so that the new entrance will be on Olive and the new chancel will take the place of the original entrance from Pine.

The sanctuary will seat 240 persons. A landscaped parking area for 40 automobiles will face Olive.

Facilities for Christian education, fellowship and administration will be housed in a contemporary structure connected to the church by a glass-enclosed entrance gallery. It will contain space for a church library and for all departments of Christian education from nursery to adult classes. A crib room will be provided for the convenience of parents and their young children.

The site will be landscaped. A fenced-in playground adjacent to the young children's classrooms will be used for day nursery care through the week and for Sunday school activity.

P.S. CO. TO JOIN FIGHT FOR PACIFIC LOCAL PATRONAGE

St. Louis area bus companies are beginning to compete for the patronage of commuters who for years have ridden the Pacific Local, the area's last commuter train. The Missouri Pacific train will make its final run Friday.

Public Service Co. announced that a representative rode the train today to distribute information about a proposed "de luxe service" club bus with guaranteed seats paid for by monthly commuter tickets. A company spokesman said the bus route and schedule would coincide closely with those of the train.

Aloysius Kennah, operator of the A-American Sight Seeing Co., has offered the commuters charter busses to form a similar riding club, whose members would sign up one year at a time with weekly fares based on those now charged by the Missouri Pacific.

Public Service Co. suggested that train passengers ride express busses until the results of a post card survey are complete. The firm will ask commuters from the Kirkwood, Glendale and Webster Groves areas to mail to Public Service their downtown arrival and departure times and destinations.

74 RED CHINA REFUGEES CAPTURED IN HONG KONG

HONG KONG, Dec. 12 (AP)—Seventy-four refugees from Communism were captured by Hong Kong police last weekend after they eluded Red China's border patrol.

The group, the largest intercepted by the police in recent months, consisted of 29 men, 22 women and 23 children. They told police they did not have enough to eat in Red China.

DOCTOR ON TRIAL ON CHARGE OF RAPING PATIENT

Woman Testifies She Told Husband, Says He Hid and Overheard Conversation.

Trial of Dr. James G. Middleton, a physician, charged with the rape of a young north St. Louis county housewife last July, opened today at Clayton before a jury in the court of Circuit Judge Noah Weinstein.

The 22-year-old woman, mother of three children, testified that she experienced chest pains on July 9, and Dr. Middleton was called to treat her. He administered some pills and gave her an injection and pronounced her anemic, the witness related.

On the following day Dr. Middleton telephoned to inquire about her condition, the woman testified. She told him she had taken a pill he prescribed and felt dizzy. He came to her home and administered another injection, the witness said.

The physician came to her home again, on July 11, and gave her liquid medicine, a pill and an inoculation, the woman testified. She said she had been lying clothed on a divan in the living room and her next recollection was of being nude in the bedroom, where the alleged assault took place.

The woman said she reported the attack to her husband and told him that Dr. Middleton had said he would return next day. The husband hid in the yard outside an open window, where he could overhear a conversation between his wife and Dr. Middleton, the woman said. The doctor attempted to hypnotize the woman and embraced her, she testified.

The husband entered the house, the witness testified, and a struggle followed in which Dr. Middleton was struck on the forehead with a water glass by the housewife and knocked down by her husband. Police then were called.

Dr. Middleton, 34 years old, denied the accusations. He lives in Florissant and has an office in Dellwood.

DRUG COST CUTS URGED AS HEALTH INSURANCE AID

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP) —An insurance executive said today lower drug costs would enable health insurance plans to expand their coverage of prescribed medicines.

Dr. Edwin F. Daily, vice president of the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York, indorsed aims of a bill proposed by Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem.), Tenn. He said the measure would ultimately reduce the costs of drugs and safeguard their quality.

Dailey's views were in testimony prepared for the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee which resumed hearings on the drug bill. Kefauver heads the subcommittee.

Among other things, Kefauver's proposal would impose new restrictions on the patenting of prescription medicines and tighten federal policing of the drug manufacturing industry.

Daily said his firm provides comprehensive medical care, including drugs without cost, for more than 630,000 persons.

"We are concerned with the cost of drugs for our insured population, as well as the quality of pharmaceuticals used," Daily told the subcommittee.

Robert P. Fischelis of Washington, former secretary of the American Pharmaceutical Association, said in prepared testimony that the pharmacist should be "kept as well informed on all new drugs as the physician."

He said the Kefauver bill should make certain that literature on the properties and limitations of all drugs be made available promptly to all pharmacists.

He recommended that an advisory committee to the Food and Drug Administration be appointed to determine which drugs in the non-prescription classification should "be restricted to sale in pharmacies under the supervision of a pharmacist."

He said this phase of drug distribution should be incorporated in legislation "in the interests of public safety."

BALL SAYS TRADE TIES CAN HELP KEEP U.S. STRONG

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (UPI) —Acting Secretary of State George W. Ball said today that the United States must form a trade partnership with the European Common Market "not for our selfish purposes but for our total strength."

Ball said that President Kennedy "must be armed with the kind of tools to deal with the realities we face" in the area of world trade. This is especially true, he said, since Britain has applied for Common Market membership.

"We are not going to join the Common Market," Ball told a House-Senate economic subcommittee, but "we can adopt a common co-ordinated policy to develop a new way of trade."

Ball did not disclose exactly what legislation President Kennedy will seek from Congress next year when efforts will be made to liberalize the Reciprocal Trade Act to provide more authority for tariff-cutting.

He said, however, that such authority should be on an across-the-board basis rather than on an item-by-item basis. He said this could mean lumping all industrial commodities together for a percentage cut. Another approach would be to lump together all raw materials.

The under secretary, who is the department's top official with Secretary of State Dean Rusk out of the country, said he was confident that United States industry could compete with any foreign production even if tariffs are lowered.

"The only way we can become healthy and strong is by being willing to accept the challenge of competition with other great industrial powers," Ball declared. "This is what free enterprise means . . . the willingness to accept competition."

Under questioning by subcommittee chairman Hale Boggs (Dem.), Louisiana, Ball said he had great confidence that Congress and the people will approve the new program.

"I don't believe for a minute that the American people are going to refuse to face the realities of the new environment and the new trading world," he said.

MARYVILLE PLANS WEEKLY INTELLECTUAL TV PROGRAM

Maryville College of the Sacred Heart will sponsor a weekly television program of "intellectual exercise" beginning early next year, Francis C. Corley, chairman of the college's development committee, said today.

Corley said the program, will be on prime evening time and will attempt to relieve a "partial vacuum in local television programming to people in the medium - to - high intelligence ranges."

The show will be taped, he said, and will include guests of national and international prominence in discussions with Maryville faculty members.

MRS. FRIEDE OUSTER SUIT IS DISMISSED

The suit to oust Mrs. Irma Friede as a member of the Board of Education for alleged gross misconduct in office was dismissed yesterday by Circuit Judge John C. Casey for lack of prosecution.

Mrs. Friede's term expired last April 1 and she did not seek re-election. As a result, there was no longer any purpose to the suit. She had been a member of the board since 1941.

The suit was authorized by the Board of Education and was filed in the name of its then president, H. Lee Bruns. The plaintiff must pay the court costs, Judge Casey ruled.

It was charged in the suit that Mrs. Friede "abused her trust" by using two school board electricians and one steamfitter to perform work in her home. The employes did the work during hours they were supposed to be working at school buildings, the suit stated.

A suit to collect $185 from Mrs. Friede for the value of the work done is still pending.

ILLINOIS SEEKS TO INTERVENE IN MORE PRICE-FIXING SUITS

CHICAGO, Dec. 12 (AP)—Illinois field motions in United States District Court yesterday to intervene in nine suits charging 19 electrical equipment manufacturers with price fixing.

Four electric utility companies brought the suits Oct. 6, accusing the defendant firms of conspiring to set artificially high prices on electrical equipment in violation of anti-trust laws.

The state filed motions Nov. 27 to intervene in nine similar suits against the same defendants involving other plaintiffs. First Assistant Attorney General Benjamin Schwartz said the state is seeking to intervene because part of any damages that might be recovered should be passed on to the utility firms' 2,250,000 consumers in Illinois.

HELD, IDENTIFIED 45 MINUTES AFTER ROBBERY

Two robbery suspects arrested on the street at 3:35 p.m. yesterday were identified by the victim of a $55 holdup that occurred 45 minutes earlier.

Ray Kramper, driver for Aro Dairy Co., 4112 Papin street, reported that he was threatened with a knife and robbed by a young man in the 4000 block of Lincoln avenue. Kramper said the man jostled him when he was making a delivery to a store, but attributed the incident to the icy pavement and begged his pardon. The holdup followed, and the robber fled with a companion.

Patrolman Robert Walsch, operator of a one-man car, received a radio description of the men and saw a pair who answered it in the 2500 block of Prairie avenue. One suspect tossed a knife in bushes and started running. He was captured and his companion surrendered.

Kramper identified both men, who denied the accusation. A charge of armed robbery was issued against one suspect, Albert Fields, 21-year-old hospital orderly, who gave an address in the 4100 block of Labadie avenue. A warrant was refused against the second man.

Teddy Wilson, a delivery man, reported he was bound with his belt, necktie and handkerchief in the stairwell of the housing project at 2200 Biddle street yesterday by a man who robbed him of $126. Wilson, who lives in Belleville, said the robber threatened him with a knife.

Fred Garfield, a driver for a liquor firm, was held up in the 2700 block of Union boulevard yesterday by a man armed with a revolver. The robber stole $47 and fled in an automobile with a second man.

Joseph O'Neal, a dishwasher, 5156A Kensington avenue, was knocked down by three youths in the 5000 block of Enright avenue last night and robbed of his overcoat, umbrella and shoes. O'Neal said one man threatened him with a knife and demanded money, but he had none.

Miss Ruth Niccum, operator of a food shop at 3900 North Grand avenue, reported that a man stole $40 from her cash register and $500 in money order funds last night, and fled. The robber displayed no weapon.

Liquor Store Held Up.

James Taylor was held up late yesterday in his liquor store, at 721 North Kingshighway, by a man who fled with $46 and a bottle of wine. The man displayed no weapon, but held one hand in a coat pocket as if he had a pistol.

Claude Mayer, an elevator operator at Fomous-Barr Southtown, admitted, police reported yesterday, that he stole $383 from a money cart in the store last Tuesday.

Mayer, who lives in the 3100 block of Jamieson avenue, said he took a canvas bag containing the cash from the cart while assisting an employe of the cashier's department in the collection of store receipts. A robbery warrant will be sought against him.

BRITISH SAY JET SALE HELPS OPEN UP CHINA

PARIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—Britain's sale of four Viscount jets to Red China was described by British sources yesterday as a significant advance toward ending Peiping's isolation from the West.

British officials here said the controversial trade deal provides that technicians of Vickers-Armstrong Aircraft, Ltd., and Rolls Royce, Ltd., will accompany the airliners to help train Chinese crews and maintain the machines.

It marks the first time since the establishment of the Communist regime that Peiping has turned to a major Western power for aid and has agreed to admit specialists to Chinese territory, the officials said.

The officials said that another important aspect of the transaction is that the Chinese found themselves unable to count on Russian aid.

British authorities believe that this might be one of the by-products of the ideological dispute dramatized by Russia's diplomatic break with Albania.

These British considerations were outlined amid indications that diplomatic leaders of the United States and Britain soon will examine the whole issue of trade with China on an informal basis.

The British government's authorization of the plane sale last week drew sharp criticism from United States authorities, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said his government is "not very happy" about it.

SUIT ALLEGES BARGEMEN MAKE TOO MUCH NOISE

A group of persons living on the Mississippi river bluffs in south St. Louis filed suit today to restrain a barge line company from disturbing the peace.

The petition, filed in St. Louis county circuit court, complained that the Buckeye Towing Co., 10 South Brentwood boulevard, Clayton, uses the river in the area to assemble barges. Days and nights are filled with banging noises, the blowing of horns and whistles, and loud and profane shouts, the petition said.

Among the complainants were 25 individuals and six organizations: Good Samaritan Hospital, Inc.; Carrier Elligson Gletner Home, Inc.; Mount Pleasant Welfare Association; St. Louis Altenheim, Inc.; Missionaries of La Salette, and the River Bluff Protective Association.

In addition to the injunction, the plaintiffs are asking for damages of $150,000. The bluff area is bounded by Mount Pleasant street on the north and Dover street on the south.

BAIL GRANTED TO REPORTER HELD IN CONTEMPT BY JUDGE

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 12 (UPI)—The State Court of Criminal Appeals released today on $200 bond a reporter of the Houston Press who had been put under "technical arrest" for contempt of County Court.

County Judge Billy Hagan fined the reporter, Mrs. Margaret Davis, $100 and court costs yesterday for walking inside the railing in his courtroom to an area reserved for lawyers and reporters. The alternative to paying was to go to jail.

Ragan banned Mrs. Davis from the area after she wrote a news story about an alleged possibility of conflict between the judge's judicial and private interests. He is a partner in an insurance agency. The appellate court granted a writ of habeas corpus and set a hearing for Jan. 3.

OFFICIAL PHILIPPINES TALLY SHOWS MACAPAGAL WON

MANILA, Dec. 12 (UPI) — Diosdado Macapagal officially won the Nov. 14 general election for president of the Philippines today.

A canvass by a joint committee of Congress of the official provincial and city returns showed that Macapagal defeated President Carlos P. Garcia by 3,554,840 votes to 2,902,966.

Former Senator Emanuel Pelaez, Macapagal's running mate on the Liberal party ticket, won the vice presidency with 2,394,400 votes His nearest rival was Representative Sergio Osmena Jr., an independent, with 2,190,424 votes. Senator Gil Puyat, who ran with Garcia on the Nacionalista party ticket, finished third with 1,787,987 votes.

The official results were confirmed by a 14-member joint Senate-House committee in an atmosphere of tension brought on by Garcia's challenge to the validity of the election, which he asserted was tainted with "vote frauds."

postwar army. This army is modeled along American lines, run by civilians at the top and with less of the stern Junkers spirit that dominated the old army.

Heusinger was chief of the operations division of the German general staff in World War II until the 1944 bomb attempt on Hitler. He was at Hitler's side when the conspirators' bomb exploded and was wounded.

He had known of the plot but did not take part in it. The Nazis arrested him, but released him after two months. However, he did not return to active duty.

He was investigated by the West German Parliament before his appointment as chief of staff of the armed forces after the war and was judged not guilty of any war crimes.

The Soviet note accused Heusinger of war crimes, crimes against the peace and crimes against humanity.

The Soviet Government charged that Heusinger "organized bloody reprisals against the civilian population" in the Soviet Union and that he issued instructions for punitive detachments "which sanctioned every possible atrocity in regard to the peaceful population."

The Russians said the charges were based on captured documents from the archives of the Nazi army and on investigations by Soviet agencies.

At today's press conference, Valentina Grizodubova, a member of the "state extraordinary commission for the establishment and investigation of atrocities perpetrated by the German Fascist invaders," read a communique. It charged that the wartime general staff under Heusinger drafted plans for attacks on the Soviet Union, Britain, France and a number of other nations.

The communique charged that the general staff "devised and controlled the implementation of certain measures concerning the treatment of the population and the establishment in the temporarily seized territories of regimes suiting the Hitlerites."

"It incorporated so-called 'displacement commissions' which in co-operation with Hitler's occupation authorities forcibly displaced, drove away into slavery and annihilated en masse the population of countries temporarily seized by the German army," the communique said.

The statement charged that Heusinger played an active part in the preparation and carrying out of the Nazi attack on Russia and afterward "gave his full support to the villainous designs for the enslavement and annihilation of the population of the Soviet Union."

"He compiled drafts concerning the liquidation and parceling of the Ukraine and Baltic republics and made suggestions for resort to the most savage violence against the Soviet people," the communique declared.

Congo

the U.N. announced. This brought U.N. casualties in the Katanga operation to 10 dead, 37 wounded and 13 missing.

Katangan casualties are not known, but Maj. Gen. Sean McKeown, the Irish commander of U.N. forces in The Congo, estimated them at more than 50 dead.

(In Paris, foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France were reported planning to address an urgent cease-fire appeal to the United Nations and Katanga authorities.)

(A United Press International dispatch from Elisabethville said mortar shells, reportedly fired by U.N. troops, bombarded the Katanga capital's west side residential area last night. Some landed near the American and British consulates and President Moise Tshombe's home.

Little Damage.

(Observers said the shelling lasted 45 minutes and appeared to come from the area near the U.N. headquarters about a mile away.)

Ten Europeans, most of them mercenary soldiers, were flown under guard to Leopoldville from Elisabethville today. The U.N. said they had been taken prisoner in the last week of fighting in Katanga and would be questioned here to determine their nationalities and roles in the fighting.

U.N. headquarters in Leopoldville declined direct comment on statements in the British House of Commons yesterday suggesting the United Nations had refused to negotiate with Tshombe.

"The U.N. is always ready to achieve a peaceful settlement of this problem," the spokesman said. "We were trying to do so last week when we were forced into military action."

(A U. N. spokesman in New York described as "absolutely false" a report that Tshombe's palace had been attacked by U. N. planes. He said also that reports of U. N. aircraft attacking installations of the big Union Miniere mining complex in various parts of Katanga province are "categorically denied.")

'Broken in Every Clause.'

He said the previous cease-fire signed by the U.N. and Tshombe "had been broken in practically every clause by the Katangans." The U.N., he added, had observed the agreement carefully.

This cease-fire was signed in October after the Katanga-U.N. fighting of mid-September.

A plane carrying 90 European refugees from Katanga landed in Brussels today. Passengers included 30 women and 60 children and babies.

One woman said Katanga authorities would allow only women and children to leave Elisabethville, that "no boy above 15 years of age can leave, nor can any man leave."

The refugees were among 272 who went by train yesterday from Elisabethville to Ndola, in neighboring Northern Rhodesia. Sabena, the Belgian airline, is taking them to Europe.

By United Press International

It was announced at Ndola that no more refugee trains would be sent to Elisabethville. No reason was given.

Several hundred whites have fled the capital despite Tshombe's efforts to keep them there both as a morale booster for his troops and to prevent the economy from breaking down.

Seven hundred Europeans left in Elisabethville were gathered in the three largest schools of the city. They have divided the classrooms up as living quarters.

In Tunis it was announced that the Tunisian government had decided to send a new contingent of troops to The Congo. The Tunisian contingent was withdrawn in the fighting against the French in Bizerte in July.

E. ST. LOUIS C. OF C. AGAINST $72,000 FEE ON LEVEE BONDS

Members of the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce adopted yesterday a resolution which urged trustees of the East Side Levee & Sanitary District to rescind its recent action of hiring the Midland Securities Agency, Chicago, as fiscal agent for a $1,800,000 bond issue.

John R. Heane, executive director of the St. Louis County Tax Payers Association, and Frank Rukavina, director of the East St. Louis Housing Authority, told the chamber members that the $72,000 fee to be paid to the Chicago company was far higher than paid for handling other bond issues.

In its resolution, the Chamber of Commerce said the bond issue could be handled by local banks and attorneys without paying what was termed an exorbitant price. The bond issue was authorized to provide for drainage construction in St. Clair and Madison counties.

ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF INTIMIDATING WITNESS

Willie Frank Foster, operator of a poolroom at 1901 Lucas avenue, was found not guilty of intimidating a Government witness by a jury today in the court of United States District Judge Roy W. Harper.

The case was based on testimony by Oscar Hatcher, an undercover agent for the narcotics bureau, that Foster had threatened him. Hatcher said the threat had caused him to change his testimony against Foster in a federal narcotics case.

Last October, the late United States District Judge Randolph H. Weber cited Hatcher for contempt when the witness vacillated in his testimony. A mistrial was declared and Foster's trial on the narcotics charge was reset.

BURNED BUILDING IS ROBBED

Secenty aluminum ladders valued at $1251 were stolen last night from the Witte Hardware Corp., 706 North Third street, which was severely damaged by fire last Wednesday.

Entrance apparently gas gained from an alley through openings in the building resulting from the fire, police said. The Witte Corp. is a wholesale firm.

I.R.A. BURNS MAIL, TRUCK

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Dec. 12 (AP)—The illegal Irish Republican Army struck twice today on the Irish border. Today was the fifth anniversary of the opening of a violence campaign against British rule in Northern Ireland.

At Killeagh, armed men held up a British post office truck, overpowered the driver and set the truck and mail on fire. At Rosslea, I.R.A. members held up another post office truck. It, too, was destroyed.

HOT WATER SPILLED ON GIRL ACCIDENTALLY BY FATHER

Debbie Brech, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Brech, 1535½A Benton street, suffered serious burns today when hot water was spilled accidentally on her head and body.

Her father told police he was carrying a pot of water for coffee from the kitchen into a bedroom. The girl walked into his path, causing him to lose his balance.

Father and daughter were taken to City Hospital. Brech suffered a minor burn of the hand.

PROGRAMMING BASIS OF RADIO PERMIT BAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP) — A Federal Communications Commission examiner recommended today against renewing the license of a Kingstree (S.C.) radio station in one of the few FCC cases based solely on programming.

The case involved the application of E. G. Robinson Jr., doing business as Palmetto Broadcasting Co., for the renewal of the license of WDKD.

The examiner's decision was based primarily on the ground that the license holder was "willfully inadequate" in discharging his responsibilities to guard against indecent programming, abuses with respect to the total amount of time devoted to advertising and the frequency of program interruptions for advertising messages.

Hearing examiner Thomas H. Donahue issued the decision. It will stand unless an appeal is taken to the commission or the commission reviews it on its own motion.

Donahue held that "it would be unconscionable to permit Robinson to come off here with only token punishment for the grievous deviation he has permitted his station to make from the public interest norm."

He said that it "is also important that disposition here should stand as a warning to others that such licensee misconduct is not be condoned."

The commission ordered a public hearing on the case after it said it had information to the effect that "one Charley Walker had broadcast over applicant's station material that was allegedly coarse, vulgar, suggestive, and susceptible of indecent double meaning."

The hearing was held in Kingstree last spring.

Income Taxpayers Who Confess May Avoid Criminal Prosecution

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (UPI) —The Internal Revenue Service is considering whether to invite taxpayers to confess their sins in exchange for a guarantee of no criminal prosecution. The service still would charge 6 per cent compound interest penalties on back taxes.

Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin, it was learned today, has been studying the matter for several months. Sources close to Caplin pointed out that it is difficult to obtain criminal convictions for tax evasion against taxpayers who voluntarily admit tax cheating.

Government attorneys find juries are sympathetic to the taxpayer who confesses his wrongdoing and usually are unwilling to believe that he willfully evaded taxes.

Moreover, the Revenue Service and the Department of Justice rarely bring criminal proceedings in cases where the amount of unpaid taxes is small. The service prefers to assign its limited number of agents to cases where large sums are involved.

The service had a voluntary disclosure policy prior to 1951. Under this policy, it agreed not to bring criminal tax evasion charges against anyone who acknowledged voluntarily that he had failed to report income, overstated his deductions or otherwise cheated. Even now, an official said, the service generally is satisfied if it can expect honest reporting by a taxpayer in the future.

Electronic processing of tax returns, with which the service will turn up more tax cheaters, begins next month on business returns from seven southern states. By 1966 it will apply to all tax returns.

FPC Wants Bigger Staff.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Joseph C. Swidler, chairman of the Federal Power Commission, said yesterday funds for a bigger staff would be sought next year to clean up a big backlog of natural gas and othe rate cases. Swidler declined to say how much of an increase would be asked for. This year's appropriation was $8,793,600.

Russia Says Albania Mailed Out Anti-Soviet Propaganda

© New York Times News Service.

MOSCOW, Dec. 12—The Soviet government charged last night that the Albanian embassy in Moscow had mailed anti-Soviet material directly to the Communist central committees of the republics that make up the Soviet Union.

A Foreign Ministry communique said also that the Albanians had demanded a two-thirds reduction in the Soviet embassy staff in Tirana and had made it impossible for the embassy to maintain official contact with Albanian institutions.

In making these accusations, the Soviet statement confirmed that Moscow had recalled its mission headed by Ambassador Iosif V. Shikin from Tirana and had ordered the Albanian staff to leave the embassy in Moscow. The Soviet move, was first reported by Albanian sources.

(United Press International quoted Tass, official Soviet news agency, as saying Albanian students had been given 48 hours to get out of the Soviet Union. The deadline is today. The Soviet Foreign Ministry statement accused Albania of using students and other Albanians in the Soviet Union to spread anti-Soviet propaganda.)

Charging that the anti-Soviet propaganda had been distributed also to several foreign embassies in Moscow, the Soviet communique called such activities "incompatible with the discharge of normal functions of any diplomatic representation, the more so by a country that considers itself a member of the Socialist camp."

The propaganda material was identified by the Russians as an Albanian party statement of Oct. 20 and a report by Enver Hoxha, Albanian party chief, of Nov. 7. The October statement challenged Soviet Premier Khrushchev's leadership of the Communist world and accused him of anti-Marxist actions. The Hoxha report charged that Khrushchev had been dragging his feet in trying to settle the Berlin dispute.

Red Economic Alliance to Discuss Expulsion of Albania.

WARSAW, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Soviet bloc Council for Mutual Economic Assistance met today to discuss the possible expulsion of Communist Albania from its economic alliance.

Highly placed Communist sources said the deputy premiers from all European Communist countries except Albania would take up the question toward the end of this week.

The Polish Press Agency listed the delegations attending as Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Poland, Romania, Hungary and the Soviet Union. Observers were sent from Communist North Viet Nam, North Korea and Outer Mongolia. Informed sources said the Communist Chinese boycotted the meeting.

NOW... DEFENCIN:
A NEW MORE EFFECTIVE ANSWER TO ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM PAIN

New muscle-relaxing tablet works through the muscle fibres... gives more effective relief from pain of minor arthritis, rheumatism, body aches and stiffness in the 8 major areas of pain.

Today there has been a breakthrough against the pain and muscle stiffness of minor arthritis and rheumatism. Scientists have developed a new kind of medicine you can take frequently, according to directions, for prolonged relief.

This medicine works by a new principle—through the muscle fibres themselves. It has been tested extensively on patients suffering from arthritis, rheumatism, body aches and stiffness in the 8 major areas of pain and has proved dramatically superior in bringing relief.

In case after case, pain and stiffness were relieved. Twice as many patients found relief, compared to those who took the most widely used pain tablets. Many patients found the new medicine acted faster, or relief lasted longer, or was more complete. They could reach, lift, walk, bend and move with greater ease and freedom.

This new medicine is DEFENCIN—a two-layer tablet with prescription-type ingredients—now available without prescription.

Arthritis and its chain of pain

The pain of arthritis or rheumatism is not a simple matter. It is like a chain with many links. Muscles, joints and nerves make up these links.

When muscles around the painful joint stiffen and "lock" they restrict joint movement. Every time we do move, it hurts. This pain, in turn, irritates nerves, making the pain still worse.

Muscles, joints, nerves—this is the chain of pain of arthritis and rheumatism.

The key that unlocks the chain

Aspirin, common pain tablets and ordinary non-prescription "arthritis" pills are designed essentially to blunt pain. They act primarily in one way . . . give only part-way relief, do relatively little for muscles, joints or nerves. They don't have the key that unlocks the chain.

DEFENCIN does. It goes to work in minutes, right at the source of the trouble; relaxing tight, tense muscles that aggravate the pain of minor arthritis and rheumatism. DEFENCIN checks pain impulses as well as soothes nervous tension due to pain. It attacks pain and stiffness at its source, unlocks the chain of pain.

And, while there is no known cure for arthritis and rheumatism, you can take DEFENCIN frequently according to directions for continued relief of pain and stiffness.

A unique new three-action formula

Each three-action DEFENCIN tablet contains:

(1) An exclusive muscle relaxant that quickly acts through the muscle fibres—relaxes muscle tension, loosens stiffness, reduces pain at the source, and helps restore movement.

(2) An effective pain reliever that eases pain from the affected joint areas for hours.

(3) A nerve calmative to relieve the nervous tension that accompanies and aggravates painful conditions.

How DEFENCIN has helped others

People with body aches and stiffness in all 8 areas listed below—from arthritis and rheumatism to simple "Charlie Horse"—have taken DEFENCIN under the supervision of doctors in clinical tests. The results bear repeating:

Compared to the most widely used pain tablets DEFENCIN helped twice as many of these people. For many it acted faster, or relief lasted longer, or was more complete. In most cases, people found they could move, walk, stoop, bend with greater freedom. In some cases, all symptoms were completely relieved.

WHICH OF THESE MUSCLE OR JOINT PAINS DO YOU HAVE?
Arthritis, rheumatism and related pains can strike anywhere in your body . . . most often causing painful conditions listed below. New DEFENCIN can relieve pain and stiffness in any of these areas.

1. Stiff back—pain in muscles especially in the small of the back. Overexertion can cause stiffness here.
2. Stiff shoulder—pain in muscles that raise and lower the arm.
3. Stiff neck—pain in muscles that bend and turn the head.
4. Sore elbow—pain in muscles around the joint that flex the arm. Arthritis often attacks here.
5. Stiff knee—pain in these muscles may keep whole leg stiff.
6. Cramped leg—pain in the leg muscles. When they stiffen, it hurts to move your ankle.
7. Sore hip—pain in muscles of hip often extends down back of thigh.
8. Stiff wrist—pain in muscles that move the wrist and hand . . . an area quite susceptible to rheumatism.

Allied Talks

ders. This was quickly picked up by Gromyko to mean not only the Oder-Neisse line on the East but also the border between East and West Berlin.

Rusk is said to have been visibly angered when these reproaches were made late yesterday. The American feeling is that the French are only too eager to pick up any small point to try to discomfit Rusk in his effort to arrive at an agreed negotiating position.

Behind the wall of official silence, with all spokesmen stating blandly that general agreement was reached, it was learned that another area of dispute had developed. This came in discussion of Premier Khrushchev's Saturday speech in Moscow. In this speech, Khrushchev seemed to slam the door on most of the negotiating points considered by the West, including President Kennedy's proposal for an internationalization of the access routes between West Germany and West Berlin.

The United States and Britain, making the case for the need to be prepared to negotiate, insisted that the Khrushchev speech should be regarded as merely a tactical move. In characteristic Soviet fashion, Khrushchev was putting forward an extreme position which presumably would be modified when once he was confronted by the Western powers at a conference table, they argued.

The Germans and the French are reported to have taken the opposite line that the Khrushchev speech presented the West with a difference so fundamental that the West could not consider negotiation under the Berlin threat. The French view, stubbornly held, is that all that can be done is to stand firm and be prepared to meet with force whatever moves are initiated by the Soviets in Berlin or on the access routes.

Rusk meets tomorrow with President De Gaulle but it is not expected that he will get far in moving him away from the determinedly held position that the West is ill-advised even to discuss possible concessions on Germany and Berlin. In the last year, De Gaulle has shown scant consideration for American Ambassador James Gavin and on one occasion, he maintained his remote aloofness from Rusk.

He deigned to hear what the American Secretary of State had to say but he simply had no comment to make in response. After that encounter at the time of the Western foreign ministers' meeting in Paris in August, Rusk frankly admitted his pessimism.

Menshikov Speech Cited.

The French and German foreign ministers, Maurice Couve de Murville and Schroeder had another piece of evidence today to support their case that negotiation on "reasonable" terms as defined by Britain and the United States is impossible. This was the speech in Washington of Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov which seemed to exclude any talks unless the West agreed in advance to give up its claims on Berlin.

Privately, in the last month since his return from the twenty-second Communist party congress, Menshikov has been repeating the view that the Soviet Union will never agree to allow the Western powers to continue in Berlin on the basis of their occupation rights.

This goes directly contrary to President Kennedy's view that, although a new contract for Berlin may be negotiated, the rights of the allied powers to remain in the city cannot be jeopardized nor can the right of access be considered negotiable.

The feeling was growing here that perhaps a reversal in Soviet policy had taken place and that now Khrushchev would like to avoid a confrontation with the West. This could be, according to the speculation here, because of his own troubles within the Communist bloc and his reluctance to make concessions to the West and therefore to seem "soft on capitalism" as against the hard line taken by Communist China in its support of Albania.

Tomorrow, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council of Ministers meets. It will face the same differences that have preoccupied the four foreign ministers. There is a possibility, however, that they may make some advance toward an independent NATO nuclear deterrent such as the Germans have been demanding.

Debre Against Integration.

Premier Debre said today that France will not integrate all its defense forces into any Allied structure.

The Premier, echoing De Gaulle's views, told the French Senate a truly national force is the foundation for any allied defense. He added:

"The integration of our entire military defense into a grouping over which we would no longer have any control would amount to a veritable national resignation."

Singling out the United States he said "the American policy toward United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser and toward The Congo leaves us skeptical as to the virtue of political or military integration."

De Gaulle Won't Object.

By the Associated Press.

President De Gaulle was reported still resisting today all allied efforts to draw him into joint negotiations with Russia on Berlin, but French officials said their leader does not intend blocking another American-led attempt to come to terms with Moscow.

The word from the French was that De Gaulle would not oppose a resumption of talks in Moscow between the Russians and United States Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, on an East-West Berlin compromise.

Prospects for such a compromise appear slight. And even if Thompson does shape up a deal with the Russians, it would have to clear the veto France holds as one of three Western occupation powers in Berlin.

Senior French diplomats expressed fears privately that De Gaulle, by staying out of the East-West exchanges, is only helping along Premier Khrushchev's drive for direct dealings with President Kennedy. They feel that De Gaulle is also losing the chance of influencing Western policy "from within."

Outline Studied.

The foreign ministers had under consideration a 20-page policy outline prepared by their experts in Washington and Paris as a guide for Thompson in his negotiations.

Some of its reported highlights:

1. The West Germans would be ready to give a written commitment never to try to change the existing frontiers of Germany by force. This in effect would constitute West German recognition of the Oder-Neisse line.

2. The Allies would be ready to accept the East Germans as agents of the Russians—after a peace treaty is signed between East Germany and the Soviet Union. But the East Germans would pledge not to try to assume any control powers the Russians do not now exercise.

3. The Allies would start out with a demand to apply any new arrangements for Berlin to both eastern and western parts of the city. Expecting Russian refusal, they would be ready to negotiate new arrangements only for West Berlin.

4. The Allies would be ready to introduce a "United Nations presence" into West Berlin consisting of neutral troops and officials to control the activities of anti-Soviet organizations which the Reds claim to be subversive and propagandist.

5. The allies would be ready to make token cuts in their West Berlin garrisons, now totaling about 12,000 men.

EICHMANN RULED A TOP FIGURE IN KILLING OF JEWS

JERUSALEM, Dec. 12 (AP)—The special Israeli court concluded today the reading of its judgment convicting Adolf Eichmann of crimes against the Jews and against humanity.

The summation, preceded by detailed examination of Eichmann's role in the extermination of 6,000,000 Jews in Europe under Hitler, was a verdict of guilty on all 15 counts in the indictment. The maximum penalty is death.

Sentencing is expected later this week, or Monday at the latest.

The conclusion of the three-man court supported every charge that Attorney General Gideon Hausner placed against Eichmann after the former SS officer was captured in Argentina.

The judgment said the 55-year-old Eichmann knew of Hitler's plan to slaughter the Jews as early as June 1941.

"There was a team of people," the court said. "He was an accomplice. His responsibility is that of a principal offender who perpetrated the crime. All who participated are equally guilty. The accused was privy to the extermination secret from June 1941 onward."

Eichmann contended that he was only an unimportant cog in a big wheel.

The court said Eichmann helped organize the extermination plan, was associated with the first murder squads and later with the supply line that shipped a special gas to the death camps.

The court said Eichmann was a worse criminal than the underlings who operated the gas chambers.

Judge Benjamin Halevy declared:

"He who delivers a soul for extermination bears a legal and moral responsibility even greater than he who does him to death."

Serving with Halevy on the special court were presiding Judge Moshe Landau and Judge Izhak Raveh.

SEEKS DISMISSAL OF CASE IN BOOKIE RAID ON TV

BOSTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Counsel for the owner of a locksmith shop raided before television cameras has asked for dismissal of gambling charges against his client on the ground that publicity has made a fair trial impossible.

The shop figures in a Columbia Broadcasting System documentary entitled "Biography of a Bookie Joint," shown nationally Nov. 30 with Boston and southern New England blacked out. The film showed at least 10 Boston policemen entering or leaving the shop.

Out of that came a demand last week by Gov. John A. Volpe for the resignation of Boston Police Commissioner Leo J. Sullivan. Sullivan promptly refused. Yesterday the Boston Finance Commission authorized an investigation of the department's administration.

Attorney Monroe L. Inker filed a motion in United States District Court yesterday to dismiss gambling charges against Abraham Swartz, owner of the shop.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Cardinal Francis Spellman was awarded the gold medal of the United Service Organization last night for "meritorious and distinguished service to the men and women of the armed forces." M'DONNELL JET CONSIDERED FOR AIR FORCE USE

The United States Air Force is considering the purchase of the F-4-H Phantom II as a tactical fighter plane, it was learned today. McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis is presently manufacturing the jet for the Navy.

The plane has been undergoing tests by the Air Force, it was learned, but in Washington an Air Force spokesman refused to identify the Phantom II as the plane under consideration.

He refused also to confirm reports that the Air Force had recommended the plane for purchase by the Department of Defense.

"Future requirements for a tactical fighter are under study by the Department of Defense in connection with the fiscal 1963 budget," the Air Force spokesman said. While he declined to say whether the fighter referred to was the F-4-H, he added: "There is a lot of feeling around here that the Phantom II is a pretty hot airplane."

"We cannot discuss future plans in advance of the budget submission to Congress," the Air Force spokesman said. All recommendations for the defense budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 are now in the hands of the Department of Defense, he said.

He said he doubted that a formal recommendation would be made by the Air Force since the Defense Department has been involved in the tests. He predicted the final decision would be a joint one.

The spokesman, who favored the F-4-H, said the McDonnell plane combines outstanding performance in aerial combat with ability to provide strong support for ground troops.

Said to Exceed F-105.

"It probably exceeds the F-105 in air superiority capability and is as high as the A-4-D in ground support," he said.

In expressing doubt that any final decision has been made, he pointed out there have been recent reports that the Air Force might include both the F-4-H and the F-105 in its future procurement plans. Such a procedure, he said, would allow faster acquisition of planes. It might also achieve economies because of lower unit costs claimed for the F-105 which has been in use for some time by the Air Force.

If both planes are purchased, the size of McDonnell's orders would be substantially less than if only the F-4-H is acquired.

Last month, when an F-4-H set a world speed record of 1606.342 miles an hour at Edwards Air Force Base near San Francisco, the Navy declared the plane was the fastest jet aircraft in the world.

McDonnell Aircraft Corp., which employs 21,230 persons, recently received notice of a $200,000,000 program it was to undertake as an extension of Project Mercury.

RACE HECKLERS DISPERSED

JOHANNESBURG, Dec. 12 (UPI)—Fifty white hecklers who attempted to break up a multiracial meeting celebrating Human Rights day were quickly dispersed yesterday by police armed with pistols and tear gas.

Liberal party members, sponsors of the rally, condemned apartheid and the South African national government as the whites cheered Premier Verwoerd and sang patriotic songs.

LINKS EAST SIDE RACKETEERS TO LAW OFFICIALS

Racketeers are able to operate in St. Clair county by supporting friendly law enforcement officials in elections and controlling taverns, Mayor Henry A. Schwarz of O'Fallon charged yesterday.

In an answer to a writ of mandamus intended to force O'Fallon to license B & H Sales Co. cigarette vending machines, Mayor Schwarz told the St. Clair county circuit court that the company was controlled by racketeers.

The mayor said that the B & H company is financed by Edward (Ted) Wortman, brother of rackets boss Frank (Buster) Wortman.

The O'Fallon City Council voted last Dec. 4 to refuse applications for licenses filed by B & H and the Victory Amusement Co. of Collinsville. Eleven B & H cigarette machines were ordered turned to the wall.

In its mandamus action, the B & H Co. described refusal of the council to grant licenses as "arbitrary, governed by fancy, caprice and prejudice."

Mayor Schwarz, a former assistant state's attorney, denied this allegation and asserted: "The promotion, development and maintenance of rackets are obtained through control of certain taverns in St. Clair County, by loans of monies through a loan company owned by racketeers, and by supporting the election of certain friendly officials to public office, whose responsibility is law enforcement."

Schwarz said further that East Side racketeers provide a major source of campaign funds and that they control elections. Elected officials on the local and county level are obligated by these contributions, he said.

His answer said that the cigarette vending machine business is legitimate but that it is used by racketeers as an entering wedge for promotion of illegal businesses.

B & H Sales Co. has been involved in a violent struggle for control of the cigarette vending machine business in the St. Louis area with the Continental-St. Louis Corp. In an apparent effort to forestall more trouble, Continental-St. Louis recently sold its East Side business to B & H.

SUIT FOR BACK PAY AGAINST EAST SIDE LEVEE DISTRICT

Suit for $5000 punitive damages and $1000 in back pay was filed in circuit court at Belleville yesterday against the East Side Levee and Sanitary District by James Krause of East St. Louis, a member of the St. Clair county board of Supervisors.

The suit stated that Krause was chief clerk for the sanitary district for two months last summer, but did not receive his $500 monthly salary. Krause charged that the checks were held up on orders of Lawrence Tolar, district president, named codefendant in the suit.

QUEEN ELIZABETH IS ILL

LONDON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II has a feverish chill, a spokesman at Buckingham Palace said today. She canceled appointments with Prime Minister Macmillan and the new Ambassador from Guinea.

WAREHOUSE BURNING IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Fire was burning out of control this afternoon in a large warehouse occupied by Anderson Tires, Inc., at 1642 North Twenty-first street, East St. Louis.

High winds fanned the flames and several homes near the intersection of Twenty-first and Audubon avenue were threatened. Water quickly froze in the 18-degree emperature.

A fire department official said the warehouse contained thousands of automobile tires. Dense smoke rose from the building and the area was filled withe the odor of burning rubber Three alarms were sounded.

The building, which formerly was part of the old Excelsior Springs Co. foundry, was constructed of corrugated metal walls and a frame roof withmetal covering.

PORTUGUESE SAY INDIA TERRORISTS WERE SENT TO GOA

LISBON, Dec. 12 (AP) — The Portuguese government accused India last night of "constant provocations" and of sending terrorists "equipped with arms of the type used by the Indian army" into Portugal's tiny Goa enclave on the west coast of India.

A statement from the Ministry of Overseas Territory said India's charges of aggression and provocation by Portuguese troops based in Goa were "absolutely false."

Indian reports of incidents on the Goa border have mounted steadily in recent weeks, and India and Portugal reportedly have increased their armed forces in the area. Prime Minister Nehru tells the Indian Parliament almost daily that Portugal must get out of Goa and the other two Portuguese enclaves, Damao and Diu.

"If the Indian union takes open war to Goa," Ambassador Vesco Vieira said at U.N. headquarters yesterday, "Then we will defend ourselves to the last."

MOVIE IS PUT OFF LIMITS TO CHILDREN; PARENTS ANGRY

GOODLAND, Kan., Dec. 12 (AP)—The manager of the Sherman Theater in Goodland refused to admit 24 children to see the movie "Splendor in the Grass," Sunday and incurred the wrath of some of the parents.

The manager, John Lindsey, had advertised that no person under 16 years old would be admitted unless accompanied by an adult. His position was backed by the Sherman County Ministerial Alliance. After their children were sent home, some parents called Lindsey.

ANTI-U.S. MARCH IN VENEZUELA; YOUTH IS KILLED

CARACAS, Dec. 12 (AP)—A 17-year-old youth was shot and killed and another was wounded in the leg last night in an anti-American demonstration as Venezuela prepared to welcome President Kennedy. The President is scheduled to arrive here Saturday.

The mother of the dead youth said he was shot as police were breaking up a band of youths marching through the streets carrying banners which said "Down with Kennedy." She said her son had just stepped out of his house and was not taking part in the demonstration.

The youths were reported to have burned an American flag.

Earlier, armed bands said by government supporters to have been Communists tried to seize two rural police posts near Caracas and in western Venezuela. Three policemen were killed at one place and 10 of the attackers were arrested at the other.

ARAB-ISRAELI PEACE TALKS ARE URGED BY 15 NATIONS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—Fourteen African and Latin American countries plus The Netherlands proposed today that Israel and the Arabs hold a peace conference.

The proposal was made in a resolution circulated in the United Nations General Assembly's Special Political Committee, which is discussing the problem of more than 1,000,000 Arab refugees from the 1948 war between Israel and the Arabs. Israel has said it is ready to meet with Arab nations.

Ahmad Shukairy of Saudi Arabia, chief spokesman of the Arab group, rejected the resolution in advance. He announced last week that any resolution suggesting negotiation was a waste of time.

CUT IN HOURS BUT NOT PAY URGED FOR PULLMAN MEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—A presidential emergency board recommended yesterday a cut in hours with no cut in pay as a step toward solving remaining issues in dispute between the Pullman Co. and Milwaukee Railroad on one side and about 700 sleeping car and parlor car conductors on the other.

The board proposed adoption of a compulsory retirement plan for Pullman conductors. It rejected a demand for a job freeze and severance pay, but suggested that some form of job protection be provided for Pullman conductors similar to that for employes in other areas of the railroad industry.

Thirty-six additional demands by both sides were rejected. The board recommended they be withdrawn. Actually there are two disputes, one involving separate disagreemnts between the Pullman Co. and 700 of its sleeping car conductors, and another between the Milwaukee and five parlor car conductors. Both disputes were handled as one.

U.N. Has List of 275 White Mercenaries in Katanga; Action Planned to Arrest, Expel Them

French Veterans of Indochina and Algeria May Be Some of Most Effective—Estimates Put Hired Force as High as 500 Men.

By DONALD GRANT
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 12.

THE UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS here has the names of about 275 white mercenaries serving with the forces of Moise Tshombe's secessionist government in Katanga and is preparing to move to arrest or expel them from The Congo as rapidly as possible, it was learned today.

The mercenaries include men from the Rhodesias and the Union of South Africa as well as Belgians. Perhaps some of the most effective are French veterans of fighting in Indochina and Algeria who, because they participated in the army uprising against President De Gaulle, are unable to return to France.

The total number of white mercenaries fighting with Tshombe's forces against the United Nations is believed to be as high as 500.

AS SOON as the white mercenaries are eliminated from Katanga, the United Nations high command believes, the ability of Tshombe's forces to fight effectively will be destroyed. Under those circumstances it is expected that Tshombe will be willing to negotiate with the central government at Leopoldville, headed by Premier Cyrille Adoula.

U.N. Secretary General U Thant has been convinced since he took office that a solution to the problem of The Congo must be political. It cannot be imposed by force, he believes, and the U.N. has never contemplated such a step, despite accusations by Belgian and British political leaders.

Likewise, Thant's ability to create a situation under which a political solution becomes possible depends primarily on political factors—chiefly the continued support of the United States. Thant believes that it is necessary to move swiftly in The Congo, while United States support is as unqualified as it is now.

United States sources report, however, that any fears by the high U.N. command here that American support in The Congo might diminish in the near future are unfounded. Privately, it was said that pressure on Washington from Brussels and London to change the American policy is not very formidable.

Outcries by political leaders in Belgium and Britain against the U.N. action are aimed chiefly at public opinion inside those countries, rather than at the United States, these sources said.

AN AMERICAN SPOKESMAN said the latest indorsement of the U.N. operation, by acting Secretary of State George W. Ball, was issued after Ball had read Thant's Sunday night policy statement. It was the same statement that British Prime Minister Macmillan said caused him to withhold bombs needed by Indian bombers serving with the United Nations forces. However, British sources said Macmillan's real reason was the revolt against his leadership by the right wing of the Conservative party, prompted by industrial and commercial interests involved in the Katanga operations and in the Rhodesias.

Those interests, it is said, are backing Sir Roy Welensky of the Central African Federation in his support of Tshombe's secessionist movement. U. N. officials here have announced that a mortar bomb used by Tshombe's forces has been identified from fragments as British-made. The ammunition is believed by U.N. officials to have come from Welensky's federation.

U.N. officials announced that a building owned by Union Miniere, the large and rich mining and industrial firm in Katanga, has been used as a base for military operations against U.N. forces in the current fighting.

Thant previously has detailed the deep involvement of Union Miniere with Tshombe's secession.

Brig. Gen. I. J. Rikhye, Thant's military adviser on The Congo operation, said a Katanga military plan prepared with the advice of French mercenaries, provides for a final defense of the Union Miniere's chief industrial installations in Katanga and the destruction of those installations if the defense fails.

Although Rikhye declined to speculate as to the purpose of the plan, other U.N. officials said the mercenaries believed by such a move they would be able to keep Union Miniere from reducing its aid to the Tsombe cause.

RIKHYE detailed the Katanga operation at a press conferference, making apparent the difficulties and limitations under which the U.N. forces must operate. A large part of the U.N. forces are engaged in restraining refugee Baluba tribesmen from attacking Tshombe's force at the same time that Tshombe's force is attacking the U.N.

The purpose of the U.N. force, it has been pointed out repeatedly by Thant and his staff, is peace—not war. Fighting is for self-protection, and to establish conditions under whcih The Congo may return to peace and the U.N. force can be withdrawn.

United Nations resolutions, supported by the United States and Russia, clearly declare that the U.N. should help the central government of The Congo maintain its territorial integrity—which means ending the secessionist movement in Katanga. Katanga and the rest of The Congo form an economic unit, and The Congo cannot be a prosperous nation unless Katanga remains a part of it.

Adoula's central government will be in a better position to deal with Oriental province, stronghold of the followers of the late Patrice Lumumba, when the Katanga secession is ended, U.N. offiicals and American diplomats believe.

Rikhye gave details on the two Katangan military plans, both believed to have been prepared by European mercenaries. The first plan, contained in a document captured by U.N. forces last September, provides for the defense of Katanga against ef-

Poll Shows 65,000,000 Willing To Help Build Public Shelters

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion
(Copyright 1961)

PRINCETON, N.J.

AT LEAST 65,000,000 volunteer workers and a minimum of $5,000,000,000 are ready to be put to work on a community fallout shelter program.

To test the willingness of Americans to "do-it-themselves" on a shelter program, the Gallup Poll asked adults how they felt about the principle of community fall-out shelters, and also if they would make a personal effort to help build a neighborhood shelter.

A representative cross-section of adults was first asked this question:

"Suppose it was decided in your community to build a public fallout shelter. Would you or your husband (wife) be willing to work a day or two on weekends or to give one or two days' pay to help build it?"

The results:

Willing to work	62%
Willing to give money	19
No, not willing	19
No opinion	8*

*Table adds to more than 100 per cent because some people said they would be willing both to work and give money.

FUND RAISERS know that a promise to donate is one thing, actual giving is another. But if one considers the total willing to give money—estimated at 20,000,000 persons—multiplied by their estimated average pay for one work day of $25, the potential amount of funds available would be five billion dollars.

Following is the breakdown by occupation group of those willing to offer something:

	Would work.	Would give pay.
Professional and business	56%	26%
White-collar	61	28
Farmers	66	19
Manual workers	68	16

To see where the public stands on the question of private or public fallout shelters, the survey asked the question:

"Should more emphasis be placed on building home fallout shelters or more emphasis placed on building community fallout shelters?"

The results:

Community	58%
Home	22
Neither	7
No opinion	13

Romania Now Boom Country Of Soviet Bloc

Industrial Output Tripled Since 1950, U.N. Group Reports.

GENEVA, Dec. 12 (AP).

ROMANIA HAS become the boom country of the Soviet bloc, showing a three-fold increase in industrial output since 1950, the United Nation's Economic Commission for Europe reported yesterday. The expansion pace slowed in the Soviet Union itself.

The commission's twice-yearly bulletin analyzed economic growth of the Soviet bloc countries for the first half of this year based on data supplied by the Communist countries. Figures were given mostly in percentage of change rather than actual values.

Oil-rich Romania got off to a slower start after World War II than most other Soviet bloc countries, but rapidly developed in the late 50s under "one of the most highly centralized mechanisms in Europe," the commission reported.

From 1950 to 1960, the report said, "the official index number of national income rose by 168 per cent, an increment among the largest registered in postwar Europe."

THE REPORT said investments in the nationalized sectors of the Romanian economy in 1960 were "nearly 4½ times that of 1950."

The report found "a rather slow growth shown by farming" on the largely collectivized farms of Romania.

The East European countries as a whole showed increases in gross industrial production in the first half of 1961, compared with the first half of 1960, of 9 to 17 per cent—except East Germany, which increased only 5½ per cent.

"All these increases appear to have equalled or exceeded those planned" except in East Germany the report said. But the pace of expansion was reduced somewhat in the Soviet Union,

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.

THE MOVEMENT FROM WEST BERLIN to West Germany of the Second Battle Group of the Sixth Infantry and its replacement by the First Battle Group of the Nineteenth Infantry was made last week without incident. The Soviet and East German press and radio call these moves provocations.

In addition, a number of company-size units have moved into Berlin for short periods of training in Berlin and returned. Troops permanently stationed in Berlin go to West Germany for short training periods.

"Beginning Nov. 10," said the Soviet official news agency Tass, "units of American troops have been moving systematically in both directions along the Berlin-Helmstedt road.

"At the same time it is well known that the American troops stationed in West Germany form a part of the NATO army. Consequently, the 'exercises' of American detachments in West Berlin mean the inclusion of West Berlin in the sphere of the military aggressive NATO bloc. It is clear that such actions of American militarists are fraught with dangerous consequences."

UNITED STATES spokesmen in Berlin said there was no intention of stopping the increased traffic, intended to demonstrate Allied rights of land access to West Berlin with forceful regularity, regardless of the Soviet statement.

These moves have a more important meaning. They started Aug. 20, a week after the construction of the Berlin wall was commenced. It was announced that the battle group that went from West Germany to West Berlin at that time was going on temporary duty and would be replaced by another.

The regular movement of armed battle groups of 1500 men has for its real purpose preparation to use such movements if, after the signing of a peace treaty, the East German government attempts to assert its sovereignty and control over the access autobahn by holding up normal small military convoys.

The other side is aware of our purpose, but because the peace treaty has not been signed, it is forced to call the moves provocative and as intended to incorporate West Berlin into the NATO bloc.

THE REINFORCEMENT of the United States garrison in Berlin was one of the moves initiated by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the President's special envoy to Berlin. The actual idea was not so much reinforcement of the Berlin garrison, but to get a battle group in Berlin on a temporary basis. There are not enough barracks and other facilities to keep a unit there on a permanent basis, nor accommodations for families. The unit would have to be replaced periodically.

Thus the United States would have a good reason for sending substantial forces back and forth as a routine against the time when East Germany started to attempt to control the traffic, or block it.

Neither the Russians nor the East Germans have forgotten the inspired press reports about how the United States plans to support the movement of military convoys to Berlin in case the Communist East German regime attempts to hinder them. The plan is to support the convoy by force and push through the checkpoint.

If the movement were stopped by a roadblock farther on, bulldozers would be used to push it aside. If a defended roadblock were encountered, an effort to push it aside would be made. The Western troops would not fire unless fired on. Thus the East German or Soviet forces would be forced to fire first.

It is considered essential in the Pentagon that the Western Allies not surrender their right of access by road if an attempt to interfere is made, but to insist on it by force if necessary.

IT IS NOT BELIEVED that another airlift is feasible even

Examining the Evidence

Once upon a time I was told that good scientists never made a factual statement without conclusive and irrefutable evidence to support that fact. Obviously times have changed. Scientist Libby says in the event of nuclear conflict we would survive with fallout shelters. Scientist Van Allen and seven others say we would perish anyway.

How different history if mankind had always been blessed with such psychic prowess. David could have known beforehand that he would be pulverized by Goliath. The puny American colonies could have seen that they would be devastated by the British Empire. And England could have learned that it would be utterly destroyed by Hitler's bombers.

Do these gentlemen actually know how many nuclear weapons would be launched against the United States, the size of these weapons, how many would strike, where they would strike, at what level they would explode, and so forth? Astonishing! Only by knowing, without doubt, could someone honestly go about dissuading people from making the only potentially useful preparation for survival possible. Otherwise this is just as criminal as touting the fallout shelter as a nuclear panacea.

Unquestionably nuclear war could mean the end of mankind. But unless the Communists, too, appreciate and accept the genocidal possibilities of nuclear war—and assuming that we do not adopt a "better Red than dead" attitude—then they may well force the testing of our scientists' unqualified prognostications. Then there will be no time or opportunity for these experts to "readjust their views" in the light of new evidence. Gerald T. Smith

Different Wants

C. L. Sulzberger's article about an exiled diplomat living in Lima, Peru, has expressed the only intelligent viewpoint I've ever heard on this world-wide landgrab that has us all going around in circles.

I wish I had the power to return Mr. Davies to the State Department. I'd like to think that our policies were being made by men who see the Asians, Africans, and Latin Americans, not as country cousins to the United States but as human beings with wants and needs that happen to differ from ours.

Commuters for the Eagle

In view of the by no means inconsiderable expenditures that will be saved by the Missouri Pacific after Dec. 15—the date of final trips of suburban Trains 35 and 36 between Pacific and St. Louis—it does not seem unreasonable to request that the conditional stops of the through trains at Webster Groves and Kirkwood be changed to full stops. And also that commuter tickets at the present rate continue to be sold good between St. Louis, Maplewood, Webster Groves and Kirkwood.

An announcement that Missouri Pacific will do this as a public service to its home city and suburbs would be a wonderful Christmas present. During World War II most of these trains carried commuters. The present Colorado Eagle, outbound from St. Louis, made a regular stop at Webster Groves for the benefit of commuters. Commuters were carried in the dining-lounge car; and it worked well. Donald T. Wright

Food Should Taste

Recently Mr. Owens complained in this column about tasteless tomatoes. I, too, am appalled. Only twice during the whole summer was I able to get good tomatoes. The others were those beautiful, perfect and utterly tasteless objects.

And what has happened to stringbeans? No flavor whatsoever. In addition to my personal irritation and disgust over the matter, it is sad to realize that there are young couples raising families who are too young to remember what a string bean should taste like. They don't complain, for the sad fact is that they just don't know any better.

The government has had a bit of experience with regulations. Why can't the Department of Agriculture do something to regulate flavor? Can these awful things have any nourishment? C.J.E.

Blinders Will Not Help

Now that President Kennedy is emphasizing the changes demanded by the economic reorganization of Europe, there is a temptation to respond to this hopeful challenge with oversimplified concepts, or in terms of our own past experience rather than in the light of the new order.

There is, for example, well-intended but loose talk of an American Common Market as a counterweight to the European Common Market—or, to use its official name, the European Economic Community. The United States, by itself, is such a common market free of internal trade barriers. This market might be extended by the official inclusion of Canada since it has an economy similar to ours. The inclusion of Latin America, however, borders on the impossible.

Broadly, the countries to the South are producers of raw materials, not fabricators. Tariffs on raw materials generally are low, while the highest rates are imposed on manufactured products. There is, therefore, little real ground for a common tariff policy for the United States and, say, Venezuela, or Ecuador, or Peru.

Hemispheric economic co-operation, of course, is necessary—a fact recognized in President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress. But no real purpose is served by calling such arrangements "common markets."

In a somewhat analogous manner, it will be confusing if we persist in discussing tariffs as we have in the past, even under the Reciprocal Trade Act. As President Kennedy said, "when the act expires in June of next year, it must not simply be renewed, it must be replaced." Where the EEC is concerned, the era of item-by-item trade agreements is ancient history.

The worst confusion, however, stems from those who seem on the verge of panic. They fear that inefficiencies and high labor costs make it impossible for our aging plants to compete with post-war Europe's streamlined facilities. They see more and more American firms moving overseas, a possibility already noticed by the President. Such fears outrun the most optimistic European projections. They disregard the problems of European industry. It will take years for EEC firms to approach the scale of the larger American companies. Meanwhile foreign wages and social benefits are rising. Featherbedding is more serious in Europe, and raises costs.

Many European producers are reluctant to adjust to the Common Market. They want hidden subsidies and tax concessions from their governments to compensate them for the removal of tariffs and quotas. Further, Europe's labor shortage limits expansion. And there are such immediate complexities as development of a common agricultural policy, and working out the terms for the admission of Britain and other non-members. In short, the EEC is not launching a blitz.

With broad authority, the Administration should be able to make necessary adjustments in American trade policy. American producers will have to make their own adjustments to remain competitive. After all, in stimulating production, Europe also is stimulating demand. Those who put off old blinders will see in this a chance to share in a spreading prosperity.

Fluoridation for the County

The Missouri Supreme Court's decision upholding St. Louis county's fluoridation ordinance is welcome news. We trust fluoridation of the county water supply can now proceed without further delay.

Circuit Judge Douglas L. C. Jones's adverse ruling of last year, which the highest state court reverses, was based on so strained a point of constitutional law that it must surely have been the last possible objection the few obstructionists could conjure up. A majority vote in every one of 98 county municipalities was held to be necessary before the County Council could act. This constitutional objection is now dismissed by the high court.

Similar rulings have been handed down by the supreme courts of six states before Missouri—California, Louisiana, Ohio, Oklahoma, Washington and Wisconsin. Four appeals to the United States Supreme Court have been rejected on the ground that no real federal or constitutional question was involved.

For all practical purposes, therefore, it would appear that the Missouri Supreme Court's decision should be accepted as final. For six years now the extension to St. Louis county children of a public health benefit which St. Louis children have been enjoying throughout that time has been postponed. Let us hope that rear-guard action against progress is now ended.

In its decision the state Supreme Court referred to fluoridation as a "reasonably expectable and valuable benefit." It is a benefit the scientific validity of which has been attested by medical and dental authorities, and the legal validity of which has been consistently affirmed by the highest courts. In the green light of the court's decision prompt action should be expected of the St. Louis County Water Co. to begin fluoridating as quickly as the necessary equipment can be put into operation.

Rising Defense Budgets

When he spoke at the United Nations, President Kennedy challenged the Soviet Union to a "peace race." The first step toward such a competition would seem to be bringing the arms race under control. Yet both Moscow and Washington are now talking about increasing their military budgets once again in the next fiscal year.

Premier Khrushchev's finance minister has announced a record-breaking budget which includes an increase in military spending of almost 50 per cent over what had been planned several months ago. Several weeks ago Secretary of Defense McNamara and his comptroller, Charles J. Hitch, said that our military budget would have to be larger. The amount is not firm but the Pentagon has indicated that it would reach at least $50,000,000,000. That would top this year's budget by about $3,500,000,000 and Mr. Eisenhower's last estimate by more than seven billions.

Defense demands admittedly are exacting. How could we build up sufficient conventional strength to fight in Berlin if we had to do so? Could there be any safe reliance on nuclear-tipped tactical weapons? Do we need greater strength in nuclear weapons of massive retaliation? What funds should be devoted to pushing development of the Nike Zeus antimissile missile, a purely defensive weapon? Are two more divisions of regular troops necessary and, if they are, do our Reserve and National Guard merit the funds they now receive?

The questions that arise are many and difficult. But the American people are entitled to know in much detail why a bigger defense budget is necessary. They will want to know that all possible waste has been eliminated. They will want to be sure that, for every spending increase needed to improve the quality of our defenses a serious effort has been made to cut out the dead wood of obsolete weapons and wasteful practices. Whatever happened, for example, to Senator Symington's plan to save "billions" by military reorganization?

Jerusalem Verdict

Adolf Eichmann has been found guilty of war crimes, crimes against the Jews and crimes against humanity, and his guilt on all three counts is beyond doubt. For four months and through more than a million words of testimony, the State of Israel conclusively proved Eichmann's leading role in the Nazi enormities.

Why, then, should the case have caused at least some uneasiness in the Western world, and even to a degree in Israel? Perhaps the answer is that the trial did not fully succeed in doing what Israel wanted it to do.

The purpose of this trial was to remind the world of the genocide against the Jews but, beyond that, to remind the world of "the danger of authoritarian society." Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel, who used those words, added that "the trial is the important thing, not the penalty." Thus he recognized that Israel had to stand above mere tribal justice, and to encourage respect for law and humanity in the world.

Numerous questions of international law arose from the Eichmann case. It dealt with crimes not defined by Israeli law until after they were committed, and which were committed in other states than Israel. The court in Jerusalem made elaborate answers. And though international law itself is not always clear, there is no doubt that Eichmann's crimes were crimes against humanity, recognized as such by peoples everywhere. A murderer should not escape because he committed genocide.

The most questionable aspect of the Eichmann trial is not Israel's doubtful jurisdiction under international law; it is, rather, that the trial itself did not serve to support and extend international law. Mr. Ben-Gurion adamantly refused to offer the case to any international tribunal; he insisted that Israel should try Eichmann. This meant that Israel was victim and prosecutor on one hand, and judge on the other. A state which combines those roles is not in the best position to lecture the world on "the danger of authoritarian society."

Had Eichmann been tried by an international court, the verdict probably would not have been different. Yet that decision would have been made by an independent judiciary, speaking for the conscience of all humanity, confirming the crime of genocide and establishing a legal precedent as a deterrent for the world against such crimes.

History speaks for the Jews; it allows no sympathy for Eichmann. But history especially demands that mankind protect itself through the extension of international law.

Not So Wishful, Either

Soviet Ambassador Menshikov chose an unsuitable moment to advise Americans that any speculation about a rift between Moscow and Peiping is "wishful thinking." At the time he was making this bland remark in his National Press Club speech, the final rupture of diplomatic relations between Albania and the Soviet Union was being confirmed. That is not wishful thinking, it is fact; and if the dispute between Albania and Moscow does not involve a dispute between Moscow and Peiping, it is scarcely understandable.

Would Albania be able to stand up against Khrushchev in an ideological dispute without backing from Red China? We do not believe so. The fact that Albania has stood up, even to the point of facing diplomatic and economic sanctions at the hands of Khrushchev, can only mean that both Moscow and Peiping are using the Albanians as a vehicle for their own, much more significant, controversy.

The two giants of Communist ideology cannot afford to admit publicly that they are deeply divided on policy toward the non-Communist world; that is why such statements as Ambassador Menshikov's continue to be necessary. But the existence of the division is too obvious to be concealed by verbal denials. And the extreme measures to which Khrushchev is resorting suggests what great importance he places upon the need to assert his leadership of Communist ideology.

Albania can be kicked around with impunity, whereas direct attack upon Red China might be more difficult. Khrushchev is evidently trying to prove, both to other satellites and to his party opponents at home, that the withdrawal of Russian favor from a client state is catastrophic, and hence client states must expect to accept guidance from the Kremlin and nobody else. The next move is Peiping's.

Testing Champ's Legality

County Counselor Gallagher and Prosecuting Attorney Anderson are responsible for carrying out the grand jury's recommendation for court action to determine if the Village of Champ is a legally established municipality. If it isn't, efforts to dissolve it and to bring the territory under the county's control ought to be begun forthwith.

Continued municipal status is essential to creation of the virtually tax-free industrial park being promoted by Champ's principal officials and land owners, Norman Champ and Bill Bangert. Municipal business in Champ largely involves the Messrs. Champ and Bangert, in their capacity as village trustees, negotiating with themselves for the public purchase of their private realty holdings. Once these private lands become public property they and any improvements thereon become free of local, county and state real estate taxes. This is the gimmick the promoters are counting upon to help move their property quickly and profitably.

St. Louis county needs all the industry it can get, but not the kind that would locate in Champ and fail to carry its proper share of the tax load. If the Messrs. Champ and Bangert want to create an industrial park that will pay the same taxes as everybody else, that would be a different matter.

"I WAS JUST LEAVING."

A Modern Republican Program

Right-wingers Would Lead Party Into Permanent Minority Status and Total Eclipse

Senator Jacob K. Javits
In a Lecture at Union College, Schenectady

Having just returned from the U.S.S.R. on a congressional mission, I say advisedly that the success of our policy at home and in winning the less-developed areas of the world to freedom will determine whether freedom or Communism will dominate the earth.

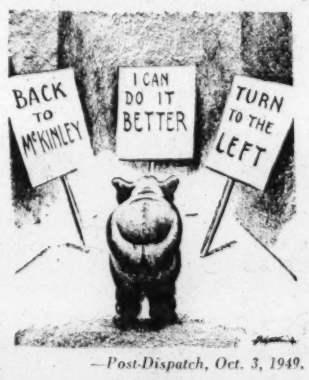
As I believe the Republican party to have the best chance to successfully carry out the needed policy, I have viewed with real concern an effort to foist on the party an ultra-conservative program. I believe that ultra-conservatism in our nation is as outdated as isolationism — and as unwise.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

While I believe the recently widely publicized wave of ultra-conservative fanaticism is under control, it represents a danger to the Republican party which cannot be overlooked. It has already, for example, led to new arguments in some Republican circles that the road to victory in the future lies in moving the party further to the Right, ostensibly to give the voters a "choice."

A choice to what? To some inner dominion of mystical retreat? To a replay of all the battles for human progress over the past 100 years? Such a path would transform the Republican party into a fringe party and would insure permanent minority status or total eclipse for Republicanism.

I believe instead that the Republican party must keep itself within the broad spectrum of modern American life. It must better meet the growing needs of the urban and suburban dwellers. All the analyses of this year's election results and last year's cannot avoid the point that the Republican party cannot win a national election unless it broadens its appeal to voters in the cities and the suburbs.



—Post-Dispatch, Oct. 3, 1949.

Tough Choice

This does not mean that progressive Republicanism must "out-promise" the Democrats. Nor does it mean a form of "me-tooism" if Republican party programs are based upon concepts truly belonging to it—equal opportunity without regard to race, creed, color or national origin through law; and devotion to and heavy reliance upon a private economic system to realize our national destiny.

As the party of Abraham Lincoln, Republicanism must live up to its tradition by spearheading the fight for civil rights. The conservative approach is against federal legislation, against the curtailing of the filibuster in the Senate. Indeed, my colleague, Senator Goldwater, recently suggested that the Republicans should water down the civil rights plank adopted at the 1960 national convention in a bid for support among Southern segregationists. I believe this would be devastating to the Republican party's hopes — and doubly costly since the Democratic party cannot, because of its apparent need to appease its Southern wing, fulfill its promises on civil rights.

The conservative approach is almost always in negative terms. William F. Buckley, the so-called "intellectual leader" of conservatives, defined the objectives of his philosophy as anti-Communism abroad and anti-statism at home. Newsweek Magazine said, "He acknowledged it is a failing of the right-wing conservatives today that they cannot say what they are for—only what they are against."

This is really the heart of the matter.

Instead of being against all medical care for the aged, Republicans should be for an alternative to the Democratic plan — an alternative which is more equitable and more responsible, which covers more people, provides needed preventive care and does not jeopardize the private health plans already in existence covering almost 120,000,000 Americans. A group of Senate Republicans I hope will join me in offering such a Republican alternative.

Instead of being against all public housing, Republicans should follow the pattern of the Mitchell-Lama program in New York state, which is heavily based on private enterprise but utilizes state credit based on the pooling of such enterprises.

In the coming trade battle, instead of being against extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, we should be for a selective program which will give assistance to industries and workers adversely affected by imports, provide for phasing out of tariff protection in certain affected industries, require greater co-operation on trade from our allies, but will give us the capability to compete, to expand and help trade of underdeveloped nations we wish to keep free.

Instead of being against federal aid to education, progressive Republicans should support a formula of Robert Taft for allocating that aid that will more effectively improve our nation's educational system.

Thus, there is a road for progressive Republicans which is not "me-tooism," which does offer voters a choice, which does meet the modern needs of our people and which looks to the future.

Man vs. Woodchuck From the New York Herald Tribune

We doubt that many human beings are going to begin hibernating like woodchucks, groundhogs, dormice and bats in the hope of living 1400 years, despite a report by the National Geographic Society that such a feat may be within the realm of possibility.

It's an interesting idea, though. A 1400-year-old man today would have been born in the year 561. Justinian was the big boss in the world just then, and had recently promulgated a code that tried to make some sense out of the tangled, contradictory and unenforceable laws that were cluttering up the books—a process that somehow still seems to be going on.

The ruler of what we now know as France was a gent named Clotaire I; he died in 561 and his country promptly was torn by civil war—which again suggests a parallel possibility nowadays. People then were still talking about the big war between the Franks and the Visigoths, which had ended at Poitiers a generation or two before.

So a 1400-year-old man, though he no doubt would have been all in favor of electric shavers, ice cubes, can openers and other modern amenities, might also have had an uncomfortable feeling that he had somehow been through it all before. Being a woodchuck possibly has its points. But for the rest of us, eight hours a night still seems like enough.

Between Book Ends A Selection of Children's Books

A diversity of subjects is offered in the new books for children just beginning to read with ease. In the mood of season is "Seven Dancing Dolls" by Grace Golden (Bobbs Merrill, $2.95), with line drawings by David Stone.

Poland, 1830, is the setting of the story based on the disappearance of one of Wanda's seven dolls, a present from her father. Frederic Chopin, a family friend who, when he played for Wanda and her family, made the seven dolls dance happily on the piano, solved the mystery of the missing doll. He also gave Wanda the best present of all, her very own waltz, "The Waltz of the Seven Dancing Dolls."

The author is Director of the Children's Museum in Indianapolis, where the seven dolls which gave her the idea for the story are kept. She obtained them during a year spent in Poland studying museums, folk art and folkways.

Very different is Millicent E. Selsam's account of the same period, 1831 to 1836. In "Around the World with Darwin" (Harper, $2.95) she tells of the voyage in the Beagle which made scientific history. Miss Selsam tells interestingly how the great natural scientist, Charles Darwin, got his first inkling, in the wilds of South America, that, since fossils resembled the living animals of a given region, there might be a change from one species to another.

Twenty-three years after his travels to South America, New Zealand, Australia, the South Pacific Islands, and India, Darwin stated his principle of evolution in his "Origin of Species," the principle that is the cornerstone of the modern science of living things.

Happiness and mishaps alternate in "The Last Little Cat," well written, perceptive story by Meindert DeJong (Harper, $2.75). The pathetic little black creature, born last in the litter, in a kennel "full of dogs and dog cages, and dog noises," is so "weak and scrawny and wobbly" that it soon is abandoned by its mother and six brothers and sisters. It is always half cold and hungry until the day it falls into the cage of the big old blind dog.

Then, for a while, the last little cat is warm and well fed. The story of how the helpless little stray finds a perfect home follows. It is written with imagination and insight, and Jim McMullan's pen drawings are in perfect harmony with the text. The author received the Newbery Award for "The Wheel on the School" in 1954.

Our Latin American 'Original Sin'

RIO DE JANEIRO.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S TRIP TO VENEZUELA and Colombia will be the first of several Latin American visits. Their immediate purpose is to help start the nebulous Alliance for Progress by focussing attention on governments willing to qualify for aid by reform programs.

However, from a longer viewpoint, one might call the aim of these journeys the expunging of original sin. The tormented history of inter-American relationships has always been marred by complexes. Our largely Protestant and English heritage tended to view with disdain the Catholic and Iberian heritage of the South and to remember, like the British, that Latins have many gifts but one of these is not self-government. And the Latins inherited distrust of our Anglo-Saxon pragmatism.

Kennedy

Even John Quincy Adams who, as Secretary of State, elaborated the Monroe Doctrine, confided to Henry Clay he had "little expectation of any beneficial result to this country from any future connection with the Latin nations."

Teddy's Arrogance.

The Monroe Doctrine has often been twisted and retwisted. It was based on the assumption that Europe would keep hands off the Americas and we would stay isolated from Europe. The second half of the equation is long since outdated.

This doctrine, never popular in Latin America, expressed itself arrogantly under McKinley and Teddy Roosevelt. The first Roosevelt construed it as permitting us to intervene to forestall intervention by others, and boasted he would "show those dagoes that they will have to behave decently." The second Roosevelt formally abandoned claims to intervention "rights" but their ghost still shows vigor in the Caribbean.

F.D.R. enunciated the Good Neighbor policy. Nevertheless, since World War II we have shown more concern for Europe and Asia than Latin America. Until 1958, more help was given Tito's Yugoslavia than all Latin America.

Our economic policy redounded badly to the South. We set quotas on lead and zinc; our cotton dumping hurt Mexico. Worries about disease banned Argentine beef and our food surplus disposal cut into Argentine grain markets. We never managed to stabilize commodity prices nor assure sales for single-export nations.

Peron's anti-United States bluster paid off in loans. Only in recent years have bipartisan efforts sought to improve this situation. The disliked Pan-American Union was replaced by the Organization of American States, whose first leader, the able Alberto Lleras Camargo, will receive Mr. Kennedy next weekend as Colombia's President.

Secretary Dulles obtained O.A.S. recognition of Communism's threat to this hemisphere but his was largely a paper triumph. President Eisenhower broke relations with Trujillo and began the programs of Latin American journeys now being expanded by the Democrats.

Inflation and Disorder.

It will take months to get the Alliance for Progress going and decades to erase inherited prejudices. The traffic of goods and ideas between North and South America has not developed adequately and brave visions have faded in misunderstanding. One may hope President Kennedy's voyage will change this legacy.

The Monroe Doctrine is dead, and we now seek to attract Europe into Latin America as an economic partner. But the threat of Communism, whose agent Castro now proclaims himself, remains despite the Dulles declaration. Inflation and economic disorder are rife and we might have to bail out some countries. While pressing for Latin reforms, we may have to change some of our own trade and farm policies.

The fact that Mr. Kennedy is himself a Catholic—which makes a deep impression among Latins—and that he endows old aspirations with the fresh flow of youth and energy, should prove vastly helpful. But expunging original sin is no easy task.

'LA PLUME' GAY AND NONSENSICAL

By MYLES STANDISH

What makes "La Plume de Ma Tante," which opened last night at the American Theater, so delightful are its gaiety and Gallic ebullience. It is still the same deft collection of nonsensical and whimsical skits and pantomimes that came from the fertile mind of Robert Dhery, who starred in it for seven years before quitting. Now the dynamic little Robert Clary is leading the largely French cast of zanies and he fits in beautifully. This is a show that keeps one laughing all the way through.

Its cachet comes from its light touch. No gag is ever stressed, much less beaten to death. One has to be attentive not to miss them. An unexpected twist, a grimace, a shrug, a gesture spell everything in this revue with so little dialogue, and that in unimportant broken English.

Dhery's spirit is that of the silent slapstick movie, in energy and the totally unexpected visual gag, the mocking of pomposity; but his craftsmanship is more finely tuned.

The "mad ball" scene is pure high-tempo Mack Sennett with its improbable antic characters. So is "Courting Time" with its people ducking in and out of doors and around a cottage as a swain seeks to meet his love and outwit her outraged father. Clary as a tired and insouciant waiter trying to get rid of Roger Saget as a small-hours diner could well be Charley Chaplin and Mack Swain. But there is great whimsicality and charm in the "Freres Jacques" number as four monks tolling monastery bells get into the spirit of the thing and whoop it up with innocent merriment. This is enchanting. So is the wistfulness of the pantomime montage of strollers in the Tuileries Gardens, with Liliane Montevecchi, the tall and beautiful dancer, wilting as her co-clown, Maurice Basquet, pays attention to a schoolgirl.

The lithe Mlle. Montevecchi, a gifted dancer and a stunning personality, is a funny comedienne, too. Her strip-tease act, in which she coyly improvises while struggling desperately with zippers that won't unzip and garments that won't pull off, is rib-shaking. So is her charade as a female acrobat grunting with pain at every stunt.

The outright burlesque is always effervescent and inventive. Jane Carlyle, as a soprano in a hoop skirt growing taller and taller as she stretches with every high note, is hilarious. Richard Winter, trying to sing a gooey romantic ballad to her as he pushes her on a swing and attempts to mug at the audience and dodge the swing at the same time, is another gem.

When the skits are a little naughty, they never leer; they just grin good-humoredly and shrug impudently. A mix-up of banging doors in a row of four showers at the beach is a tidy bit of horseplay. Another in a public Parisian comfort station where the doors get stuck is equally innocuous and amusing. A skit about two observant manhole workers and the passersby above is a good example of how low humor can be made deft.

This is a cheering renaissance of visual comedy, too often neglected these days on the stage, performed by a talented troupe of buffoons. It will be at the American two weeks, and it is a pity it can't stay longer.

BLUE LAW PASSED AND RESCINDED FIVE DAYS LATER

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Dec. 12 (UPI) — The City Council passed a law last Tuesday and rescinded it Sunday before it was tested.

The blue law prohibited Sunday selling but exempted such items as drugs, gasoline and food. The ordinance was passed after protests from business men who said cut-rate competitors insisted on remaining open Sundays.

Editors of the Beverly Hills Citizen said one woman telephoned her protests, pointing out that, since tooth paste was not a drug, it could not be sold on Sunday.

"What do you want me to do?" the woman asked. "Have bad breath on Sundays or drive to Los Angeles for some bootleg tooth paste?"

Billikens Scramble Back Against Kentucky but Lose, 86-77

St. Louis Cuts Late Advantage Of 14 to 3

St. Louis U. Team Arrives Home After Delay of 12 Hours

St. Louis University's basketball Billikens, delayed 12 hours by weather, arrived at Lambert Field from Lexington, Ky., at 1 p.m. today. The squad went from the airport direct to the gymnasium for a long workout.

The Bills, who lost to Kentucky last night, were scheduled to leave Lexington after the game. However, the takeoff was postponed until 11:30 this morning because inclement weather made a landing hazardous at the St. Louis airport.

By Ed Wilks
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 12—Before St. Louis University played its second game of the basketball season, Coach John Benington was asked how many games the Billikens would have to play before he could make a full appraisal of the team.

"I think I know about this team now," Benington said at that time, "but I should know for sure after the Kentucky game. That will be our second road game, and we'll have played Kansas State."

That conversation took place at Lawrence, Kan., where a few hours later the Bills gained their second victory by whipping Kansas by 14 points. Benington's answer then appeared obvious, although premature.

Last night, a week later, and with an 11-point defeat at K-State in between, the Bills met Kentucky here at Memorial Coliseum and lost, 86-77. The obvious answer of a week ago was still just as obvious—but it now was only half an answer.

"This club," said Benington as he paced up and down the corridor outside the Bills' dressing room, "is just the way I thought it would be. Some nights we'll play great ball, but on other nights we'll be questionable."

This was one of those other nights.

Sad First Half.

The Bills played almost without motion, and with little defense, in the first half. Yet they were only seven points down at the intermission.

The Bills also were able to play their two big men in tandem for less than half the game, what with Garry Garrison shackled by fouls and Bill Nordmann, also in foul trouble, shaken up by a fall.

Yet they made a valiant comeback try, whittling Kentucky's 14-point bulge to three points before they were stopped cold by a three-point play by the Wildcats' remarkable sophomore, Cotton Nash.

With a little more than 4½ minutes remaining, the Bills trailed, 73-59. The Bills went into a scrambling full court press, and within two minutes the score was 77-74.

The comeback began innocently enough. Earl Dee, filling in at center, sank a free throw. Dave Harris dropped in two more. After Kentucky blew a breakaway layup, George Latinovich hit, with a jump shot, and Tommy Kieffer, scoreless through the first half, scored on a layup.

Nash Calls a Halt.

Scotty Baesler, one of Kentucky's two pesky guards, wiggled through for a layup, but Latinovich sank two free throws as Larry Pursiful, the other Wildcat backcourt man, fouled out.

Harris then hit a jump, Dee sank two more foul shots and Kieffer tapped in a rebound—and then Nash called a halt.

The 6-foot-5 Nash, once pursued by Benington when Cotton was still a high school player in Louisiana, drove in for a basket and was fouled. He added the free throw and Kentucky was back in command.

Nash proved to be all that he was supposed to be as a future all-America, hitting from inside and outside for 30 points. Only when Donnell Reid moved in on him in the late stages of the first half, was Nash checked. But there was no checking the blond bomber in the second half.

Minoso, Old Man Young, Talks Baseball as Well as He Plays It

By Neal Russo

Old brooms may sweep clean, but they have nothing on oldster Minnie Minoso. Since the baseball Cardinals acquired the outfielder from the White Sox last month, he has bought several new suits, ordered all new hats and purchased a new Cadillac convertible even though his "old" one was just six months old.

"My car had just 8000 miles on it, but I wanted everything new because I'm in a new league with a new team," Minnie said yesterday on his first visit here since the trade. His new automobile has a metallic blue body with a light blue top. He has driven purple and pink convertibles in the past.

Superstitious Minoso, who talked contract with General Manager Bing Devine, also took time to ask for, try on and get uniform No. 9.

"I have always worn No. 9 in the major leagues," said Minnie, whose eyes lighted up when he was reminded that another live wire did great honor to the number, Enos Slaughter.

Informed that the Cardinal wearing No. 9 last season was Hal Smith, Minoso praised the catcher whose playing days were ended by a heart ailment.

Tribute to Smitty.

"I played on the same team with Hal in Cuba one winter," Minnie recalled. "He was the best catcher who ever came to Cuba."

That statement covers quite a few catchers, for Minoso has played winter ball in his native Cuba 15 years. He passed up winter ball for the first time this season only because the Cuban League folded.

The swap of Minoso for Joe Cunningham was even at least in one respect—each led his league in times hit by pitched balls last season.

Jovial Minoso, witty and articulate in English although he spoke only Spanish when he came to the majors, explained how he riled some pitchers who hit him.

Minnie, hit 16 times last season, said he did not even bother to rub the spots where Detroit's Frank Lary struck him with pitches. Instead, Minnie picked up the ball and disdainfully tossed it back to Lary before heading for first base.

"Lary told me, 'Don't pick up the ball, you're showing me up'," Minoso related.

Another pitcher, whose name Minnie declined to reveal, warned Minoso that he would throw at him intentionally. However, Minnie stuck to his crowding stance and was hit on the arm. Unperturbed Minoso, a diamond psychologist, casually flipped the ball back to the pitcher who was so embarrassed that he never since has thrown at Minnie.

Minoso said that once he acceded briefly to Umpire Joe Paparella's request that he move away from the plate.

"I went back to my old position at the plate because the food doesn't taste good the other way," Minoso said in his special description of preferring to swing while crowding the plate.

Iron Man of Cuba.

As for the indestructibility evidenced by Minoso's leading his league in times hit by pitches 10 different seasons, Minnie smiled and said, "I must be made of iron."

Minoso regards himself as an iron man despite his age. "If they play 162 games next season, Minnie is ready to play 162 games," the new Redbird asserted. "If they play 300 games, Minnie ready to play 300."

Asked if he owned some special formula for retaining his zip, wily Minoso said, "It's a private secret and if you want to find out, it will cost you."

Fleet Minnie, who has shown his Cuban heels for years on the diamond, said he once offered to make a deal with Ted Williams late in the slugger's career.

"I told Ted that he should do all the swinging and I would just run for him, even to first base," Minnie said.

MINNIE MINOSO

Minoso, who said hard work as a sugar cane cutter built up his body, insisted that he is 38 years old, not 39 as usually advertised, and certainly not 49, as some reports list his age.

"Everybody kept changing my age, so I just let them," Minnie said. "But I feel like a rookie. I decided that instead of getting old, I would get young."

The outfielder happily recounts details of his last game at Busch Stadium, the 1957 All-Star contest in which he delivered a run-scoring double high off the screen and came through with two brilliant defensive plays.

Si, Chico—No!

"When I hit the ball off Clem Labine, I said to myself, 'Chico, this is No. 1 home run for you in All-Star games', but Willie Mays got the ball and I had to slide into second base and barely beat the throw," Minoso said. Minnie also pegged out a runner (Gus Bell) at third base and made a good, running catch to close out a 6-5 American League victory.

"I always hit well in the St. Louis park," he said.

Minoso deftly avoided making big campaign promises.

"I don't guarantee anything, but I'll try my best," he said.

Did Minoso fear the consequences of switching from one league to the other?

"I don't know them (the opposition, especially the pitchers), but they don't know me," Minnie said. "I'll be swinging at everything they throw. I'm pretty sure I'll run into more good days than bad ones.

A reporter tried to pick Minoso off base by asking him if it was true that he was a good low-ball hitter.

Without bothering to reach for the Fifth Amendment, Minnie had the last ha-ha on his inquisitor with this most unrevealing reply:

'Most Money I Ever Saw,' Says Utah St. Player of Pro Offer

CHICAGO, Dec. 12 (AP)—"There was a knock on my hotel room door around midnight. I opened it and a guy came in and pulled out his billfold. I saw $1000 on top of the wad. It was the most money I ever saw in my life. He said to sign and it was mine, I didn't."

Sound like a TV who-done-it? Clyde Brock of Utah State, a 6-foot-6-inch, 280-pound tackle, says this bit of intrigue happened to him last Friday night in New York.

He said a "small fellow called 'Ray' (Ray Geraci, as it turned out, a talent scout of the Houston Oilers) entered my room."

Prefers N.F.L.

"He came in and opened his wallet. I saw a wad, and I think a $1000 bill was on top. He said: 'Sign with the Oilers and all this is yours.' I told him to get out. I wanted to play in the National Football League. He left. There was no pressure. No contract. Just money. Never saw so much. He did tell me there might be legal steps if I didn't sign. But the N.F.L. had said the same thing."

Brock denied he signed with the Bears last week. His coach, John Ralston, had his doubts. He withdrew him from Saturday's Gotham Bowl game in New York, which Baylor won 24-9.

Brock said:

"Fifteen minutes before the game—and I was fully dressed and ready to play—Coach Ralston told me in the locker room that he had heard I had signed with the Bears and, therefore, was ineligible to play in the game. I told him I hadn't signed, but he said he didn't want to take any chance of having to forfeit the game by using an ineligible player and that I had better stay out. I did.

"I had made a verbal commitment to sign with the Bears to Fido Murphy, whom I had known since a kid. He watched ... grow up. I always knew I ... to play in the National ... League and, although I was willing to listen to offers of the American Football League, I was surprised at their approach of knocking on my door and opening up a billfold. To them, it was money that talked, and they thought that was all it meant.

Better than Olsen.

Brock was asked if he thought he was a better pro prospect than his teammate Merlin Olsen, judged the best interior lineman of the collegiate season.

"I consider myself a better offensive tackle than Olsen," said Brock, who delighted like a weightman in lifting his bride, Pat, up and down, for the benefit of photographers. Olsen was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams of the N.F.L. and the Denver Broncos of the N.F.L.

Halas had only this to say: "I understand Brock is studying criminology. It's good to have him on our team. Might come in handy as far as officiating is concerned."

Ref 'Blew' Key Call, Eagles Say

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12 (AP)—The controversy over the New York Giants' 28-24 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles last Sunday, a triumph that clinched at least a tie in the National Football League's eastern division, flamed anew today witth these developments:

1. Coach Nick Skorich of the Eagles said game films showed the final touchdown by the Giants which beat the Eagles should not have been allowed because Del Shofner "didn't come down with both feet in bounds."

2. General Manager Vince McNally of the Eagles quoted Mike Wilson, chief of N.F.L. officials, as saying Referee Ron Gibbs "blew" a call on a key, 15-yard roughing-the-kicker penalty against the Eagles which allowed the Giants to retain possession and led to their final TD. A five-yard penalty likely would have forced the Giants to kick again instead of giving them a first down.

"It should have been a five-yard penalty (for running into the kicker)," said McNally. "I called up Mike Wilson to tell him about it and he said: 'I know it; I already told Gibbs he blew it."

Concerning kicker penalties, Article 2 of Rule 10 of the N.F.L. code says:

"Penalty — for running into kicker: loss of 5 from previous spot (15 for roughness and also disqualification when flagrant)."

At Joliet, Ill., where he appeared before a Rotarian luncheon, Gibbs—a 21-year N.F.L. officiating veteran—said—"the kicker was knocked down and if I didn't call the play the way I did, people would say 'Gibbs, you've lost your gust' and it would be time for me to quit.

"If the Giant kicker was acting, he's a good actor. I saw him roughed and I called it 15. But if it was running into the kicker, even though it's a 5-yard penalty, the Giants still have the ball and it's first down.

"The thing to remember about the whole thing is that our rule book says 'avoiding the kicker is a primary responsibility of the defensive player if the ball is not touched—and the ball was not touched.'"

As referee, Gibbs said he was far away from the contorversial pass play and could not comment on the call. "I don't know who made it," said Gibbs.

Kings of the Court

Some time ago, Jim Pollard, who really ought to know, said the professional basketball players he now coaches, the lowly Chicago Packers, are better than the famous pro round-ball champions for whom he played—the Minneapolis Lakers of George Mikan.

So it's not too surprising now, in this week's Saturday Evening Post, to find Arnold (Red) Auerbach going a little farther.

The rednecked redhead, coach of the Boston Celtics, is convinced that his 1961 N.B.A. champions could have "toyed" with any of the top basketball teams of the past.

"The original Celtics of New York, dream team of the 1920s, couldn't have beaten our club one game in a hundred," said Auerbach. "They were too small."

The Mikan-led Lakers, who won five of six championships through 1953, would have "lost to us consistently because they didn't have the depth," Red said.

Russell vs. Mikan

Although Mikan in 1950 was selected in an Associated Press poll as basketball's Man of the Half Century, the rugged 6-10 DePaul graduate would be outclassed now, Auerbach contended.

"Mikan," he insisted, "was a stickout because there wasn't another good tall man in the league then. He had smaller courts to play on, so he didn't have to run as far as the boys do today. There was no 24-second rule, so he didn't have to run as fast, either. His teammates could wait for him to get into position and then feed the ball to him.

"Playing today's rules, a fellow like Bill Russell could practically shut Mikan out. Russell would outlast him, outsmart him, murder him at the backboards and block all his hook shots, if he ever got any off. The only baskets Mikan would make would be on pure muscle, by pushing his weight around.

"Even then, his tactics would be so obvious that he'd foul out before the game was half over."

Their Own Best Test

If Auerbach is exaggerating, the controversial coach is not far wrong.

Even more than football, basketball, in this opinion, has progressed most among team games in the emphasis on size, speed and scoring skill. And, as a fierce foe, Ben Kerner, acknowledged the other day, the modern Celtics must be the finest machine in basketball history.

Battling complacency, boredom and travel weariness even more than outmatched opposition, the Celtics have won 19 of 22 games this season. And that record is a tribute to Auerbach's coaching hypodermic as it is to their own talent and tenacity.

As Auerbach wrote, "The Celtics are to basketball what the Yankees are to baseball—a club with ability, class, confidence, consistency, pride and esprit de corps."

Figures That Fool

Pollard made the case about improved play recently. Mikan's former teammate showed year-by-year progress in field-goal sharpshooting accuracy since 1946, the year Auerbach coached the Washington Caps to the first post-war professional championship.

That year the Caps, champions of the east, and the Chicago Stags, western kings who nosed out the St. Louis Bombers the last night of the season, had the best field-goal percentages, 29.7. Every year the sharpshooting has gone up. In 1959 and 1960 the Hawks led with 41 and 41.9 per cent. Last season the Cincinnati Royals sank 43.8 of their tries from the floor.

Still, as Auerbach put it, "Statistics aren't a true measure of a ball player's value to his team. If they could show me figures where a guy makes a clutch basket, or where he stops or fails to stop an opponent from scoring, I'd pay more attention to them.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 12—The Washington University Bears hoped to find the Crusaders of Valparaiso more in their class than was the Wisconsin basketball team last night. The Badgers of the Big Ten overwhelmed the St. Louis team 91-63.

Tonight the Bears will take on the Crusaders in Valparaiso, Ind.

Wisconsin cut loose with a fast break in the second half and ran away from the outmanned Bears, after the visitors had cut the lead to 45-39. The Badgers then outscored them 15-1 to take command, 60-40.

Wisconsin, which has lost only to Cincinnati in four games, used 13 players and 11 of them scored. Sophomore Ron Jackson led with 19 points. Tom Gwyn and Don Hearden each had 13.

For Washington, Art Sidner had 15, Ron Jones 14 and Charlie Stegmeyer 13.

Gwyn also starred on the boards, grabbing 16 rebounds. Teammate Jack Brems pulled down 13.

Washington's man-to-man defense, erected to keep the Badgers from driving in, backfired when Wisconsin started making shots from the outside. The winners hit 36 of 92 for a .391 percentage. Washington made 22 of 68 for .324.

Washington was the first to tally, after two and one-half scoreless minutes. Wisconsin took the lead after five minutes and built a 43-32 margin by halftime.

Baylor Again Too Much for Hawks as Lakers Win, 132 to 119

52 Points For Elgin; L.A. Takes 7th in Row

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12—"If Ben Kerner can find anyone who can stop Baylor, he's welcome to the job," said St. Louis Hawks coach Fuzzy Levane on the heels of a 132-117 defeat by the Elgin Baylor-led Lakers last night. The victory was the Lakers' seventh in a row.

Levane, despite a terrible riding from the Los Angeles press, has kept his composure and was only kidding when he referred to Baylor's 52-point exhibition.

Three front page stories greeted him when he arrived in Los Angeles, each referring to Hawk owner Kerner as being the fastest "firer" in the West.

Los Angeles didn't gain any ground in the western division of the National Basketball Association, as second-place Cincinnati was knocking off Chicago in Dayton, 133-117.

Baylor scored his 52 points from nearly every distance and angle, although reportedly suffering from a cold. He let up somewhat in the late stages but then sophomore Jerry West picked up the scoring.

West made 28 points, 17 of them in the last quarter when Baylor slowed up.

St. Louis's "Big Three" again was tough but needed support.

Clyde Lovellette topped the Hawk scoring with 32 points, one more than Bob Pettit accumulated. Cliff Hagan added another 23.

Pettit was the best on the boards for both clubs as he pulled down 17 rebounds, two more than Baylor, who goes into the Army in early January.

The Hawks pulled out to a 36-24 first quarter advantage and then Baylor went to work.

In the second quarter the Lakers sank 41 points, their high single quarter total for the season.

The lead changed hands nine times in the second quarter and the score was tied on six occasions before the Lakers took a 65-64 halftime lead on Baylor's two free throws.

Hagan's jump shot just as the third quarter started put St. Louis ahead at 66-65. Baylor's three-point play, a layup followed by a successful free throw after he was fouled, put the Lakers ahead, to stay.

The same clubs meet here again Wednesday night. The Lakers have beaten the Hawks four straight this season after coming out on the short end of a 8-5 season mark last year.

Six Suburban Schools Honored

Six high schools, Riverview, Ritenour, Pattonville, Hazelwood, Wellston and Parkway, were named winners of the Carl Burris sportsmanship award for football made annually by the Suburban Public High School Athletic Conference.

The award is named for the former conference secretary, who recently retired. All league games are rated for sportsmanship. Each school received a trophy.

scoring. You can have the team that has one man who is up in the 30s, maybe two others in double figures and everyone else down to one or two baskets.

"Scoring champions don't make a championship team. Russell, our big guy, is one of the poorest shots in the league, yet one of the most valuable players. He can't shoot from the outside, and he misses fouls all over the place. But he's great on defense and can out-jump everyone, including Wilt Chamberlain, who is four inches taller.

"Russell's timing is fantastic. He can get the ball off the backboard and pass it to a teammate faster than anyone else in the game. He's perfect for our fast-breaking style of play."

Sad, but true.

Meinert and Anderson Mix Humor With Player Honors

By Robert Morrison

Lone Wolf, Okla., where Dale Meinert watches the world go by when he isn't playing pro football for the Cardinals, breeds the strong and silent type, and you have to be quick to catch his pearls of American culture.

The Cardinal linebacker who had been voted by teammates as the Big Red's Player of the Year, went to the platform to accept his trophy at yesterday's Quarterback Club luncheon, and beat all comers for brevity.

"I don't want to spoil your chicken," he said, "but, er, uh. . . ."

Laughter at his slow drawl drowned him out as he attempted to express his appreciation, and the Lone Wolf ranger, who ranks with the best among National Football League middle linebackers, settled for that.

He's Quick About Team.

Yes, you have to be quick to catch Meinert's speeches. Not long ago, when the team was sneaking into the St. Louis airport after a particularly resounding defeat on the road, the girl at the cigarette counter waited on Meinert.

"What is this, the football team, or something?" she asked Meinert, as she saw two or three of the bigger Red players.

"What there is left of it," was Dale's dry reply as he picked up his change and walked away.

Taz Anderson, the rugged rookie from Georgia Tech who became the regular tight end and sometimes fullback in his first year with the Cards, received the Rookie-of-the-Year award voted by writers and broadcasters.

"The trouble I've had catching passes, I should take this (trophy) cup with me when we play the Steelers Sunday," said Anderson. He had dropped several throws the Sunday before last, but he ripped off a 78-yard pass-and-run play against Dallas.

Devine Sees Prep Stars.

The professional Cardinals, who attended in a body, and the All-District high school football stars shared the spotlight at the Quarterback luncheon with the main speaker, Missouri University Coach Dan Devine.

"You can just see Dan's eyes light up," remarked QB Club president, Dr. Norman Rathert, as the all-prep stars were presented, all for the moment at the recruiting fingertips of the coach.

Devine, reminding the young players of debts they owed their teammates, parents and coaches, told the boys, "It took 20 other people to give you the prominence you have today."

Recalling Missouri's past encounters with some of the young professionals now making good, Devine said he felt Missouri could claim a small share of their honors, referring to Oklahoma's Prentice Gautt, Georgia Tech's Anderson, Georgia's Francis Tarkenton, and S.M.U.'s Don Meredith.

Drafting of Wegener.

"We're happy our Bucky Wegener was drafted," Devine said. He related how Wegener took 45 minutes to remove a shoe after the victory at Minnesota because the foot, injured in a mower accident a year earlier, hurt so much. "When he goes to pro camp, I can assure you he'll get in his licks," Devine said.

The 400 luncheon guests drew an unexpected bonus when Walter Wolfner, managing director of the football Cardinals, gave each person in attendance two tickets to next Sunday's final game at Busch Stadium. Cardinal players, John Crow announced, will give their tickets to an underprivileged children's group.

"This is a sort of gift horse, because we can't sell 'em anyway," said Wolfner, who prefaced this with a remark he should let Meinert do all this talking.

Wolfner said he believed the Cards would end the season (with a 7-7 record) by beating the Steelers. But his triple coaching staff, Ray Prochaska, Chuck Drulis and Ray Willsey, figured they had their work cut out against Big Daddy Lipscomb and the Steeler rush line, not to mention Bobby Layne.

Prochaska observed, however, that rookie tackle Ron McDole has shown a lot of improvement at the pass-blocking chore, and so quarterback Sam Etcheverry may get better blocking as he did against the Cowboys.

Dozen Calls From Canada For Pop Ivy

Frank (Pop) Ivy, commenting on a recent telephone call from the British Columbia (Vancouver) club in Canadian football, said he had received about a dozen calls from Canada since he resigned as head coach of the football Cardinals.

"I really haven't decided what I'm going to do," said Ivy, who was a popular figure in Canada a few years ago when his Edmonton teams won three Grey Cup championships.

Ivy said he was happy to see Sam Etcheverry get some protection in the Cardinal victory Sunday over the Dallas Cowboys. "If he can get the protection, he'll do well," the former coach said.

Cincinnati Late Spurt Stops Drake, 60 to 59

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (UPI)—Ohio State's Jerry Lucas may be college basketball's No. 1 glamor boy, but the Cincinnati Bearcats will take Paul Hogue when the chips are down.

The 6-foot, 9-inch, 240-pound Hogue proved his mettle under fire last night when he scored the Bearcats' decisive points in a 60-59 victory over tough, high-scoring Drake. The win extended the Bearcats' two-season winning streak to 26 games and kept them hard on the heels of Ohio State for the natoin's No. 1 ranking.

Drake swept ahead by ten, 52-42, with five minutes left. Cincinnati cut the margin with a basket. Then a technical was called on Ed Jucker and Drake's Billy Hahn converted, with 4:09 left.

But the fiery, quick-handed Bearcats then staged their whirlwind finish, outscoring the Bulldogs 16-6 down the stretch. In that drive, Larry Shingleton made two interceptions while Tony Yates and Hogue made one apiece, and all four steals resulted in baskets. Hogue also dumped in another shot with 41 seconds remainnig for a 58-57 lead, and clinched it with two free throws at the 11-second mark. The 6-foot-9 pivotman ended up high point man with 27.

Fifth-ranked Duke routed Clemson, 89-66, in an Atlantic Coast Conference opener; sixth-ranked Purdue bowed to Wichita, 71-68, and eighth-ranked Arizona State topped Kansas, 72-58, in other big games.

Art Heyman scored 26 points as Duke's Blue Devils won their fourth straight game. Duke had a 19-point lead after 10 minutes and had a 24-point lead early in the second half.

A pair of medium-sized guards overcame a 36-point performance by Purdue's Terry Dischinger to give Wichita its decision over the sixth-ranked Boilermakers. Lanny Van Eman, 5-11, scored 21 points and Bernie Moore, 5-10, tallied 20.

Five-foot nine-inch guard Larry Armstrong engineered Arizona State's fast break and also led the scoring with 20 points to help present coach Ned Wulk with his seventy-fifth victory since taking over in 1957-58.

Top Cards in '61

Schaus To Lead All-Stars

When the National Basketball Association's All-Star game is held in St. Louis on Jan. 16, Los Angeles Lakers' coach Fred Schaus will direct the West team. The usual procedure is for the coach of the division champions to lead the all-star squads, but the Hawks' recent appointee, Fuzzy Levane, declined the honor.

The announcement was made jointly by N.B.A. commissioner Maurice Podoloff and Hawks' owner Ben Kerner.

"Levane told me that he didn't feel he was entitled to lead the West squad," Kerner said, "and we both felt that Schaus deserved the honor."

who has proved to be an insomniac for the Wildcats, was next with 20.

Latinovich Paces Bills.

The Bills' best was Latinovich. Little George hit five of nine field goal attempts and nine of 10 free throws for 19 points.

Garrison, playing little more than 17 minutes, scored 10 points. Nordmann scored 19, including 11 in the first half. Big Bill might have returned to the game, despite his stunning fall, but Dee, a senior who made the team this season off his play in intramural basketball, was doing too good a job as a sub. Dee finished with six points.

"We had no defense," said Benington in reviewing the game. "We were stationary in the first half. We had no variety in our offense. We had to scramble, and we can't play that way."

Joke Turns Prophecy.

The Bills were stationary, indeed.

Earlier in the day they had assembled in a hotel meeting room to view films of last year's Kentucky invitational tournament victory over the Wildcats—in which, incidentally, Nordmann's brother, Bevo, was injured here. A huge green banner greeted them as they entered the room.

"Welcome Interment Association of American, Inc.," said the lettering on the banner, a holdover from a convention.

"Maybe we're supposed to play that way," someone said. At the time, it was a joke.

A few hours later, it was a prophecy.

Robertson Hits 32 as Royals Wallop Packers

DAYTON, O., Dec. 12 (UPI)—Oscar Robertson scored 32 points and was credited with 20 assists last night in leading the Cincinnati Royals to a 133-117 victory over the Chicago Packers in a National Basketball Association game before 3013.

Robertson's total of assists came within two of Cincinnati's club record and represented two-thirds of the total number of assists credited to the Royals last night. The Royals made 49.1 per cent of their field goal attempts compared to Chicago's 42.3 per cent.

The Royals broke away from a 16-16 tie with 7:48 left in the first period and led all the way by margins ranging up to 20 points. Wayne Embry scored 29 points for Cincinnati. Bob Leonard was high scorer for the Packers with 31.

Weber Strikes It Rich in Chicago Bowling Meet, Wins $4000

Defeats Georgian In Final

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 — They'll never have to hold a benefit for Dick Weber, current Bowler of the Year, as long as the Professional Bowlers' Association continues to hold tournaments.

Weber added title No. 8 in 22 tournaments, covering a three year span, to his string last night in Chicago's Argo Bowl as he defeated Ralph Brunt of Atlanta, Ga., 221 to 210, in the one-game championship final match of the tournament.

The victory was worth $4000 to St. Louisan Weber. It marked the sixth victory in the past 12 P.B.A. meets for Weber this year.

The field had been cut from 144 to 48 semifinalists yesterday morning and after an additional five games were added to the previous 20, the 16 top scorers moved into head-to-head match-game finals.

Hoover Led Qualifiers.

Six St. Louis bowlers made the finals. In addition to Weber, Harry Smith, Dick Hoover, who led the qualifying with 5150 for 25 games, Pat Patterson, Al Savas, and Nelson Burton Jr., made the grade.

Young Burton took time off from his studies at St. Louis University to finish fifteenth in the qualifying. However, he had the misfortune to draw Weber in the first round of the finals.

Burton took a commanding lead in the first game beating Weber, 255-204. He saw the lead shaved to 15 pins when Weber won the second game, 215-179, but built it up to 35 pins midway through the third game when he suddenly collapsed.

Burton went by the 1-2 leave for a miss and then failed to convert the 1-2-4-10 "washout" and Weber strung five strikes to win the game, 217-183, and the match, 636-617.

Two other St. Louis bowlers dropped out in the first round with Hoover losing to Joe Hayes of Muncie, Ind., 610-601, and Savas falling to Brunt, 654-612.

According to the P.B.A. prize payoffs, Burton finished ninth, receiving $650; Savas was tenth winning $600, and Hoover twelfth for $500.

Moving into the second round, along with Weber, were Patterson who edged Larry Oaker, Cleveland, 609-608; and Smith who beat Roy Rosland of Chicago, 597-570.

In the second round, Weber continued to roll, beating Hayes 644-586. Smith stayed in contention, shaking off a 147 start, to beat Dan Spade of Cleveland, 607-593, while Patterson dropped out, losing 644-607 to J. Wilbert Sims of Chicago. Patterson was given fifth place and $850.

That left Weber, Brunt, and Sies in contention as the television cameras began grinding for the semifinal and final one-game matches. The matches will be seen on national television, Saturday, Jan. 6.

After Brunt disposed of Sims, 214-167, Weber and Smith battled to the final frame before Dick won, 211-201. That set the stage for Weber's victory over Brunt in the finals. Smith finished third, which was worth $1000 to the Falstaff star, while Brunt got $2000 for finishing second.

Among the bowlers who failed to make the finals was Don Carter, World's invitational Champion, who finished in a tie for eighteenth place with 5002, only three pins out of sixteenth place.

Other St. Louis stars who cashed although failing to make the finals were Dennis Chapis, twentieth with 4990 for $225, and Tom Hennessey, tied for twenty-fourth with 4962 for $165.

Between Rounds

by W. J. McGoogan

Two Against One

The muddle continues in the middleweight division even though Gene Fullmer, who holds one-half of the 160-pound boxing title, would like to clear up the championship. Fullmer would like to meet Britain's Terry Downes, recognized as king of the division by New York, Massachusetts and other points.

Downes, unfortunately, has a March commitment to box Paul Pender, the Boston fighter from whom he took the title in an upset in England. The odious return-bout clause has enabled Pender to keep his foot in the door.

Even though offered $15,000 by Fullmer just to step aside, Pender has said he preferred the opportunity rather than the easy money.

Downes, like Fullmer, would like to see Pender relinquish his return-bout right.

"Fullmer would be a much better draw in America than Pender," Terry told the Associated Press in London.

Downes is right.

Not Dirty, Rough

Fullmer's latest victory has caused many television viewers to argue that Gene is a "dirty" fighter. The Utah Mormon, a mild-mannered man outside the ring, turns tiger when the bell rings, but much of his roughness comes from awkwardness. Blows land where they're not supposed to, and Gene's head and elbows come into contact with his opponent.

Fullmer, however never has backed away from an opponent. He takes 'em all on, let the punches fall where they may.

His successful defense against Paret was his eighth and now he would like to eliminate one dual title by fighting Downes. And that's all to the good.

Archie Moore is the light heavyweight champion everywhere except in N. B. A. states, where Harold Johnson reigns. That title could be cleared, too, if the two men were to meet.

In Fullmer's match with Paret, referee Harry Krause explained the rules to the two fighters beforehand and carefully told them that the mandatory count of eight, in case of a knock down, would be waived for the title match.

Then Krause just as carefully forgot all about it and gave Parent an eight-count when the Kid was knocked down.

Krause, though, was not the first referee to make the same mistake. Ruby Goldstein did it in the Roland La Starza-Rocky Marciano title match in New York in 1953.

Confusion Corner

It just goes to show that when you start to fool around with the rules, you really can cause confusion.

The mandatory eight count in case of a knockdown is in effect in most places, except in a championship bout. Some commissions permit the restriction to apply even in the case of a title contest.

Pity the poor referee.

He handles 25 or 30 bouts in which the mandatory eight-count applies, then suddenly he is tossed into a championship bout where the rule is waived.

In the excitement of the contest, it's hardly surprising that he becomes confused, no matter how experienced he may be.

It would seem that the powers that be should get together, make one rule for all matches and let it go at that.

Boxing, being what it is, you can bet that won't happen.

Hadley Off Running In Basketball Derby, Plays Lincoln Tonight

By Bob Ruhl

In the early basketball firing, Hadley Tech's free-shooting Lions are rating much more than a casual nod in the Public High League. And before the season grows into the major tournaments, George Cross's Green and Gold may be playing to unqualified applause.

Hadley, which never has taken home a shiny tournament trophy of any dimension in Cross's five previous seasons but has won 69 and lost 41 games, is tired of waiting in the long lines of contenders.

Off to a running start, the Lions have beaten DuBourg, Lovejoy and Southwest with ease and scored an average of almost 76 points a game. They go back in action tonight, as host to Lincoln of East St. Louis.

DeAndreis Vs. Beaumont.

Jesse Horstman's capable DeAndreis team travels to Beaumont with hopes of ending the Bluejackets' four-game winning streak. Cleveland, with two victories, gets the next shot at stopping Kirkwood's racing offense. If the Pioneers stay out of serious foul trouble, which they experienced Saturday night against DuBourg, the game could be a squeaker.

Now that the Statesmen from Webster Groves have found that Kirkwood and Maplewood can be beaten, Tyke Yates's charges must feel better about the Suburban Big 10 race. But the Orange and Black shouldn't underestimate Southwest tonight. Although Don Ashley's Longhorns have won only once in three starts, they have the ability to score a lot fo points.

Ferguson will try to snap the three-game victory string of C.B.C. Brentwood travels to Vianney, where the Bayless tourney champions are gunning for bigger and better things this season. Brentwood, expected to be a front-runner in the tough South County League, has won its two starts.

Eureka, a five-game winner, will be host to Parkway.

"Work to Do," Cross Says.

Harley's Cross is still not overly impressed with the work of his Lions. "Remember, we won nine in a row early last season and these kids have a lot of work to do," he said. "We're not shooting quite as well as last season."

Although the Hadley scoring often has rated headlines, Cross pointed out that defense has been a major factor and Jim Lee a specific reason for it. Opposing fives scored an average of 53 points a game against Tech last season.

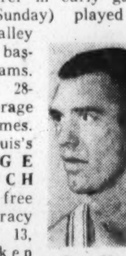
RON HORN, released by the Hawks recently, has signed with the San Francisco Saints of the American Basketball League.

CHET WALKER, Bradley's all-conference forward, is the highest scorer in early games (through Sunday) played by Missouri Valley Conference basketball teams. He has a 28-point average for two games. . . . St. Louis's GEORGE LATINOVICH leads in free throw accuracy with 11 of 13, and Billiken GARY GARRISON is high in rebounds, averaging 13.3. Cincinnati sophomore GEORGE WILSON has the best field goal accuracy with 14 hits in 21 tries.



Ron Horn

The Los Angeles Rams signed quarterback RON MILLER of Wisconsin, whom they had drafted as a "future" last year. The Rams also signed defensive halfback JIM BAKKEN of Wisconsin, who set numerous Big Ten records as a punter and field goal kicker.

Linebacker - guard JOE ROMIG of Colorado, a straight "A" student who doesn't plan on playing professional football, was named college football's "Lineman of the Year" in a nation-wide poll by United Press International. Romig, who won by a wide margin over second-place MERLIN OLSEN of Utah State, was hailed by Colorado Coach SONNY GRANDELIUS as "the best I've ever seen, and I saw a lot when I was playing and coaching at Michigan State."

JIM OWENS ended rumors he would take another job by accepting an offer to remain at the University of Washington as head football coach for another five years.

Wallman, Boxing Manager, Fined And Suspended

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (UPI)—The New York State Athletic Commission today revoked the licenses of Herman (Hymie the Mink) Wallman as manager and second and fined him $5000 for bribery and conspiracy to influence the decision of a commission judge.

Announcing the decision, Chairman Melvin L. Krulewitch of the commission said Wallman had admitted at a hearing on Sept. 27 that he had given a series of gratuities to Bertram T. Grant who at that time was a commission boxing judge.

Krulewitch said Wallman had admitted giving Grant gratuities on five different occasions at Grant's solicitation as follows:

—After the Moses Ward-Billy Kilgore fight on Oct. 4, 1954. Wallman could not remember the exact sum on that occasion. Ward was his fighter.

—After the March 15, 1957, fight between Ike Chestnut and Gil Cadilli. He said he gave Grant $100 then. Chestnut was Wallman's fighter.

—After the June 10, 1957, fight between Alex Miteff and Willie Besmanoff. He said he gave Grant $50: Miteff was Wallman's fighter.

—After the Aug. 12, 1957, bout between Orlando Zulueta and Frankie Impolito. He said he gave $50. Zulueta was Wallman's fighter.

—After the Feb. 21, 1958, bout between Miteff and Nino Valdes. He said he gave Grant $100.

Iowa State Ace Leads On Offense

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (UPI)—Dave (Hoppy) Hoppmann of Iowa State, the closest thing to a "one man gang," is the 1961 major college individual offense champion.

The 176-pound tailback accounted for 1638 yards in nine of the 10 games his team played to easily beat out Pat McCarthy of Holy Cross and Ron Miller of Wisconsin for the total offense title.

McCarthy gained a total of 1509 yards and Miller was credited with 1449 yards. Neither, however, was a serious challenger for the total offense title until the tail-end of the season. The Crusader quarterback wasn't even among the top 15 until mid-November and the Badger signal caller was ranked ninth going into his team's final game of the season against Minnesota.

But the season and the title belonged to little Hoppmann who accounted for 77.3 percent of Iowa State's total advance. What made his accomplishment even more outstanding was the fact that Iowa State as a team ranked sixty-seventh in the nation in total offense.

It's been 20 years since any one player came as close as Hoppmann toward representing a team's whole offense. The only greater degree of responsibility ever recorded, according to the NCAA service bureau, was in 1941 when Wilson (Bud) Schwenk was 81 per cent of Washington (St. Louis) University's attack.

PLOT TO MURDER IKEDA ALLEGED; RIGHTISTS HELD

TOKYO, Dec. 12 (AP)—Police said today they had smashed an ultra-rightist plot to assassinate Prime Minister Ikeda and other leading members of Japan's pro-American government. Thirteen men were arrested and weapons and uniforms seized in raids this morning.

Police said the conspirators felt Ikeda's government was incapable of preventing a Communist revolution in Japan. The conspirators included industrialists and former military officers.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that the plan called for attempts on the life of Ikeda and 16 cabinet members and bomb attacks on police headquarters, the leftist Sohyo labor union and Communist party headquarters. Police said the group planned to attack soon but would not say if a target date had been set.

General in Group.

Officials said the 13 prisoners, who included a prewar general, tried to win over members of the nation's 240,000-man self-defense force but failed.

Officials said the plotters hid their activities behind a study group known as the Society for Japanese History, led and financed by Toyosaku Kawanami, president of Nichinan and Kawanami Industrial Co. Three hundred helmets and 150 gas masks were found in his Tokyo home.

A top leader of the group was Tokutaro Sakurai, a former lieutenant general in the pre-World War II army. Another member was Taku Mikami, a former lieutenant in the navy who served 13 years in prison in connection with the 1932 assassination of Prime Minister Inukai. Mikami is president of Eiko Industrial Co. in Tokyo.

Akira Hatano, chief of the metropolitan police security section, said the police were investigating whether the conspirators had any connection with other ultra-nationalist organizations.

1000 in 20 Groups.

Police estimate that Japan—scene of 17 major assassination plots against government leaders in the last 100 years—has 1000 dangerous rightists banded together in 20 organizations.

Postwar victims have included Socialist party chairman Inejiro Asanuma, who was stabbed to death by a 17-year-old disciple of the Greater Japan Patriotic party in October 1960, and Premier Nobusuke Kishi, who was wounded in the thigh by a rightist fanatic in July 1960.

In addition to Kawanami, Sakurai and Mikami, those arrested were identified as:

Jun Maeda, graduate of Japan's prewar army academy; Yoshiro Koga, a chauffeur; Ri Ju Rin, a trader said to be a Chinese; Shigezo Nomura, a broker; Yoshihiko Urakami, a junior high school teacher and graduate of the prewar army academy; Tsuruo Tokitsu, industrial executive; Kazutomi Koike, another prewor army academy graduate and former member of the postwar Tokyo police force; Shigeru Ya-Kazutomi Koike, another prewar army academy; Eigo Shinoda, an employe of Kawanami's firm, and Kasetsu Kawashimo, not otherwise identified.

Sakurai was flown from Kyushu to Tokyo tonight. He denied he had been a leader of the plot. He said he was not satisfied with the present government but he had never had any idea of overthrowing it by force of arms.

GOLDWATER SAYS UNHAPPY RESERVES ARE FREELOADERS

MADRID, Dec. 12 (AP)—Senator Barry Goldwater, returning to Washington tonight, leaves behind a sharp criticism of United States Army reservists who complained because they were called back to duty in the Berlin crisis.

The Arizona Republican, in a press conference yesterday, said those who complained were "a bitching bunch of freeloaders." He said they had signed up to receive pay for regular drills while in reserve status, but then squawked, as he put it, when called to active duty.

Goldwater is a brigadier general in the Air Force reserve. He came to Spain with Senators Howard W. Cannon (Dem.), Nevada, and Jack R. Miller (Rep.), Iowa, also reserve officers. They inspected United States bases in Spain and visited Capt. Gen. Agustin Munoz Grandes, head of the Spanish armed forces.

MAYOR, C. OF C. DISCUSS PLANS WITH FOUKE FUR CO.

Plans of the Fouke Fur Co. were discussed yesterday at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce attended by company officers, Mayor Raymond R. Tucker and Chamber President Aloys P. Kaufmann, but no decision was reached.

Members of the chamber's industrial sites committee, also present, said they wanted to explore some points raised. A joint statement said no further conference was scheduled, but that one could be arranged by any of the interested parties.

Fouke announced last Oct. 14 that it planned to move its St. Louis operations, including the processing of sealskins for the United States Government, to Greenville, S. C. Since then the Department of Interior has said it proposed to terminate the sealskin contract if Fouke goes ahead with the move.

CASTRO CHARGES REFUGEES SET OFF FATAL FIGHT

HAVANA, Dec. 12 (UPI)—The Fidel Castro regime today accused political refugees in the Ecuadorian embassy of having touched off yesterday's fight in which three persons were killed and four wounded.

A communique said that "eight or 10 counter-revolutionaries . . . instigated by (U.S.) imperialism and its Central Intelligence Agency" were involved. The government identified the casualties by name but did not say whether they were Castro police or counter-revolutionaries.

Political refugees in the embassy "threw bottles . . . broke glasses . . . (and) insulted militiamen" in an alleged attack on the embassy, the government statement said. From the tone of the communique, it appeared the "attackers" were trying to shoot their way to political asylum rather than assaulting the embassy.

The statement said they drove a six-wheel truck at high speed into the embassy patio.

The government complained that the refugees inside the embassy tried to attack Cuban Red Cross members taking care of the wounded.

though it is protected by fighters. It would be impossible for the fighters to keep in the air corridor and accompany flights to protect them. Furthermore, navigation facilities can be jammed in bad weather and thus limit commercial flights to clear days and nights.

If there is interference with routine troop movements, the danger is not believed to come from positive actions of large scope from East Germany but from the fears of our allies.

Clay initiated the effort to send official cars through the checkpoints in East Germany's wall in the same manner as before the wall was built. The basis of this was simply that an official American car carried its own authority. The idea was to maintain the quadripartite rights of entry into East Berlin of Allied personnel.

When the East German police stopped the cars and demanded identification of personnel, the Berlin command sent troops in to support the test car, This finally came to a point where both the Soviets and the United States moved tank units up near the checkpoint.

Our allies were disturbed and fearful. Clay was ordered to cease the test of Western right of entry into East Berlin. The net effect was worse than if the test never had been made. We backed down and the East German regime made its point. Since then, East German police have torn radio antennae off official cars, on the ground that radio is not allowed in automobiles in East Berlin. We have done nothing about it.

In the Pentagon it is believed that if the movement of troops is also halted, because of either Soviet or East German maneuvers or protests, or the fears of our allies, the West will have lost Berlin, regardless of conferences or a Soviet-East German peace treaty some time in the future.

WARRANT CHARGES ROBBERY BY MAN WHO FLED IN CAB

A warrant charging armed robbery was issued in East St. Louis yesterday against Gene C. Herrington of Chicago in the $51 holdup of a tavern owner Sunday.

East St. Louis police arrested Herrington in downtown St. Louis shortly after the robbery. They had followed a taxicab in which the robber fled across Eads Bridge. He was identified by Bennie Grotsky, operator of a tavern at 226 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, as the holdup man.

Mrs. Iris Kamen, operator of a tavern at 612 Chestnut street, also identified Herrington as the robber who obtained $133 from her and two customers Saturday night. Herrington is 23 years old.

ECUMENICAL COUNCIL DATE MAY BE DISCLOSED DEC. 25

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 12 (AP)—Pope John XXIII is expected to announce on Christmas day the opening date for the Roman Catholic church's forthcoming Ecumenical Council.

The council, for which preparations have been under way for three years, is expected to open in late 1962. It will be the first such council of the church in nearly 100 years.

Reliable sources said yesterday a papal bull announcing the opening date likely will be read by the Pope Christmas day in St. Peter's basilica.

HALABY CHARGED WITH CARELESS PLANE PILOTING

By the New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch

Halaby could not be reached for comment yesterday on the charge that was filed last week.

The violation notice was filed by John Rosenbrough, flight standards inspector at Washington National Airport. It resulted from a minor accident at the airport Nov. 9 when the FAA plane Halaby was piloting brushed the wing of a commercial airliner when taxiing to take off.

Halaby was going to Richmond, Va., the scene of a crash of an unscheduled airliner carrying Army recruits. He was behind a United Airlines Viscount. By changing the flight plan under which he would operate, Halaby was given take-off priority.

Halaby tried to maneuver around the Viscount, but his left wing tip scraped the right wing of the Viscount, breaking the running light on the FAA plane and denting a panel on the Viscount. The airliner was delayed an hour while the panel was replaced.

Halaby assumed all blame and apologized to the Viscount pilot.

The accident report was handled routinely, "just as if the pilot had been named Joe Smith," a spokesman said.

On the standard form, the FAA inspector checked careless operation as the category best describing the cause of the accident. The form was then sent to the FAA eastern district offices in New York for processing.

The case was expected to be heard soon, perhaps by the end of this week, the spokesman said. The most typical punishment for wing-tip accidents is reprimand, but sometimes fines have been as high as $100, he said.

THIS PLAN provides also for the destruction of Union Miniere installations. Explosions already have been imported by Katanga for this purpose, Rikhye said.

The second plan to which Gen. Rikhye referred is not contained in a single document, but its outlines have been constructed by U.N. intelligence drawn from experience fighting in Katanga, from aerial observations, from information gathered by infantry patrols, from information given the U.N. by Africans, and especially from intercepted radio messages between Katangan units. Union Miniere radio facilities have been used for transmission of such messages, Rikhye said.

This second plan, he said, is directed chiefly against the United Nations force. Its principal aim is to prevent the U.N. from removing the white mercenaries from Katanga. This plan is being used against the U.N. in the present conflict.

It includes the use of propaganda against the U.N. and a scheme for strangling the U.N. supply line and attacking U.N. personnel, Rikhye said.

Both plans, Rikhye said, involve the use of guerrilla warfare techniques originated by Mao Tse-tung, Communist leader of China, which the French learned when fighting in Indochina.

Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and East Germany.

THE GROWTH rate was maintained in Albania and Hungary and accelerated in Romania and Poland.

East German Labor Shortage.

The report said the slowdown in East Germany was due to a labor shortage caused by the flight of more than 3,000,000 East Germans to West Germany in the past 10 years.

The report said the annual investment plan of the Soviet Union probably will fall short this year—"as for several years past"—and the increase "will be considerably below the rates of the last few years."

The commission did not explain why Soviet investment was not climbing according to plan, but it is known that Russia is directing more of its resources toward war production.

The report said other Soviet bloc countries are also budgeting bigger defense expenditures which may cause a labor shortage.

Farm output of grains is expected to be about the same as last year in the Soviet Union, is expected to set a record for Poland, be slightly higher in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Romania, and lower in Bulgaria and East Germany.

CEILING TILE BLAMED IN HOSPITAL FIRE

BOSTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The National Fire Protection Association said last night that fast-burning ceiling tile was the principal reason for the loss of 16 lives in the Hartford (Conn.) hospital fire last Friday.

Percy Bugbee, general manager of the International Fire Safety Organization, said: Data gathered at the scene indicated fire spread through about 300 feet of corridor seconds after it burst out of the rubbish chute on the ninth floor.

"Combustible ceiling tile was responsible for the rapid spread of the flames and smoke, and the tile added an enormous amount of fuel for the fire to burn," he said. "Under these conditions, patients, visitors and hospital personnel were trapped with no possibility of escape. . . . If the combustible tile had not been present, there might possibly have been no loss of life in this fire, and unquestionably the loss would have been lower."

Bugbee said that when studies of the other data are completed a full report will be prepared, "detailing all other factors contributing to the disaster."

In Hartford, as the death toll mounted to 16, police and fire officials indicated carelessness and bad engineering were two big factors in the fire.

State and local officials suspect that some hospital employe dumped discarded X-ray film in a trash chute.

The fire in the chute became so intense it set off a sprinkler at the top of the chute, turned the water into steam and created a pressure that burst through the ninth floor chute door.

OPTICAL COMPANY OFFICERS RE-INDICTED IN PRICE INQUIRY

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 12 (AP)—Two optical company officers, who earlier won dismissal of anti-trust charges, were re-indicted in United States District Court yesterday on price fixing charges.

Alton K. Marsters of Rochester, N.Y., a vice president of Bausch & Lomb Inc., and Victor D. Kniss of Southbridge, Mass., vice president of American Optical Co., were given until Jan. 8 to appear before Judge Kenneth P. Grubb to answer the charges.

The executives and their firms were indicted last summer under the Sherman anti-trust law. Last month United States District Court Judge Robert H. Tehan dismissed the indictments against the executives, saying they should have been brought under Section 14 of the Clayton Act. The re-indictments yesterday were based on Judge Tehan's decision. No move has been made by the corporations for dismissal of their indictments, which stand under the Sherman anti-trust law.

AWARD RENEWED FOR WHEELCHAIR TO CLIMB STAIRS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The National Inventors Council is continuing for another year its offer of a $5000 award for a design for a stair-climbing wheel chair.

The competition, financed by an anonymous builder, is being handled by the council, an agency of the Department of Commerce, in conjunction with the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

The $5000 award first was offered a year ago. Of 500 entries, three were considered to be exceptional, and the inventors received special awards of $1000 each. However, the council felt that none of the entries was "conclusively practical" and extended the competition.

The special awards announced yesterday went to Lionel Freeman of Sherman Oaks, Calif., who designed a chair with a tractor-like tread, and Carl C. King of Lexington, Ky., and R. B. McLaughlin of Palo Alto, Calif., who proposed chairs with three-spoke wheels with a wheel on each spoke.

FAA ADMINISTRATOR SUED OVER $6,966,000 CONTRACT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—A Los Angeles electronics manufacturer sued Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby yesterday, asking for reimbursement of losses it says were incurred in attempting to fulfill a $6,966,000 contract for navigational equipment. The action by United States Science Corp. in United States District Court named Halaby personally and as FAA administrator.

The company challenged validity of the FAA's "liquidated damages contracts," saying this is the first time a private United States firm had done so. A liquidated damages contract is one that attempts to define in advance the financial formula for reimbursing the Government in the event of late performance by the contractor.

The company said it has been constantly involved in differences, disputes and disagreements with FAA as to the scope of the work, the interpretation of the contract specifications, and delays in performance.

FREEMAN ISSUES CHALLENGE TO FARM BUREAU

CHICAGO, Dec. 12 (UPI) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman challenged the American Farm Bureau Federation today to come up with a farm program "that seeks to increase rather than decrease farm income and that will also reduce Government costs."

If the Farm Bureau "or any of your leaders and your economists" can formulate such a plan, "please bring it to me for serious consideration," Freeman said.

Freeman issued the challenge to the Farm Bureau in a speech prepared for delivery before the group's annual convention.

The Farm Bureau, led by Charles B. Shuman, long has been one of the most severe critics of the Kennedy Administration's farm program, particularly the emergency feed grain program and the wheat stabilization program, charging they cost too much. Shuman once referred to the feed grain program as a "billion-dollar fiasco."

Assails Cropland Program.

Freeman said, "It is a matter of record that the Secretary of Agriculture and the leadership of the Farm Bureau do not always agree."

Freeman charged that the bureau's cropland adjustment program, proposed to Congress earlier this year, would have cost the Government about $168,000,000 more than the emergency feed grain progroam "and at a cost to the farmers of nearly one billion dollars in farm income."

He said the proposed cropland adjustment program probably would have reduced stocks as much as they are expected to be reduced under the emergency feed grain program, but the bureau's plan would have cost the Government more and returned less to farmers.

Support From A.M.A.

By the Associated Press.

President Leonard W. Larson of the American Medical Association told the convention today it has "great allies and strong friends" in fighting increased federal farm controls.

Among those allies, Larson said, is the medical profession. He said it, too, is fighting what he called efforts to bring it under federal control through legislation tying medical care for the aged to Society Security.

"I am sure," he said, "You know the experience of taking a stand and feeling alone—a vulnerable target for all the potshots from the opposition.

"Let me assure you [illegible] you are not alone. You have great allies, you hav estrong friends, and we in medicine understand your problems, know your aims and support your campaign against federal controls."

The A.M.A. leader predicted that "we in medicine and you in agriculture will be forced next year into taking the strongest, most united stand of which we are capable.

"If we fail, our failure will shadow the lives of all future generations," he said.

STOCK PRICE ADVANCE IS LED BY BLUE CHIPS

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—The stock market closed higher today in another advance paced by blue chip issues.

Gains of fractions to a point or more prevailed throughout the list. The advance as accomplished despite some sharp losses in a variety of issues.

The strong investment demand that has prevailed in the past two sessions was apparent once again as the "big" stocks moved upward. American Telephone, General Motors and Standard Oil (New Jersey) touched new highs.

Consolidated Edison benefitted by a rate boost and was up about 2 points in late dealings. U.S. Rubber made a similar advence. Woolworth was up about 3 late in the day.

The ticker tape was two minutes late as a final buying wave pushed prices upward.

Amerada dropped more than 2 on profit-taking and the savings-and-loan stocks were battered again. Reynolds Tobacco also lost about 2 of recent big gains.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,500,000 shares compared with 4,360,000 yesterday.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in the afternoon. Westbury Fashions spurted about 7 points. Mead Johnson and Giant Food "A" were up 3 points or so. Occidental Petroleum and Steel Parts were off a couple of points. R. C. Williams was ahead about a point. Pacific Petroleum and British Petroleum gained fractions.

Gulf American Land remained untraded until a late hour because of a preponderance of sell orders which exchange officials were trying to balance to effect an orderly market. A recent big rise in the stock is under investigation by the Exchange and the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Deficit in Total U.S. Receipts Expected to Turn Into Surplus

Economic Activity Likely to Rise in First Half of 1962—Government Will Become Stabilizing Force.

By William H. Kester
Post-Dispatch Financial Editor

With economic activity likely to be rising in the first half of next year, the Federal Government will become a stabilizing force as the current deficit in total receipts turns into a small surplus.

Although the administrative budget of the Federal Government for fiscal 1962 is expected to show a substantial deficit, total receipts and expenditures in terms of the national income accounts will be in approximate balance, according to the budget review. Total administrative budget expenditures are expected to reach 89 billion dollars in the current fiscal year, but receipts will total only about 82 billions, making a deficit of about seven billions. But, in terms of the national income accounts, both receipts and outlays will amount to about 105 billion dollars.

W. H. Kester.

The differences between the administrative budget and the total receipts and outlays in terms of the national income accounts arise from a number of factors: Trust fund transactions and net expenditures of government-sponsored enterprises are included in the national income accounting of federal fiscal activities, but not in the administrative budget. Receipts are recorded in the national income account as the tax liabilities are incurred by individuals and businesses, but the administrative budget is on a cash basis.

The national income accounts exclude transactions in financial assets and liabilities, such as purchases of mortgages by the Federal National Mortgage Association and other loan programs of the Federal Government.

Deficit Narrows.

The Federal Government's deficit on national income account has narrowed from an annual rate of $5,500,000,000 in the first quarter of 1961 to about three billions in the third quarter, the Department of Commerce states in its November issue of the Survey of Current Business. "If the fiscal year totals of the budget review are realized, the current excess of expenditures over receipts on national income and product accounts will be replaced by an excess of receipts over expenditures later in the fiscal year," the survey said.

With profits and incomes rising, liabilities for taxes are increasing, but payment for some of the taxes is postponed until a later period. Thus, Federal receipts in the current fiscal year will rise only six billion dollars on a cash budget basis, in comparison with a 10 billion dollar increase in receipts on an accrual basis used in the national income accounts.

A surplus in Federal receipts over expenditures acts as a drag on private disposable income. Conversely, a deficit acts as a stimulus to the private economy.

Economists have recently begun to use the national income accounts for measuring the impact of Federal Government activity on the private economy. Previously, they had used the cash budget, because that was a more complete accounting of Federal activities than the conventional or administrative budget, which left out the activity of trust funds.

Upturn Predicted.

Most economic observers predict that economic activity will continue to rise during the next six months at least. With the private economy expanding, standard fiscal policy would call for federal outlays to become a stabilizing force so as to moderate, if not eliminate, the business cycle. The trend of federal receipts and expenditures in the first half of 1962 will act as a stabilizing force. Whether it is of the appropriate degree is another question, however.

Government outlays are increasing and expected to play a major role in the continued expansion of economic activity in the current fiscal year. Outlays will rise about eight billion dollars from the fiscal 1961 total of nearly 97 billions.

Most of the increase in federal spending will be for defense. About $1,500,000,000 more will go for national security in the current fiscal year than in the previous one. Increases in the number of military personnel on active duty, additional operational expenditures and purchases of equipment contribute to this expansion.

Orders for defense purchases will amount to $52,500,000,000 in the current fiscal year, exceeding planned expenditures by about four billions. In addition, the Defense Department will make committments for three billion dollars worth of orders to be placed in fiscal 1963.

GRAIN MARKET SLOW, GENERALLY EASIER

CHICAGO, Dec. 12 (AP)—The grain futures market went adrift today and prices generally were easier on the Board of Trade.

December corn had scattered support from time to time in short covering and commercial buying, but trade elsewhere probably was at its lowest level in several weeks.

Dealers said processors of most commodities apparently had filled their requirements for the present. Except for a small amount of overseas business in corn, exports were at a standstill.

TREASURY BONDS OFF IN LIMITED TRADE

Over-the-counter dealers in United States Government securities quoted long-term bonds off 4-32 to 8-32 and intermediates down by 2-32 to 4-32. Activity was limited.

Among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange industrials joined rails in the minus column. Utilities held mixed as they were at the start. There were comparatively few big changes outside the usually more volatile convertible sections.

The convertibles showed wide moves to both plus and minus sides.

The average yields in the Treasury's latest auction of 91 and 182-day bills moved in opposite directions yesterday.

The yield on the longer-term issue increased to an average 2.874 per cent compared with 2.867 a week ago and was the highest in 14 months. The yield on the 91-day issue declined for the first time in six weeks after reaching a 13-month high last week. It fell to 2.579 per cent from 2.625.

Yields on the two bills usually move in the same direction. Only once before in recent months has one gone up and the other down. Treasury experts believe the decline for the shorter issue was due to its March 15 maturity date, which is a federal tax payment date.

Better make him learn that second speech, Lucy . . . he's going to need it in a hurry! In fact, the way people are buying Falcons (last month was the hottest November in Ford history!) public speaking could become his lifelong career! People love Falcon. They've already bought a million of 'em—more than twice as many cars as most other compacts have sold. And today, they're buying more Falcons than ever . . . because Falcon has more than ever to offer! Today's Falcon gives you an improved version of the famous Falcon Six—the engine that set a new record for a Six or Eight in the 25-year history of the Mobilgas Economy Run! Today's Falcon goes 6,000 miles between oil changes. You also get a bigger choice of models: there are 13 different Falcons . . . different except for the dependability that's standard in every quality-built Falcon. But best of all—for you—is the one thing about Falcon that hasn't changed. The very first Falcon was America's lowest-priced* 6-passenger car. So is today's.

FRED KORTH GETS CONNALLY JOB AS NAVY SECRETARY

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 12 (AP)—Fred Korth, a Fort Worth banker, was appointed yesterday by President Kennedy to be the new Secretary of the Navy.

John B. Connally will leave the post Dec. 20 to run for Governor of Texas.

Connally, 44 years old, is a Fort Worth attorney. As a friend and confidant of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn, he has been a background power in Texas politics. His move promised a scramble for Democratic party leadership in the state.

Last June 2 Korth became an aid to Secretary of the Army Elvis Stahr, primarly responsible for liaison with civilians on Army policy and missions. Korth, who is 52, served with the Air Transport Command in World War II, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was named deputy counselor for the Army in 1951 and served as assistant secretary of the Army in 1952-53.

President Kennedy considered Korth for secretary of the Army, but he declined. He said the Department of Defense should not have two men from the same city in key posts, as would have been the case with Connally running the Navy.

Connally has been a campaign manager or consultant for Johnson since the Vice President first ran for United States representative in 1937.

"The great threat we face is a Communist challenge to our political, economic, moral and spiritual institutions," Connally said in announcing his political plans. "This (the state) is a vital front today, and this is where I think I can best serve.

"It is my firm conviction that responsible political leadership of the separate states is an essential foundation upon which this effort must build and upon which active, effective national leadership must ultimately depend."

Connally's move may cause Gov. Price Daniel to make an announcement shortly on whether he plans to seek a fourth term.

Two persons earlier announced for governor. They are Attorney General Will Wilson; a Democrat who is feuding with Daniel over several matters, and Republican Jack Cox, Breckenridge business man.

NEW JERSEY LAYS CLAIM TO SITE OF LIBERTY STATUE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—A mild squabble is occurring on Capitol Hill over whether a New Yorker should continue to represent Liberty island. A New Jersey Representative claims it as part of his domain.

Representative Leonard Farbstein (Dem.), New York, officially represents Liberty island.

But Representative Cornelius E. Gallagher (Dem.), New Jersey, says Liberty island — formerly Bedloe's island—is within the city limits of Jersey City and is carried on its tax rolls.

And, he argues, Liberty island is closer to New Jersey than it is to New York and its utilities come from New Jersey.

Farbstein replied the Statue of Liberty has always been in his district, still is and will remain there.

As far as votes go Liberty island is insignificant. Only 13 persons live there. But its prestige value is immeasurable.

ADVISERS NAMED TO HELP PLAN SUPERSONIC AIRLINER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (UPI) Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby appointed yesterday a special industry advisory group to help plan development of the nation's first supersonic airliner.

The group will be headed by Gen. Orval Cook, retiring president of the Aerospace Industries Association.

FIVE RAILROAD CARS PLUNGE THROUGH TRESTLE; TWO HURT

ANNISTON, Ala., Dec. 12 (UPI)—Four baggage cars and a refrigerator car on the end of a Southern Railway passenger train plunged through a rain-weakened trestle last night. Two persons were injured.

The last passenger car on the Kansas City-Florida Special had cleared the wooden bridge when it collapsed beneath the five cars. The train, en route from Birmingham to Atlanta, was headed into the Anniston station.

ST. CLAIR COUNTY SUED FOR $23,581 IN PHONE BILLS

A $23,581 suit for unpaid telephone bills was filed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. against St. Clair county yesterday.

The suit, in circuit court at Belleville, alleges that the county, which is more than $1,000,000 in debt, paid only one telephone bill, for $64, in the period Dec. 5, 1959, to last Sept. 15. Although the bills listed in the suit were approved by the county Board of Supervisors, they have not been paid, the telephone company asserted. The company said it has made repeated demands for payment.

The 1962 county budget, recently adopted by the supervisors, includes $200,000 to retire judgments by creditors against the county. No provision was made to pay bills not reduced to judgment, due to the lack of buyers of the county's bonds.

U.S. PERMITS REPROCESSING OF SEIZED CHEESE SPREAD

The Government has approved the return of 2320 two-pound cartons of allegedly adulterated cheese spread to the Hygrade Food Products Corp., Shelbyville, Ill., for reprocessing so as to remove the unfit ingredients.

United States District Judge George H. Moore, who had ordered the spread destroyed last Nov. 15 because it contained potentially harmful crystals of lactose monohydrate, entered a consent condemnation decree Nov. 28, permitting the reprocessing under supervision of a representative of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The company was required to pay court costs and post $2500 bond.

The cheese spread had been seized Oct. 12 in the St. Louis county warehouse of a chain store operator. It was shipped here by the Hygrade firm between February and August.

IRS OFFICIAL DISCUSSES PUBLIC RELATIONS DRIVE

A program to obtain wider voluntary compliance in the filing of federal income tax returns was discussed here today in a conference attended by Bertrand M. Harding, deputy commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, and Homer O. Croasmun, regional commissioner, of Omaha, Neb.

Harding, who is the top career man in the department, said he was emphasizing better public relations in a series of talks with field employes of IRS. He spoke last night at a dinner meeting of the St. Louis District Tax Administration Institute.

The Internal Revenue Service has a prototype automatic processing center in operation at Martinsburg, W. Va., Harding said, and will have eight additional centers by 1964. The St. Louis area will be served by automatic equipment in Kansas City, he said.

CITES PSYCHOLOGICAL SCARE OVER DENTAL RADIATION

Public confusion between localized radiation caused by dental X-rays and total body radiation caused by nuclear fallout has created a "psychological scare" about dental radiation, Dr. William E. Koch Jr., a Washington University dentist and radiologist said last night.

Dr. Koch, professor of oral diagnosis at the university's School of Dentistry, told the St. Louis Society of Dental Science that radiation exposure by X-ray of a small area of the face is vastly different from similar exposure of the whole body. Dental workers, however, should protect themselves against frequent exposure, he said.

The society elected Dr. Allen L. Springer as president to succeed Dr. Romie H. Miller Jr. Dr. Leo B. Lundergan was elected vice president. The dinner meeting was at the Coronado Hotel.

AIRLINES ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR MERGER

MIAMI, Dec. 12 (UPI)—Directors of National and Continental Airlines announced today they plan to merge the carriers into a new line to be called National-Continental Airlines, Inc.

G. T. Baker, chairman of the board of National, and Robert F. Six, president of Continental, said the boards have approved in principle a merger of the lines, and "the final definitive agreement will be drawn up as soon as possible."

Baker will be chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee of National-Continental, with Six as president. The merger will be subject to approval of the Civil Aeronautics Board, and the boards of directors, shareholders and creditors of both corporations.

Holders of common stock of National would receive one and three-quarter shares of the common stock of Continental for each share of National.

National has assets of $98,000,000 and Continental, $80,000,000.

National reported a $7,000,000 loss June 30. Continental's last report on Dec. 31 listed a $1,700,000 profit.

CASALS TO STOP BOYCOTTING NATIONS RECOGNIZING SPAIN

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Dec. 12 (AP)—In a break from his long-held pledge not to appear in public in countries recognizing Franco Spain, Pablo Casals announced last night plans to conduct concerts in New York and San Francisco and in Europe and Israel next year.

The decision followed his recent widely acclaimed performance at the White House at the invitation of President and Mrs. Kennedy.

The cellist-conductor, who will be 85 years old next month, said he plans to conduct three concerts in San Francisco next April and two concerts in New York after next June's Casals Music Festival here as part of a "personal crusade for peace."

PORTUGUESE JEEP IN GOA BLOWN UP, 3 REPORTED DEAD

KARWAR, India, Dec. 12 (UPI)—A mine planted by the pro-Indian underground blew up a Portuguese army jeep at Pangim in Goa, killing its three occupants, it was reported today.

Two more Portuguese soldiers were reported killed by an explosion when they were mining a road at Kanakoam.

The Bombay newspaper Indian Express said the Portuguese were trying to aire Pakistanis to help defend their three Indian coastal enclaves of Goa, Daman and Diu.

The Express said the Pakistanis were demanding about $5 daily pay—five times the wages of the African troops defending the provinces.

Reports from Rajot said the sound of machine guns and anti-aircraft fire from Diu island indicated the Portuguese were training defense forces there.

INFLATED LIST PRICES, PHONY BARGAINS IN TOYS CHARGED

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (UPI)—Christmas shoppers are being exploited by some toy manufacturers, the National Better Business Bureau said yesterday.

Bureau President Kenneth B. Willson charged that many manufacturers have advertised their products at exaggerated list prices so that retail stores can offer them as phony "bargains."

Willson did not name any specific manufacturers or stores, but he said the practice is very common.

Some stores that at first refused to join in the practice felt compelled to go along with it because of competition, Willson said.

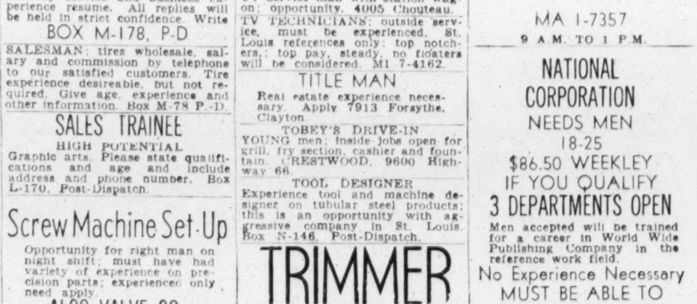
Temperature to Fall to 10 Degrees



—Associated Press Wirephoto
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight

Decreasing cloudiness and much colder weather are expected in the St. Louis area tonight, with a low temperature of 5 to 10 degrees, the Weather Bureau said. Mostly sunny and continued cold weather was forecast for tomorrow, with the high around 20.

Precipitation varied yesterday from rain in southeast Missouri and extreme southern Illinois to freezing rain in other areas and snow in northern sections of the two states. High temperatures ranged from 15 in northern and western Missouri to 40 in extreme southern Illinois.

A low pressure area developed in northern Illinois in the night, with northwesterly winds pushing extremely cold air down over the rest of the two-state area. Temperatures fell as much as 20 degrees in several hours in some areas, including St. Louis. The mercury here will continue to fall throughout the day and tonight, with the lowest readings of the season expected by tomorrow morning, the Weather Bureau said.

Snow fell all day yesterday in parts of Kansas, with accumulations up to 10 inches.

As much as 6 inches of snow was on the ground at Des Moines and Waterloo, Ia., and at Omaha.

Heating degree days in the St. Louis area yesterday, 37; the month, 285; the season, 1171.

Fatal Fire on Farm

Firemen futilely aiming stream of water from truck on flames engulfing the Lester Scholl farm home near New Ulm, Minn., yesterday. The house was destroyed after the water supply ran out. The bodies of Andrew Scholl, 89 years old, his 72-year-old wife, and Vicky Scholl, 9, their granddaughter, were recovered from the ruins. Lester Scholl, his wife and their three other children fled to safety.

Cat on a Cold Car Roof

Slick hand of nature as wintry artist evokes little appreciation from Siamese cat atop ice-coated automobile in Lubbock, Tex. The cat, belonging to Mrs. Roy Ricketson of Lubbock, stayed atop the vehicle just long enough to find an easy way back down.

Under Fire In Katanga

Squad of Katangan infantrymen sprinting for cover behind a truck as they come under fire of United Nations forces in Elisabethville. Fighting continues to rage in the Katangan capital as United Nations headquarters came under heavy fire of Katangan mortars mounted behind a ridge west of the U.N. command post. The residence of Katanga President Moise Tshombe was shelled today, apparently by U.N. forces.

Foxing A Pursuer

As agent from anti-cruelty society peers futilely under car at left, sly fox creeps under auto at right to lend spice to a two-hour fox hunt on the roof of a downtown Chicago parking lot yesterday. The fox hounded a varied group of pursuers but finally allowed itself to be captured when it tired of the game.

Bald Romeos Get Good News

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.

GOOD NEWS for gentlemen whose hair went out for a short beer and forgot to come back.

"Baldness is a sign of virility. Some of the greatest lovers of history have lost their hair at the very peak of their romantic lives. This fact was recognized by women who swarmed around them like bees surround the new-blooming flower. . . ."

This statement was made by a French psychologist the other day. He spoke before the National Brotherhood of Bald-Headed Frenchmen.

The Frenchmen rose in Gallic rapture, crying:

"Vive la tete nue!"

The Brotherhood then adjourned to dine and pinch the waitresses.

This interesting news did not affect the stock of Max Factor. Despite the advantages of baldness—("Stop kissing my hand, girl, you'll blister it")—increasing numbers of men are buying toupees.

(The makers prefer that you call them hairpieces.)

When Mr. Kaplan reads a funny story where a bald man is called "Curly," he writes the author a letter.

He points out it is a 5-to-1 shot the writer himself is a little spare on noggin fur.

If TV or movies show a hilarious scene where a toupee blows off (Mack Sennett used to do this with great results, so the hairpiece landed in a lady's face like a beard) he sends a telegram.

He tells them that many of their own stars wear hairpieces.

Thus their jokes may backfire.

At present, only two in 10 men, age 35, have full head coverings. But only 300,000 American men have covered up with hairpieces.

The best thing about modern hairpieces is the glue—they are stuck on with a special adhesive. They are guaranteed to stay on though the north wind doth blow.

Even under the caressing fingers of impassioned women.

One interesting thing: You can have your top piece made of almost anything. The usual hairpiece is made of real hair, 1000 hairs per inch.

But if you like, they will make them in mink.

Back to the Brotherhood: "Bald men are the most honest in the world," said Henri Braye, the Brotherhood president.

("Of 10 bald men, nine are deceitful and the tenth is stupid," says a Chinese proverb.)

Mr. Braye is 28 and a banker. But he says his main attraction is a head you could do your sums on. Living parchment.

Baldness can even be embarrassing to your free time, he said. A great number of young and bald intellectuals can hardly find time to be intellectual what with driving off drooling ladies.

"I have in mind a 17-year-old bald poet in Italy," said M. Braye, "and a 19-year-old bald painter in Spain.

"Both would be world-renowned—they are geniuses—if they didn't get so involved in romances."

Broadway Backstage

STAGE-FRIGHT is not confined to amateurs. The greatest performers have been at its mercy. Two nights before the "South Pacific" premiere Ezio Pinza was gripped by a severe case of nerves. During the run-through of the show Pinza—who was a Metropera vet—was so nervous he couldn't be heard beyond the fifth row. The producers and backers were terrified. They expected a disaster. On opening night, of course, Pinza was triumphant.

ARTISTRY has no borders—since it reflects boundless imagination. And the artist is equally whimsical. For example, few men have collected the critical trophies extended to Richard Rodgers. The most influential critic in his career is Mrs. Rodgers. To a large degree he relies on his wife for the initial reaction to a new song. If she nods and says it is very nice—he is worried. But certain he has a hit when the melody gets an emotional response from Mrs. Rodgers. The first time she heard the lovely "Hello, Young Lovers" ballad, she wept.

REX HARRISON is the very model of a modern major sophisticated actor—full of dash and aplomb. Nevertheless, he has had his embarrassing moments on the stage. . . . One happened when he was a supporting player in "Charley's Aunt." After the first week he was almost fired. Harrison has described the predicament: "An old boy in the cast who had played in the comedy for 30 years had me hysterical with laughter. The only kick left in life for him was to try and break up the other actors—make them go up in their lines. Heid turn his back to the audience, take out his false teeth and put them in his hat. It was difficult not to laugh."

ALTHOUGH EVERY creative effort has its own process, superior work is rarely produced swiftly. And it is never created without extreme diligence. For troupers the diligence is almost a spiritual experience. . . . Julie Harris was once rehearsing a tragic episode when she suddenly burst into tears. She lost control of herself and had hysterics. For the rest of the day she was melancholy. The role she created dominated her. She later confessed: "Sometimes I don't know the difference between the real and the imaginary."

IN THE JOURNEY from obscurity to stardom there is always a crossroads which makes the decisive difference. Sometimes the vital decision is made as casually as this: When Shelley Winters attended Brooklyn's Thomas Jefferson High School, another student remarked that the school's basketball star "won't date any girl in the school." Her feminine prowess aroused, young Miss Winters decided to capture the elusive basketball player. On her way to the gym where the basketball team was practicing, she passed a room where the dramatic club was rehearsing. Miss Winters walked into the room, won a role in the play, forgot about the basketball player. Thus an actress was born.

GEORGE ABBOTT is perhaps the most successful producer-director in the modern theatre. Almost everything he touches turns to gold. The basis of his amazing success is a psychological approach. On opening nights he tells the cast: "You've got to believe what you do and have a good time. If you do, the audience will too."

Try and Stop Me

FROM A LETTER written by Mark Twain in the twilight of his career: "Twenty-four years ago, madam, I was incredibly handsome. The remains of it are still visible through the rifts of time. I was so handsome that women became spellbound when I came in view. In San Francisco, in rainy season, I was frequently mistaken for a cloudless day. . . ."

Air Force School for Scientist-Officers

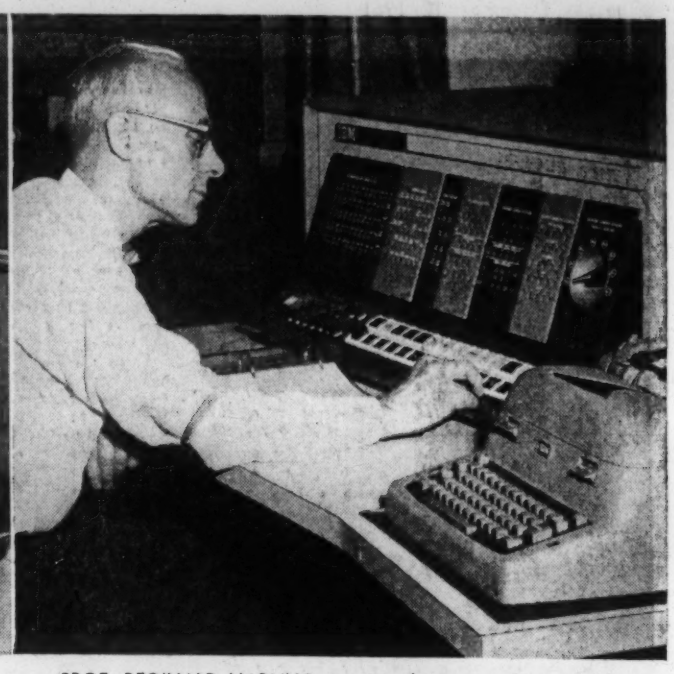
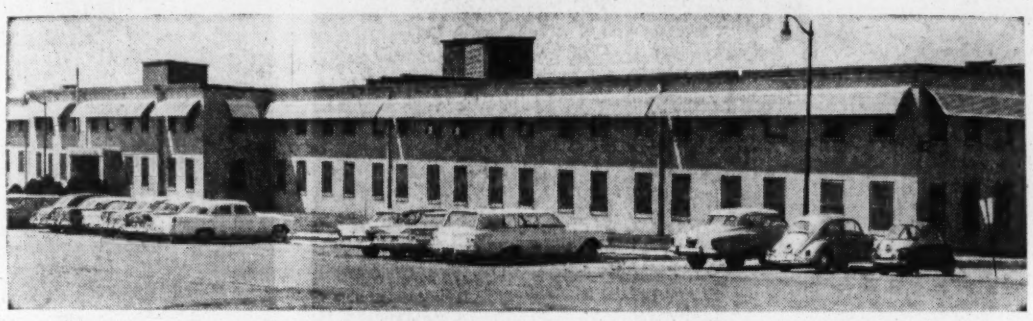
Students at Air Force Institute of Technology have four hours of classroom work and eight hours of study each day. Pictured here are young officers studying advanced mathematics.



PROF. REGINALD HARLING operates the post-graduate school's $250,000 computer at the console.



This two-story concrete-block building houses the school. It is rated among the best post-graduate institutes in the country.

By Al Ostrow
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

DAYTON, O., Dec. 12.

WILBUR AND ORVILLE WRIGHT would be astonished at what goes on around the little field near Dayton where they once experimented with flying machines.

The pasture where America's aviation pioneers tested planes manufactured in their bicycle shop is now completely enveloped by 8023-acre Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

The base has a work force of 25,000. The 3000 Air Force officers assigned here nearly equal the 3400 enlisted men on the field's roster.

In the minds of one tenth of these officers—the student body of one of the world's most unique schools—even the most modernistic needle-nosed fighter planes and swept-wing bombers at the field already are obsolete.

The school is the little known Air Force Institute of Technology. Its mission is to incubate ideas that may revolutionize the Air Force of tomorrow, and to train men to conceive, develop, master and manage complex, weapons systems which may not be practical for another decade.

When he first arrived at Dayton, Lt. Col. Bernard Locker, one of the school's administrators, discovered an unusual requirement for houses rented by the eager young lieutenants and captains sent to the school for a two-year course of study.

"Every home," Locker said, "has to have an isolated room where the father can be completely cut off from the rest of the family. This is where he goes to study. This is where he spends most of his time at home."

Wives of the students jocularly call themselves "Air Force widows," and run their households on tiptoe to prevent noisy children or other disturbances from interfering with a spouse's studies.

Each wife is confident that this temporary sacrifice will help win her all the prerogatives of a general's lady. Although the institute, in its present form, is only 15 years old, it already boasts more than 100 Air Force generals among its alumni. Every graduate is considered qualified to become a general and also to command billion-dollar projects.

MAJ. GEN. CECIL E. COMBS, commandant of the Air Force Institute of Technology.

The objective of the technology institute is to win the battle of brainpower. It is spawning a new breed of Air Force officers who are more at ease with a slide rule than a control stick in their hands, and are as happy working out a tough mathematical problem as soaring through the stratosphere.

Maj. Gen. Cecil E. Combs, 49 years old, the institute's square-jawed commandant, has seen the Air Force's personnel needs change as radically as its planes during his quarter-century in uniform.

Daredevil pilots with a lusty appetite for combat were in big demand in October 1941, when Combs, then a major, commanded the Ninety-third Bombardment Squadron on its flight to Clark Field, near Manila, a few weeks before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Fighting air crewmen were still the basic need in 1945, when Col. Combs rode a superfortress in a show of force over Tokyo when the Japanese representatives were surrendering aboard the battleship Missouri.

But the chief shortage today is officers steeped in technical know-how, with broad comprehension of basic science and business administration — men capable of planning and executing space thrusts and fantastic research projects, officers competent to supervise huge contracts and direct development of delicate guidance systems and new weapons.

This is the kind of men who are being trained in the rambling two-story building which houses the Institute of Technology.

The building, incidentally, is painted a dull battleship gray. Behind the drab exterior are several million dollars worth of electronic equipment and laboratories.

"The machines rarely have an opportunity to sound off," he remarked.

Other institute equipment includes a machine which simulates an airplane in flight, devices that measure gravity, a small atomic accelerator which is used only at night because of the radioactivity it generates.

Students have access to a big-domed nuclear reactor built by the Air Force to help develop an atomic plane, as well as huge wind tunnels, and other multi-million-dollar fuel and flight research facilities at the Dayton base.

Instructors are Air Force officers and civilians. Most students attend four hours of formal classes a day, and then put in eight hours daily on studies and personal research projects.

Scholastically, the institute ranks among the best post-graduate schools. It is authorized to confer the highest university degrees.

Students receive their regular military pay and allowances. They must agree to serve two more years in the Air Force for every year of schooling they receive.

The institute has a board of visitors which includes eight college presidents; David Sarnoff, board chairman of the Radio Corporation of America, and Charles C. J. Carpenter, Episcopal bishop of Alabama.

Like an aggressive corporation constantly hunting for capable executives, the institute keeps a crew of talent scouts traveling about other Air Force installations, seeking officers who would make good student material.

Besides the students on its own campus, the institute sends 4000 Air Force officers to attend classes at private colleges and universities each year.

Question Marks On Gift List

DO YOU LIKE TO RECEIVE practical gifts or frivolous ones for Christmas? One of the girls at our coffee break was horrified when a friend asked for three cookie sheets and a muffin tin.

CLARISSA START

"What's wrong with that?" demanded another of the coffee circle. "I want a cookie sheet and a fly swatter."

We went on to talk about the variations in Christmas gift recipients. For some you send away for the item circled in the catalogue or go to the nearest department, hardware or hobby store for the exact brand of the exact item hinted for. Others play coy and want to be surprised. And then there's always the one opposite whose name you put a big question mark. She requires "something different" and you search the out-of-the-way shops, the Musee de Noel, the Country Store at Jefferson Memorial, the Peasant Bazaar.

This year I've added a new shopping source to the list, new to me, that is, although it's an annual operation. This is the People's Art Center Christmas Shop at the Center, 3657 Grandel square. You won't find anything for your muffin tin-fly swatter friends, but you may find the answer to some of your question marks, especially if they enjoy and appreciate arts and crafts. You will serve a good cause, too, since proceeds from the shop aid the Center and its classes for 200 adults and 225 children.

The work of 40 artists is represented in the gift items, Mabel B. Curtis, executive director, told me. Some are by students, some by teachers, many by well-known artists.

Things for sale in the shop range in price from imaginative wrapping paper, designed by art center students, at 50 cents a roll, to a rug which sold for $500. They range in variety from a pair of lacy silver earrings to a huge pottery bull imported from Peru. Shopping has been going on for a week or two but there are still many paintings, ceramics, prints, woodcuts and sculptures, and the shop will be open until Christmas eve.

Some of the eyecatchers include: a still life by Aimee Schweig, exquisite ashtrays by Estelle Milovich, a handsome wild cherry wood carving, called Pharaoh's Daughter, by Rosemary Laughlin, a pair of pillows covered with fabric woven by Evelyn Anselevicus, an amusing vase, the border of which shows a group of Egyptians playing football, by a priest, Father Severin, of Pevely, Mo.

There are purely decorative objects—the eggshell tree ornaments—and practical cheese trays and a group of copper enameled candy dishes that look as edible as candy. There are metal sculpture and sandstone figures, flower pots, handmade quilts, and neckties with enamel tie clasps which match the design in the tie. There is much handmade jewelry.

There are a few pre-Columbian pieces, not at the museum prices you might expect, thanks to the donor. There are quite a few imports, such as the art objects from Peru, dolls and toy guitars and pottery birds from Mexico. (We cosmopolitan world travelers who have spent two weeks in Mexico know they're called 'palomas.') Best seller of the shop has been the UNICEF cards, reordered several times. There is also a selection of cards designed by students.

And for the man or woman who has everything, even fly swatters and pre-Columbia, there's the gift that's always sure to please—homemade cookies.

Ann Landers

The Other Woman

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If I had the courage I'd take the gas-pipe.

If someone told ME this story I'd say he was crazy, but when it happens to you, Ann, you can think of a million reasons why it's logical and sane.

When I was 22 (14 years ago) I fell in love with a handsome, successful, fascinating man. Jim was 10 years my senior—and my boss. He told me his wife was selfish, frigid, extravagant, and boring. She spent several months of the year in Europe. Their son went to boarding school. Jim had more clothes at my apartment than at home. We took several "business trips" together and he bought me some lovely furs and jewelry.

This went on for eight years. I never looked at another man in all that time. On my thirtieth birthday I told him to get a divorce or we were through.

He begged me to wait until his son entered college—just another 18 months. I agreed. Then his wife had an operation. He couldn't talk about a divorce until she was completely recovered. Next, his father-in-law was stricken with cancer. He couldn't upset the whole family at a time like that.

Three years passed before things settled down to normal. I told him I wanted marriage or we were through for good. These are his exact words: "I'm sorry, dear, but I'm in line for the presidency of the firm and a divorce would ruin my chances. I'll give you $5000, a plane ticket to New York and I'll see that you get a wonderful job. You're a grand person and you'd make some man a great little wife."

There's my story, Ann Landers. Just sign me

HOLE IN THE HEAD.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently my brother committed suicide. His wife and I were both in such a state of shock we failed to place the official funeral notice in the newspaper.

Neither of us was in any shape to face people so we didn't phone anyone. The few who heard rushed over to get the morbid details. I couldn't bear to speak to anyone so I asked the callers to please excuse me.

Now the relatives on both sides tell me my behavior was an insult to my brother's memory. They say a widow has the right to fall apart, but a sister should stay in one piece and make sure everyone is notified so there will be a big funeral.

I'm sick over all this criticism. Will you say something please? Did I let everyone down? S. L. G.

Dear S. L. G.: No you did not. They are letting you down. God gave you two ears for just such occasions as this. Let the criticism go in one—and out the other.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May an "Idiot Wife" speak her piece: I refer to the letter from the man who said the reason men look at so much TV is because their wives are such dumbbells.

This dumbbell was a bright, interesting career girl 25 years ago. She dressed well, had fascinating friends and a full life. Then she married a handsome lady-killer type who turned out to be cruel and self-centered.

Overnight she became a housekeeper, cook, laundress, gardener, nurse and seamstress. She had children (always went to the hospital alone) and he never raised a hand to help her. He drove her friends away and had none of his own.

If course I'm illiterate. I have no time for reading. I have no decent clothes to wear, no social life. I never go any place and I never see anybody. I just fall into bed every night exhausted. So naturally he watches TV. Why talk to an—

IDIOT WIFE.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Post-Dispatch, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Gifts Can Bring Joy of Christmas to Needy

By Virginia Irwin
Of the Post-Dispatch staff.

A CONTRIBUTION to the Post-Dispatch eleventh annual Christmas Fund will put Christmas dinner on a needy stranger's table. By sharing your bounty with less fortunate neighbors you may extend the hand of friendship to elderly persons who are ill and alone, to the handicapped and to the unemployed and unemployable who are without funds this Christmas time. Your gift may mean a toy for some child in a home so poor that, without your help, Christmas day will be only another 24 hours of want and misery.

Today the Post-Dispatch continues the "100 Neediest Cases" series with more cases from the thousands on the rolls of the 68 Health and Welfare Council agencies participating in the Christmas Fund appeal. All reports have been authenticated.

Contributions to the fund for the neediest of our community's poor last year totaled $37,084. There also were numerous gifts of clothing, furniture and appliances. The generosity of Post-Dispatch readers brought a measure of Christmas joy to about 16,000 deserving persons, including children and aged persons in institutions. Every cent of every donation reaches the needy; not one penny is used for administrative expense.

Cash donations are especially needed to meet specific needs of families and individuals, but a gift of any kind is equally welcome.

By CAROL ZIM, Washington University

Where to Send Your Gifts

CONTRIBUTIONS for St. Louis needy families should be mailed to the Christmas Fund Editor, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, 1133 Franklin avenue. All the money will be turned over to agencies of the Health and Welfare Council of Metropolitan St. Louis. Case workers familiar with the needs of underprivileged families will distribute the gifts in time for Christmas.

Please make checks payable to the CHRISTMAS FUND. All money goes to the needy; not one cent is spent for administration. Your gifts are tax-deductible.

For further information or to discuss contributions other than money, please call the Christmas Bureau of the Health and Welfare Council, 417 North Tenth street. Telephone numbers are GArfield 1-2600 and GArfield 1-1618.

Case 51

Johnny, 16, and Billy, 15, have been selling pretzels on street corners to help their mother. Separated from her husband for some time, Mrs. E. received support money from him regularly, but the amount was very small because of his small earnings. Recently they decided that their differences were not irreconcilable. E. was preparing to move back with his family when he suffered severe injuries in an accident. He is now in the hospital with a broken pelvis, fractured left leg, and kidney and head injuries. Even if he recovers, his stay in the hospital will be a long one and it will be some time before the family is reunited. With the father out of work, Johnny and Billy will have no tree or Christmas gifts and the holiday meal will be a meager one. A gift of $50 would tide this family over what to them will be a sad season. It also would provide clothing for the boys and a gift for the father in the hospital.

Case 52

B. is a hard-working man. He is employed as a laborer, not because he lacks ability but because he lacks education. He had to leave school as a child to help support his younger brothers and sisters. When B. was finally free to marry he proved an excellent father. His wife and their five children had no luxuries but they did have the necessities of life. Now B. is faced with the care of his five children alone. Mrs. B. is in a hospital for the mentally disturbed. B. has never owned an automobile and he cannot afford the bus fare for himself and five children on more than rare occasions when he takes the children to visit their mother. The cost of his wife's illness means that B. can afford no Christmas presents for his children. They need clothing badly. A gift of $50 would help this deserving man provide a Christmas for his children and give the family bus fare to visit the mother.

Case 53

Kathy is the second oldest in a family of 10 children. Her father has just moved the mother and children into a four-room flat to reduce expenses. Before Kathy, 14, could start her first year in high school she suffered an illness which has necessitated complete bed rest. Her older brother, 16, quit school to go to work to pay Kathy's medical bills and help the father meet the family's needs. Because of unforseen expenses there will be no Christmas for the 10 children in the R. family. Kathy spends much of her time in tears because she feels her illness is the cause of it all. A gift of $65 would mean a modest Christmas for the 10 children in this family and would brighten the day which Kathy will spend in bed.

Case 54

Being an only boy in a household of women makes life rough. Especially when you are a lively, red-haired, 10-year-old with more than a fair measure of mischief in your system. This describes Tim, whose father disappeared some time ago. Tim would like to disappear, too, because he feels he's no match for the women around him. The mother works to support the family. She is able to provide the bare necessities but nothing more. Tim feels his sisters have an advantage; they can look pretty in inexpensive dresses bought at sales. But Tim's wardrobe has never been anything but blue jeans, T-shirts and tennis shoes. For the past year Tim has dreamed of having a white shirt, a jacket, "real pants" and a pair of leather shoes, so he could "look nice just once." A contribution of $35 would make Tim's dream come true and help this deserving mother place a real holiday dinner on the family table on Christmas.

Case 55

Melanie is only 7 and has known seven years of trouble. When Melanie was 5 the mother deserted the home, leaving the child with her alcoholic father, who sent her to live with an aged grandmother. When the grandmother became ill, the girl was place in a home for children. Because of the feeling of being an unwanted child, Melanie has been living in a state of fear and anxiety, although she is showing signs of accepting her new way of life and her confidence in adults is beginning to return. More than anything else this child wants a bicycle for Christmas. Melanie could share her gift with others in the cottage at the children's home.

Case 56

Johnny, only 4, cannot stand or even sit alone. An injury at birth will make him an invalid for the rest of his life. A happy child, Johnny is delighted when his mother carries him out of doors. The mother has asked for a wheelchair as a Christmas gift for her son to enable him to get around the house and sit out of doors in the sunshine on mild days. Johnny's father, who works hard but earns little, cannot afford the $50 cost of a wheelchair because there are six other children to be provided for. A gift of a wheelchair would be a source of lasting joy to little Johnny.

Case 57

S. is a 45-year-old man who should be in the prime of life. But he is suffering from an incurable bone disease that will bring death in a few years. He is aware of his condition and accepts it. He is not concerned for himself but rather for his wife and three children. Because of his illness he has not been able to work for months. His wife has tried valiantly to support the children, but can provide only day-to-day necessities. The children, Alice, 7, Jimmy, 11, and Tom, 12, do not complain. They have learned to expect less than other children receive. A donation of $50 would brighten this home for Christmas, provide a few gifts for the children and place nourishing food on their table for the Christmas meal.

Case 58

Eight-year-old Betty is a beautiful child, a strawberry blonde with green eyes. Betty has cerebral palsy and must wear leg braces and use crutches. Her parents are separated, and the mother is having a difficult time providing for the child on the little support money the father furnishes. Betty attends a school for handicapped children and seems to enjoy life even more than an ordinary child. She has all but outgrown the braces she is now wearing. Your gift of $75 would buy new braces for her and enable the mother to arrange a good Christmas for this appealing child.

Case 59

Jimmy, 8, Robert, 7, Iris, 6, and Leslie, 5, have been living with their grandmother since their parents died in a fire. An Aid to Dependent Children grant is barely enough for the family's subsistence. Iris is unable to attend school because of the severity of her burns and resulting disfigurement. She bleeds at the slightest bump, and her life is made miserable because of the scars which prompt classmates to call her "Miss Frankenstein." The grandmother worries because she cannot provide adequate winter clothing for these orphaned children. A gift of $75 would be used for warm clothing, food, a Christmas tree and a few toys.

Case 60

Marcia, 14, and Libby, 12, do their best to take care of their mother, who is dying of cancer. When the girls are in school Mrs. S. is alone. Bedridden, she is overcome by despair. The small income she has from Aid to Dependent Children provides only for food and rent. A neighbor has been paying Mrs. S.'s telephone bill, the telephone providing the only means by which Mrs. S. could summon help during the time her daughters are in school. Because doctors do not feel that Mrs. S. has long to live the children have not been separated from the mother, although the family has only two small rooms. A contribution of $100 would provide clothing and food for this family, pay gas and electric bills to prevent services from being disconnected, and enable the children to stay with their mother for her few remaining days.

Opening lead — three of hearts.

ANY TIME you combine a legitimate line of play to make a contract with the opportunity of allowing the defenders a chance to make a mistake, you have a good thing going for you.

South was in four spades and West led a heart. Declarer saw that he could lose two diamonds and two clubs if the cards were badly placed for him.

He knew he would make the hand if East had the K-Q of diamonds or if West had the ace of clubs. But he also saw there was a chance of making the contract even though these cards were stacked against him.

So he won the heart with the ace, East signaling with the seven, and without touching trumps first, led a diamond at trick two. East played the nine and the jack lost to the queen.

West returned a heart which declarer ruffed. If West had led the queen of clubs instead, he would have defeated the contract, but from West's viewpoint, not knowing declarer's cards, the club lead was highly dangerous, since South might have the ace.

Declarer was now able to take advantage of the situation. He cashed the A-K of spades, and then ruffed dummy's last heart.

When he then led the ace and another diamond, East found himself saddled with the lead and could do no better than cash the ace of clubs. The only other suit he could return, a heart, would allow South to discard a club as he ruffed the heart in dummy. So declarer made the contract, losing only a club and two diamonds.

French Rivals arrive in St. Louis

ONLY two exceptional kinds of peas have caused man to raise his eyebrows and applaud for more. One kind is the famed petits pois of France. The other, and only rival here in America, is Le Sueur Brand peas. Small in size and not the least ordinary, these peas have a sweetness, a delicate flavor unlike any other peas you may have sampled. Your grocer has them now, in the can with the silvery foil label.

Miss Kenny Engaged To D. W. McDowell

By Karin Hayward

THE ENGAGEMENT of Miss Diane Kenny to David Wiley McDowell has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Florence T. Kenny of Los Angeles.

Miss Kenny and Mr. McDowell will arrive here Saturday to spend the holidays with his parents, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. Davidson McDowell, 41 Godwin lane, Ladue. Miss Kenny will be introduced to family friends at a buffet supper Dec. 21 at the McDowell home and will meet members of Ladue Chapel, of which Dr. McDowell is minister, at a coffee hour after the Dec. 24 service.

After his visit here, the prospective bridegroom will depart for Nigeria where, as a Peace Corps member, he will teach physics and mathematics in a secondary school. The wedding will take place next June in Nigeria.

Miss Kenny was graduated from Santa Monica (Calif.) High School and University of California, Los Angeles. At present she is doing graduate work in public health at the university, where her fiance is training with the Peace Corps. A graduate of St. Louis Country Day School, he attended Princeton University and was graduated from Park College, Parkville, Mo. He is the brother of Miss Sarah McDowell, a sophomore at Ohio Wesleyan University, and of Stuart McDowell, who attends Ladue Junior High School.

Martha Carr's OPINION

Her Friends Deserted Her.

Dear Martha Carr:

TWO YEARS AGO my husband died. The way my friends deserted me you'd think I had leprosy. I've heard of a club that is just for widows and widowers and I'd like to join. Could you tell me where it is? At least that way I'd have someone to talk to. I can't go on like this never seeing any one.

LONELIEST LADY IN TOWN.

I know of no club that restricts its membership to widows and widowers. However, Martha has lists of hundreds of other clubs in the St. Louis area. These are not lonely heart organizations. They're well-sponsored groups that offer fun and friendship. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope if you would like the lists.

Dear Martha:

YOU MAKE ME SICK. Every time some woman writes you to ask what she should do about her husband's drinking you refer her to Alcoholics Anonymus. Why don't you tell her to get a divorce and forget the worthless bum? I knew a woman, 35 years old, with six small children whose husband went into a drunken rage and beat her with a flat iron. I helped her get a divorce and then people helped her out. Nobody ever wants to help a woman who lives with a drinking man.

INDIGNANT.

Martha happens to believe that an alcoholic is a sick person, not a criminal. Alcoholics Anonymous has helped many a man find the path back to sobriety. How do you know this organization could not have helped the man you mention? Granted, any man so far deteriorated that he would beat his wife seems like a hopeless case. But to save a marriage and keep six children from the heartbreak of a shattered home every effort should be expended. It is not true that no one ever wants to help a woman whose husband drinks. There are many persons who understand that alcoholism is a sickness. They have the same charity toward the alcoholic that they would have toward a man ravaged with cancer.

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM THE ONLY GIRL in an office. There are about 20 men. Only one big shot. What do I do about Christmas presents? Shall I find some small gift for each man or just buy one gift for the boss?

ONE AND ONLY.

I can hear the sighs of other girl office workers over the clacking of my typewriter. The only girl in an office of 20 men. How lucky can you get? But to answer your question: Send each man a Christmas card if you wish but forget about gifts. If all the help in the office chip in to buy the boss a gift, stand your share. If not, do not give him a gift.

IN ANSWER TO "UNHAPPY": I could not print your letter as you requested because it deals with a subject too delicate for general reading. I wish you would take your problem to the Mental Health Association, 3621 De Tonty street, PRospect 3-1070. Give that 11-year-old boy his own chance for happiness. A psychiatrist can help you.

Martha would like to suggest that the readers of this column follow the series of "100 Neediest Cases" in the Everyday Magazine. One installment is printed today.

Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

Thickened Toenails

DEAR DR. MOLNER: What causes the toenails to grow thick? I apply baby oil frequently. I also file them.

C.A.D.

Thickening of the nails is fairly common on the toes, but doesn't occur very often on the fingers.

DR. MOLNER

Infections, especially of the fungus variety, and continued pressure are two chief causes of thickening. Neither is as likely on the fingers as on the toes. Likewise there may be thickening of the toenails in people with faulty circulation. Usually, of course, this takes place in older persons.

Baby oil doesn't help. The nail, once grown, does not change. It is a horny type of tissue devoid of nerves—which is why cutting doesn't hurt.

However, an accumulation of skin under the nail can harden in time and produce the equivalent of a thickened nail. Therefore cleaning the toenails just as you clean under the fingernails can be important.

The things you can do yourself are few but well worth the effort. Be sure that shoes and socks are not too tight — and don't mislead yourself by saying, "These AREN'T too tight; I've been wearing this size for years." Remember, SOMETHING is making the nails thicker, and it has taken years to do it. So try a half-size larger with shoes and socks. Keep the nails suitably short. Long nails will usually be under more pressure.

In addition, toenails should be cut straight across, or nearly so, and not with a curve as in the case of fingernails. The purpose is to prevent ingrown nails. This doesn't have anything to do with thickening, but only with foot health and comfort. Careful use of nail file and clippers for a few minutes pays dividends.

As for infections, there's little you can do yourself that will help much. Once a fungus gets started, the warm, moist darkness inside the shoe encourages it.

An antibiotic (griseofulvin) that is effective against many funguses, especially of the ringworm type, has at least given us a medicine that can be given by mouth and provide real results. But whatever treatment is used, remember this: It takes many weeks to grow a toenail; nothing except actually cutting away part of the nail is going to make it thinner at once. You must first achieve a healthy condition; then you must wait for a new nail to grow, of normal thickness.

Bill Vaughan Says

UNLIKE THE RUSSIANS we don't change the names of things whenever the winds of politics alter. As proof, we have thousands of schools across the country named after people nobody ever heard of.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY will give his papers to Harvard. We'd give our papers to our old college, except that it would probably send them back, marked "C minus."

Why Ulysses Wouldn't Go Home

By Adele Starbird

ADELE STARBIRD

I'VE ALWAYS HAD my doubts about that story of Ulysses and Penelope, and the more I see of men and women, the more skeptical I become.

As we learned it at school, Ulysses, King of Ithaca in Greece, left his queen, Penelope, and sailed away to fight the Trojan War, which lasted for 10 years. It took him another 10 years to make it back home.

He had plenty of adventures on the way, some of them far from unpleasant, but all of them the fault of some god or goddess. At least that was his excuse. He knew all the variants on the one about sitting up with a sick friend.

There was the one-eyed giant he outsmarted. There was Circe, the enchantress, who turned his sailors into hogs. He spent a considerable time in the sea cavern of Calypso. After a shipwreck, he was washed up on an island where he met the lovely and innocent Nausicaa. Some critics think that she wrote the story; they claim that no man would have written it that way.

When finally Ulysses reached Ithaca, his first question to Penelope was why in thunder hadn't she finished weaving that shroud for his father. She'd certainly had time enough. Why, he knew some women, Circe, for instance, who could weave a spell in just a few minutes.

Penelope told him that she had 120 suitors, all begging her to marry them. (You and your Circe!) She had promised to marry as soon as she finished weaving the shroud, but each night she had unraveled what she had woven that day, so that the work could never be finished. (That is why the British used to call a sleeveless sweater a penelope).

So Ulysses and Penelope had a very pleasant time exchanging yarns, enough yarns to make a whole new shroud.

The real facts are these: Penelope was a poor housekeeper. That was why Ulysses stayed away. Any smart man can find his way home—that is, if home is a pleasant place to be.

Obviously, she couldn't even weave. The mistakes she made during the day had to be ripped out at night.

It had taken Ulysses 10 years to discover that other women were no improvement on Penelope. Circe was untidy to the point of feeding the hogs on the rug in her best parlor. The Sirens practiced their scales all day. Calypso was weak on landscape gardening; she never pruned the vines and shrubs in front of her cave. And Nausicaa didn't know any more about domestic science than she knew about men.

So Ulysses thought he might as well go back to Penelope. He didn't stay long, however. She hadn't learned a thing in those 20 years.

Neither had Ulysses, the eternal optimist. He left home for another 10 years, no doubt to continue his search for a good housekeeper in the most unlikely places—the usual masculine method. Of course, he made the excuse that he was leaving to try to get rid of a hex one of the gods had put on him. But the real hex was Penelope.

There is a beautiful moral for women in this story. It is this: All the sirens of the enchanted isles cannot lure away a man who is comfortable, really comfortable, at home.

TV Notes and Gossip

"JOHN BROWN'S BODY," Stephen Vincent Benet's narrative poem that won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1929, will be adapted for television for the first time as a CBS-TV special Jan. 14. It will be presented in co-operation with the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and will be telecast in connection with the league's annual America's Democratic Legacy Award, which this year is being given to Adlai E. Stevenson, United States ambassador to the United Nations.

"THE JANE WYMAN SHOW," a dramatic series of several years ago, will become a five-day-a-week series on ABC-TV beginning Jan. 2.

BARRY SULLIVAN and Broderick Crawford will exchange guest visits, with Sullivan appearing in an episode of Crawford's "King of Diamonds" and Crawford playing a role in Sullivan's "Tall Man" series. Both stars will donate their guest salaries to the Los Angeles Children's Hospital.

KTVI on its locally-produced "Expedition — St. Louis" on Dec. 25 will present "The "Eighty-Second Season," about the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

NICK ADAMS . . . will be guest star on "Wagon Train" on KSD-TV at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

BEGINNING Sunday, Jan. 7, KTVI in its 2:30 p.m. Sunday spot will present "Adlai Stevenson Reports" and "Editor's Choice," alternately.

Uncle Ray's Column

Questions On South Pole

Pupils of the fourth through twelfth grades are invited to send questions to Uncle Ray in care of the Post-Dispatch. Uncle Ray cannot promise to send personal answers, but will consider a set of five questions from each classroom for possible award of the World Book Encyclopedia.

By Ramon Coffman

A YOUNG READER sent me this question:

"Why don't people fall off the earth when they go down to Antarctica?"

Much has been written about the "bottom of the world," but there is neither a top nor a bottom to this earth. We just think that way at times.

There is gravity all over the globe, enough to hold people and things in place, unless some action is taken to make them move. We may "defy gravity" in an airplane or balloon, but we fail to go beyond the reach of gravity.

Wherever we are on this planet, the "down" direction is toward the center of the earth. The "up" direction is toward the stars.

Q. Who first reached the South Pole?

A. Roald Amundsen. This week we celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his greatest deed.

Q. How did Amundsen prepare for his career?

A. He was born in southern Norway 89 years ago, and in due course attended the University in Christiana (now Oslo).

Snow rolling before heavy Antarctic wind.

If this young Norwegian had taken the path of his father, he would have managed a farm. Perhaps "scientific agriculture," would have become his life work.

Amundsen was more interested in travel than in farming. He was pleased when a sea captain gave him employment on a vessel that sailed the Arctic Ocean.

At about the time of his thirty-first birthday, Amundsen was given command of a small sailing vessel. With six companions, he traveled far and wide in the Arctic area. At last he located a place of special interest in the frozen north, one of the magnetic poles.
